ST. LOUIS POST-DISPATCH

FINAL
(Closing New York Stock Prices)

Vol. 98. No. 209. (68th Year). ST. LOUIS, TUESDAY, APRIL 2, 1946—30 PAGES PRICE 5 CENTS

BOARD APPROVES BUS REROUTING TO TAKE 3 LINES OFF WASHINGTON AVE.

Downtown Shift Effective Monday, if Public Service Co. Can Complete Necessary Arrangements by Then.

Rerouting of three bus lines, to take the Lindell, Natural Bridge and Walnut Park busses off downtown Washington avenue, was approved today by the city Board of Public Service.

The board proposed to make next Monday the time for the change, but Public Service Co. officials said it might be necessary to defer the re-routing of busses until the company can carry out its plan for removing the Hodiamont streetcar line from Locust street, east of Twelfth boulevard, to Washington. This will require approval of the State Public Service Commission.

The changes in bus routes, affecting only the downtown portion of their runs, will be:

Lindell—Straight down Locust street to Fourth street, looping around St. Charles, instead of present route on Washington east of Twelfth.

Natural Bridge—Straight down Delmar boulevard to Third street, looping on Lucas avenue, instead of present route on Eighth street to Washington and east on Washington.

Walnut Park—Straight down Delmar from Twelfth to Third street, looping on Lucas, instead of present route over Eleventh street and Washington.

The Hodiamont car line, as rerouted, will run on Washington all the way from Leffingwell avenue to Third street, instead of the present route over Franklin avenue, Twelfth and Locust.

The plan for revision of streetcar and bus routes is a revision of that prepared by the streets and traffic committee of the City Plan Commission and submitted last November by Mayor A. P. Kaufmann to a group of public and civic bodies. This plan, in its original form, was to take streetcars off Washington.

The Mayor today signed the bill prohibiting parking on Locust street from 6 a.m. to 7 p.m. The measure goes into effect at once, but enforcement will await the placing of signs.

A second loop bus service, to serve the parking lot area, was approved by the Board of Public Service today. The route is on Locust from Seventeenth to Fourth street, with western loop around Eighteenth and Pine streets and eastern loop on St. Charles street and Broadway. A 5-cent fare will be charged.

GERMAN SWEARS HE SAW BORMANN LAST OCTOBER

NUERNBERG, April 2 (UP)—A former Munich police officer said in a sworn statement received here today that he saw Martin Bormann, long missing Nazi deputy fuehrer, in Munich last October.

J. A. Friedl, 55 years old, Nazi party member in 1937-43 and Sergeant of Police at Munich, said he saw Bormann with some other persons in an automobile in front of the Spanish consulate in Munich. From what he saw and heard at the time, he gathered that Bormann might be trying to arrange to go to Spain.

Friedl said that in the past he had seen Bormann frequently and knew him well by sight.

COMPROMISE ON MILITARY'S PART IN CONTROL OF ATOM

Committee Votes to Set Up Liaison Group From Armed Forces to Consult With Civilian Commission.

WASHINGTON, April 2 (AP)—A compromise today ended a heated Senate committee dispute over what voice the Army and Navy should have in controlling atomic power.

By unanimous action, the Atomic Energy Committee wrote into a control bill an amendment establishing a "military liaison committee" to be appointed by the Secretaries of War and Navy.

The liaison committee would consult with the five-member Atomic Energy Control Commission on "all atomic energy matters which the committee deems to relate to military applications."

If the liaison group failed to agree with the commission's actions, it could so report to the Secretaries of War and Navy. If either secretary concurred, he could refer the matter to the President, whose decision would be final.

The amendment supplants the proposal by Senator Vandenberg (Rep.), Michigan, which was placed in the legislation by a 10-to-1 vote over the protest of Chairman McMahon (Dem.), Connecticut.

The new section differs chiefly from the Vandenberg draft in that the liaison committee would be appointed by and serve under the Secretaries of War and Navy, instead of the President. Also, their jurisdiction would be limited to strictly military applications of atomic energy.

The question of how much atom bomb "know how" should be surrendered in the interests of international harmony also was a pressing issue with the committee, along with these problems:

1—What mining controls shall be placed over raw materials which produce uranium and thorium:

2—What possibilities exist that other materials may turn out to

U. S. FIRING SQUAD SAID TO HAVE PUT HOMMA TO DEATH

Jap General Said to Have Been Permitted To Wear Full Military Insignia.

MANILA, (Wednesday) April 3 (UP)—Lt. Gen. Masaharu Homma, Japanese commander who ordered the Bataan death march, died before a firing squad as a war criminal shortly after midnight, reliable sources reported today.

The extcution of Homma was reported carried out in the strictest secrecy. No official announcement or comment was forthcoming immediately.

Homma was reported reliably to have been shot in a flood-lighted area of 30 by 40 feet. He wore his full military regalia.

Homma was accorded the honorable soldier's death in contrast with Gen. Tomoyuki Yamashita who was stripped of his uniform and all decorations and hanged.

Shortly before midnight Homma was taken from a prisoner of war camp 35 miles south of Manila and driven to the Philippine rehabilitation detention center, informants reported.

Soon after midnight a firing squad, understood to include both officers and enlisted men, put him to death.

At 1:45 a.m. a convoy of jeeps, weapons carriers, sedans and an ambulance drove away from the execution ground. A jeep led the convoy and an ambulance was second.

The body was returned to the prisoner ow war camp, and was understood to have been buried immediately.

CIVILIAN ON JAIL ROOF DELAYS EXECUTION OF TWO POLES

LONDON, April 2 (UP)—An unidentified civilian delayed the execution of two Polish murderers today by climbing to the roof of Wandsworth jail and throwing roofing slates into the execution court.

The civilian escaped after hurling 50 slates, leaving a big hole in the roof of the jail. The execution then went on. Marian Grondowski, 32 years old, and Henryk Malinowski, 24, were hanged for the murder of Reuben Martiroff, known in Soho circles as "Russian Robert."

NAMES OF 603 GERMANS ADDED TO WAR CRIMES LIST

LONDON, April 2 (AP)—The United Nations War Crimes Commission said yesterday 603 Germans had been added to the list of war criminals and slated for arrest.

Today's roster boosted the total of listed war criminals to 13,582.

SOUTHERN BLOC ASKS HANNEGAN FOR AN APOLOGY

50 House Members Demand Party Paper Retract Attack on Case Bill Backers.

WASHINGTON, April 2 (AP)—A group of 50 Southern Democratic members of Congress called on National Party Chairman Robert Hannegan today to apologize personally to them for a critical article in a Democratic headquarters publication.

The Southerners held a closed meeting and adopted a resolution specifically demanding a retraction of statements made in the April issue of the Democratic Digest, official organ of the women's division of the party.

The publication's statement which aroused the Southerners was this:

"And let your representatives know that the passage of the restrictive Case (labor disputes) bill was a vote against the American people."

The Case measure was opposed by the Administration, but Republicans and Southern Democrats teamed up to pass it 258 to 155, on Feb. 7. A toned-down version is pending in the Senate.

The Democrats attending this morning's gathering elected Representative Gossett (Dem.), Texas, chairman. He told reporters the group adopted "with very little opposition" a resolution reading:

"It is moved that the chairman appoint a committee to confer with Mr. Hannegan in person or by long-distance telephone and among such other things as the committee deems wise and pertinent it shall request of him—

"1. A retraction of the objectionable statement which shall be published through the columns of the Democratic Digest and further by letter to each Representative who voted for the Case bill; and

"2. That the author of the statement be made known and that he be permanently removed from the payroll of the Democratic National Committee as well as from the staff of all publications now or hereafter published under supervision of the Democratic National Committee."

Prior to the protest meeting, Democratic headquarters officials had termed the magazine's comment "an unfortunate mistake."

Mrs. India Edwards, executive secretary of the National Committee's women's division, made this comment:

"We feel terrible about the whole thing. It was an unfortunate mistake and a bad choice of words. An associate editor without full experience was responsible, but it never should have been printed."

Fluorescent Powder Traps Men Stealing 2,000,000 Sugar Stamps

NEW YORK, April 2 (AP)—Five men, including three government guards, were under arrest today, charged with stealing 2,000,000 sugar stamps from the OPA verification center. U. S. Attorney John F. X. McGohey said the coupons were worth $600,000 to black market operators.

Assistant U. S. Attorney Robert Mitchell identified the men, all Negroes, as Theodore Chambers and Clarence E. Rhett, and William Pennyserver, Kernell Smith and Robert Gaston, the last three guards. Each is held in $10,000 bail. Chambers had $1000 in cash in his possession when arrested, Mitchell said.

Mitchell told this story of the arrests:

Fluorescent powder had been sprayed over the stamps six weeks ago when government agents suspected that millions of coupons were being stolen from the New York currency center.

Early yesterday seven OPA agents, three of whom had kept a 31-day vigil in a nearby office, saw Smith drop two burlap bags from a second floor window of the verification center, where sugar stamps are tested to determine if they are counterfeit. An automobile containing Rhett and Chambers drove up and the bags were placed in the car. Gaston and Pennyserver were in the building when the arrests were made.

When an ultra-violet lamp was turned on the three guards yesterday their clothes glowed a sickly green, indicating they had been handling the powder-treated stamps.

NO REPLY BY REDS OR IRAN TO U.N.O. YET; ALTERNATE POLICY PREPARED

Tehran Message Expected by Tonight — Gromyko Doesn't Know Whether He'll Attend Tomorrow.

NEW YORK, April 2 (AP)—Neither Russia nor Iran had filed replies by mid-afternoon to the United Nations Security Council's request for complete information on the current difficulties between the two countries.

With the deadline about 20 hours away it was still uncertain whether Soviet Ambassador Andrei Gromyko would attend tomorrow's Council session, scheduled for 11 a.m. (10 a.m. St. Louis time).

"I don't know," Gromyko told reporters as he entered the Soviet consulate general, two blocks from his hotel.

The U.N.O. information office indicated the text of the Iranian and Russian replies—when they are received—will be made public after Council members have been officially notified.

A spokesman for Ambassador Hussein Ala was confident the Iranian reply would be in the Council's hands by nightfall.

Byrnes Back for Session.

Secretary of State Byrnes, who returned by plane late today from Washington, was reported planning an alternate policy for dealing with developments at tomorrow's session. He was believed to have received reassurance of President Truman's support of his course at their conference yesterday.

(The United Press correspondent at Tehran said it was reported there that Russia was trying to persuade Iran to answer the United Nations' questionnaire on Soviet-Iranian relations in such a manner as to reflect an identity of views between the governments. He quoted Iranian sources as saying Premier Ahmed Qavam had not given way on any major issues, despite the persuasion or pressure of the Soviet Ambassador.)

Meanwhile, there were indications from Tehran that the withdrawal of Red Army troops from Iran had reached the actual departure stage. One dispatch from the Iranian capital reported that 300 Russian soldiers went aboard ship today at the Caspian port of Bandar Shah in Asterbad province.

Port Astir With Activity.

The wharves, bivouacs and the regular army camp at the port appeared from an American plane to be stirring with activity, the dispatch said. Three empty freighters with steam up awaited the departure from the single slip of a loaded cargo transport, jammed with troops.

A Kurdish chieftain who arrived at Tehran from Saujbulagh, seat of the Ghazi Mohammed "independent republic of Kurdistan," said other Russian troops were withdrawing from the Miyandaub area in western Iran and "are returning to Tabriz," Azerbaijan province capital.

(A United Press dispatch said an aerial survey showed that Red Army tanks and artillery formerly based at Kazvin had moved northward toward the Caspian port of Pahlevi. Horse-drawn artillery was headed north on the road

COOLING SHOWERS PROMISED TONIGHT AND TOMORROW

Perspiring St. Louisans who got their first taste of this year's hot weather yesterday when the thermometer climbed to 91 degrees, a record for April 1, were promised some relief in the form of cooling showers tonight and tomorrow by Assistant Meteorologist Arthur A. Rausch.

A temperature of 88 degrees was reached at 3 o'clock this afternoon but a drop to the 60s was predicted for tomorrow morning and tomorrow afternoon should be relatively cool, Rausch said.

Warm air drawn from Texas by a low-pressure center in the Mississippi valley accounted for yesterday's hot spell, Rausch said. However temperatures in the southwest are now falling and meteorology charts indicate no really cold or very warm weather in sight for the rest of this week.

The early spring has brought plum, cherry and peach trees into bloom weeks ahead of their normal season and the prospects for a bountiful fruit crop are good unless there is a frost. Killing frosts have been recorded as late as May 22, Rausch pointed out, but the average date for the last frost of spring is April 3.

Quadruplets Die; No Medical Aid.

HAVANA, April 2 (AP)—The newspaper El Crisol says that quadruplets, born Saturday in the remote eastern Cuba village of Aguada de Yarey, died a few hours afterward for "lack of medical attention." The mother is expected to survive.

93 KILLED BY SEA WAVES AFTER PACIFIC QUAKE; NEW SHOCKS IN THE ALEUTIANS

Sea-Battered Hilo Business District

—Associated Press Wirephoto.

A view of a battered, debris-littered section of downtown Hilo, Hawaiian city which bore the brunt of yesterday's devastating tidal waves. Three swells engulfed the waterfront area and it is estimated the death toll may reach 300. (Map and additional pictures appear in the Everyday Magazine.)

ISLAND OF HAWAII WORST HIT; LOSS OF LIVES THERE MAY TOTAL 300

By the Associated Press.

The death toll in the eastern Pacific's worst tidal wave disaster reached 93 today and a naval officer estimated the loss of life in Hilo, on the island of Hawaii, might total 300.

Many other persons were missing in the Hawaiian islands and thousands were homeless. Damage ran into the millions of dollars.

A submarine earthquake which geologists called world-shaking sent giant swells fanning out from the North Pacific at 400 to 500 miles an hour early yesterday. Beaches on Hawaii, the Aleutians and California were lashed by 10 to 100 foot waves.

The death toll:

Hawaiian Islands—60 bodies recovered at Hilo; nine on Oahu, seven on Maui and six on Kauai islands.

New Wave Off Alaska.

A dispatch from Ketchikan, Alaska, said 12 Coast Guard men and two Civil Aeronautics Administration men were evacuated from Middleton island in the path of a 40-foot wave in the Gulf of Alaska today.

A flyer reported at Anchorage that he saw another 40-foot wave in Bristol Bay yesterday. It was headed toward Naknek, a cannery center on the north side of the Alaska peninsula.

However, the Navy in Washington received word from the Alaskan command that waves of major scale were not expected today.

"Families with dependents at Kodiak and in the Aleutians need have little fear for their safety since it is believed the initial force of the tidal wave has been spent," the report said.

(A United Press dispatch from Anchorage said earth tremors occurred in the Aleutians early today and that heavy waves were battering the Alaska peninsula.

(The University of Washington seismograph at Seattle recorded new tremors this morning, which were described as sharp, but secondary in violence. Heavy waves were reported running on the California coast.)

Many Missing in Hilo.

Many persons were missing in Hilo and in rural Laupahoehoe, but the number was not kown.

The horror of the tidal wave was the suddenness with which it swept in from the sea and surged without warning over lowlands. Most people were just getting out of bed or were at breakfast.

Children drowned in their beds. Adults died trying to fight clear of the boiling waters. Some who saw the waves coming and tried to reach high ground were caught and dragged back into the swirling tide.

At Honolulu, William W. Monahan, chairman of the Hawaii Red Cross, estimated that 4000 refugees asked for shelter in the Hawaiian islands. Of these, 1800 were on Oahu island and 800 on Hawaii island.

Robert Lindsey, chairman of Red Cross disaster relief at Hilo, said 60 bodies had been recovered from wreckage in Hilo and "I expect there will be more."

Gov. Ingram Stainback of the Territory of Hawaii, invoked the Hawaiian defense act "for the safeguarding of life and property and the preservation of law and order" in ravaged areas.

Casualty reports appeared to be complete from all damaged areas except the island of Hawaii, on which Hilo with its 25,000 population is situated. Hilo was the worst hit.

There was some hope that Hilo's death toll might not reach the naval officer's estimate of 300. A score of persons previously reported missing had been saved from the waters off Hawaii by Army and Navy air-sea rescue planes and small surface craft.

Hawaiians could not estimate the damage, except in the millions of dollars. Herbert C. Shipman, Hilo sugar planter, said $700,000 worth of raw sugar was swept into the ocean with the destruction of wharfs. Large amounts

Wolcott Proposes Reasonable Profit for Processors in Interim — 4-Point Program.

WASHINGTON, April 2 (UP)—Republican members of the House Banking Committee today moved to terminate the Price Control Act April 1, 1947, and to assure processors a reasonable profit in the interim.

Representative Jesse O. Wolcott (Rep.), Michigan, ranking Republican member of the committee, placed before the full membership a four-point program which has the support of virtually all Republicans on the committee and in the House. Some features are supported also by certain Democrats of the committee. Wolcott's program was:

1. Terminate the Price Control Act April 1, 1947, instead of June 30, 1947, as proposed by the Administration.
2. Provide a reasonable profit on all consumer items.
3. Lift price controls item by item when production of any specific item reaches 75 per cent of the prewar output.
4. Gradually eliminate subsidies by Jan. 1.

There was no immediate action by the committee on the proposals. Chairman Brent Spence (Dem.), Kentucky, asked all members to be prepared to consider proposed amendments tomorrow.

The Administration has asked that price control legislation be extended at least until June 30, 1947.

The proposal by Wolcott to provide a reasonable profit on all items would wipe out the Office of Price Administration's maximum average price program under which manufacturers contend they are losing on most items and making profits on few.

Wolcott's proposal provided industry advisory committees in the OPA would determine when production of manufactured items had reached the required 75 per cent. The Agriculture Department would decide in the case of farm produce.

HAWAII COMPLAINS WARNING SHOULD HAVE BEEN GIVEN

HONOLULU, April 2 (AP)—An informed source said the Army and Navy were protesting to the United States Coast and Geodetic Survey, saying that official warning of the seismic waves which struck Hawaii yesterday could have saved many lives.

The great submarine shock which caused the waves had been recorded five hours earlier at Pasadena, Calif.

Lt. Comdr. W. D. Patterson, supervisor of the Pacific district of the Geodetic Survey, said the first he knew of the tidal wave was when the water rushed into his beach home.

He said that there was no one on duty at his office at night, when the seismic disturbance was recorded.

Thousands Might Have Perished Had Wave Hit Hilo 2 Hours Later

FORMER FULTON GIRL SAVED AFTER 8 HOURS IN SEA

HILO, Hawaii, April 2 (AP)—Miss Marsue McGinnis, 21 years old, Oxford, O., was rescued from the sea eight hours after she was swept from a beach by yesterday's tidal wave.

Two school children also were picked up as they clung to wreckage. An unconfirmed report said rescuers had reached several others in waters off Laupahoehoe Point.

One of the rescuers was Pfc. Moku Malanti, who rushed to Hawaii recently from Ft. Benning, Ga., to see his dying son.

Miss McGinnis, a school teacher formerly of Fulton, Mo., was sighted clinging to a door by an air rescue crew, which dropped a life raft.

Business District Engulfed in Morning Before Working Hours—Witnesses Describe Disaster.

By DOUGLAS LOVELACE

HILO, Hawaii, April 2 (AP)—Hilo's death toll might have been in the thousands had yesterday's great tidal waves struck two or three hours later.

The swells engulfed Hilo's waterfront business district just as the city was waking. A little later, employes and shoppers would have thronged warehouses and stores in the devastated area.

The warning given by the two smaller of Hilo's three waves saved hundreds, who had time to flee from the waterfront.

This is how the waves struck: The first swept 50 feet inland

Taft Told to 'Shut Up' or Be 'Thrown Out,' Walks Out on Chairman

WASHINGTON, April 2 (UP)—Senator Robert A. Taft (Rep.), Ohio, walked out of a Senate Education and Labor Committee meeting today after Chairman James E. Murray (Dem.), Montana, told him repeatedly to "shut up."

The wrangle occurred as the committee started hearings on the Wagner-Murray-Dingell bill, a comprehensive public health measure recommended by President Truman.

Murray rose in his seat and shook his fist at Taft. "I'm chairman of this committee and I want you to subside!" Murray shouted. "I want you to subside. If you don't shut up, I'll get these officers in here and have you thrown out!"

Taft retorted angrily: "I am leaving your committee and I shall not attend any more of its hearings. I think the country will know and the Senate will know that it is a completely one-sided, prejudiced, unfair committee."

Then Taft's parting word to Murray was: "I shall take this matter to the Senate floor!"

The argument started when Murray, making an opening statement, placed in the record an editorial from today's Washington Post praising the proposed public health program.

Murray praised the editorial and said it contained "good advice to people not to be making charges that this measure is communistic."

Taft broke in. "Well, Mr. Chairman," he said, "if you're going to be partisan, I will too. I think this bill is socialistic——"

"Now you keep quiet," Murray interrupted angrily.

"I think this bill is the most socialistic measure ever proposed seriously to the Congress," Taft went on. "This committee is being run as a propaganda machine which will go on for a month—"

"It's people like you," Murray shot back, "who have ruined progressive legislation by calling it communistic."

VON RIBBENTROP ADMITS HE URGED COMPLETE PURGE OF EUROPE'S JEWS

Compared Them to Crop Pests in Harangue to Horthy—Witness Says He Was Only Obeying Hitler's Orders.

Of the Post-Dispatch Staff.

NUERNBERG, April 2 (By Radio) — Because of spying and sabotage behind the German lines and because an eventual British-American landing in France was expected Adolf Hitler decided early in 1943 to sweep every Jew out of the Reich and out of all territory allied with or occupied by the Nazis. This was testified today before the international military tribunal by Joachim von Ribbentrop, former German minister of foreign affairs, under a driving cross-examination by Edgar Faure of the French prosecution.

According to the witness, the Nazi foreign office took a hand in preliminaries to the wholesale evacuation out of humanitarian motives. It did so to prevent the operation from falling into the murderous hands of Henrich Himmler who aspired to take exclusive charge. The deportees were to be sent to Madagascar or herded out of Europe into Asia. Among the countries in which Ribbentrop is alleged to have promoted the Fuehrer's design were named Denmark, France, Italy and Hungary. Budapest, the defendant said, contained a large population of Jews. Throngs of them were employed in government offices and agitated zealously for a separate peace. Adm. Nicholas Horthy, regent of Hungry appeared reluctant to move against them and Ribbentrop was compelled to browbeat him in a number of interviews.

Ribbentrop Quoted

When confronted with minutes prepared by the Nazi ambassador to Hungary, Dr. Paul Schmidt, Ribbentrop was forced to admit having said to Horthy: "If you can't beat the Jews to death at least you can do something about them."

The former diplomat protested indignantly that never in his life did he advocate so much as lifting a finger against a Jew. He said he explained to Horthy that beating Jews to death was unthinkable, but that all Jews should be expelled from public office and the Jewish population of Budapest segregated in concentration camps.

Ribbentrop was further quoted by Schmidt as having addressed Horthy to this effect: "If the Jews are able to work they must be made to work. If they are unable to work then they may succumb. There are such things as tuberculosis and other diseases. This is not cruelty. We kill hares and other innocent creatures because they feed on our crops. Every country which did not get rid of its Jews has perished. Persia was once a great power. It was overrun by Jews, and look at it today!"

In shocked tones, the witness protested that these were not his personal sentiments. He was merely quoting Adolf Hitler, he explained, in order to get some action out of Horthy.

Hitler 'A Bit Harsh.'

"The Fuehrer was a bit harsh in his attitude towards the Jews," Ribbentrop commented sadly. "He was convinced that Jews were responsible for starting the war."

He, himself, the witness asserted, had frequently argued with Hitler that Nazi policy regarding Jews should be completely altered.

Earlier in 1943, on Feb. 25, it was brought out, Ribbentrop had a conference on the same subject with Benito Mussolini and Count Galeazzo Ciano. According to records of the meeting, Ribbentrop told Mussolini that a lot of unpleasant things had happened in France and that Hitler held the Jews to have been responsible. Therefore, he had decided to resettle them all in Asia and Africa.

Mussolini was said to have consented to the program.

Thefts From the Louvre.

After Ribbentrop was led to admit that Otto Abetz, Nazi ambassador to Vichy France, was under his jurisdiction he was outraged by the reading of a captured report in which the German military administration in France accused Abetz of having pilfered art treasures from the Louvre, contrary to military orders.

"Not a single art object was taken from the Louvre by Abetz," shouted Ribbentrop. "On one occasion the Petain government sent me a valuable French painting to Berlin. It was a birthday present."

With lips primly pursed, the witness concluded virtuously: "I returned it."

Under further examination by Col. John H. Amen of the American prosecution, Ribbentrop attributed his decline as foreign minister to a pledge which he made to Hitler in 1941 and which afterwards he bitterly regretted. On occasions when there was a strong difference of opinion it was Ribbentrop's custom to offer his resignation. This time the Fuehrer lost his temper and got very excited. With a shudder the witness expressed his reluctance to recall details of the scene which Hitler made. It ended with Ribbentrop's taking an oath never to cross the Fuehrer again. He could still debate suggestions, but when they became orders he resisted no longer.

"After that," asked Amen, "you became Hitler's yes man."

"I did," replied Ribbentrop, "if you take the expression in its German sense. I became strictly loyal and obedient."

93 Killed by Sea Waves After Quake

of food in warehouses was destroyed.

It was estimated that Hilo had only four days of food available. To conserve the supply, residents were limited to the purchase of $2 worth of food at one time.

Navy dispatches from Midway and tiny Johnston islands reported major damage to communications facilities, but no loss of Navy personnel. New equipment and radio technicians were dispatched to the islands.

There were no reports of ships at sea in distress. One geologist said the vast length of such waves, from crest to crest, would enable vessels to ride them out without difficulty.

Lighthouse Swept Away.

Ketchican, Alaska, reported a 100-foot wave had swept Scotch Cap lighthouse from the Aleutian island of Unimak with an estimated loss of 10 lives. The lighthouse was 100 feet above the water.

Coast Guard stations reported no extensive damage and no loss of life in the Pacific northwest states, but one man was swept to sea at Santa Cruz, Calif. He was believed to be a 75-year-old janitor.

No disturbance of any sort was reported in Japan.

At East island, 450 miles northwest of Honolulu, the giant seas swept completely over the island, the Coast Guard said. There was no word of the island's little naval garrison.

Honolulu Escapes.

In sheltered Honolulu, on the leeward side of Oahu island, Army, Navy, territorial and federal relief agencies mobilized hastily for one of the greatest disaster-relief jobs in Hawaiian history.

Honolulu's leeward location sheltered the luxury hotels of Waikiki beach and left naval shipping in landlocked Pearl Harbor undamaged.

The Army flew 30 tons of food to Hilo from Honolulu last night and will fly additional supplies today. There was no request for medicines.

Fleet headquarters at Pearl Harbor reported there was no loss of Navy personnel or any damage to major naval installations in the mid-Pacific area. It said some personnel suffered minor injuries.

Wreckage at Hilo.

Hilo, exposed to the full force of the waves, was a scene of horror. Weeping friends and relatives waited on high ground as troops in the wrecked waterfront recovered bodies.

Buildings were crushed and ripped apart; huge gaps were pushed through thick concrete walls, and there was a sprawling litter of what had been railroad cars, automobiles, trucks, buildings and boats.

Army patrols guarded against looting.

Two ships were caught by the giant waves in Hilo's harbor. The anchor cable snapped on the freighter William B. Hoxie, and the vessel was tossed up on the beach. The Brigham Victory managed to reach the open sea and ride out the waves safely.

Rescue efforts were hampered by wrecked communications lines. A truck with a loudspeaker cruised the area, asking that names of the missing be telephoned to police headquarters to facilitate the search.

Oahu Casualties.

On Oahu, two Navy men swept to sea from Kaneohe naval air station were rescued. Two Army men reported missing off Koko head were washed ashore on logs. Rushed to a hospital, they were reported to be in a serious condition.

Refugees by the hundreds poured into camps set up on Oahu and Hawaii by the Army on orders of Maj. Gen. George F. Moore, commanding general of the mid-Pacific theater. They trudged along roads with meager, salvaged belongings tied in bundles or piled on carts and automobiles.

More than 1800 civilians found shelter in a deserted north Oahu Army camp, once used as a jungle warfare training center. Soldiers provided tents, blankets, medical supplies, food, field jackets, coats and clothing of all kinds.

That relief center was organized so quickly that within a few hours there were 160 bottles of warm milk for the babies.

On Maui, naval and civilian personnel set up refugee beds in four empty two-story Quonset huts at Kahului naval air base.

Hilo sent plans for air-sea rescue help into fleet headquarters at Pearl Harbor throughout the night as searchers tried to find men, women and children washed out to sea. Two Navy Marauders and a Navy patrol plane were ordered into the air search at dawn in the Hilo area and other planes were sent from Maui.

Explanation of Waves.

Destructive waves such as struck Hawaii and other points Monday are commonly called tidal waves. Actually they are properly seismic sea waves, since they have their origin not in the tides but in disturbances of the ocean floor.

Such waves are not uncommon in the Pacific, since it is largely ringed with a seismic belt.

The waves are of two types, one being caused by a subsidence of the sea bottom, the other by an upheaval. In the case of the former, the waters recede, then rush back upon shore violently. With the latter, there usually is no warning ebb.

Extremely destructive waves have been experienced in Japan, Chile and elsewhere around the Pacific, a notable one having caused the loss of the U.S.S. Wateree, which was driven ashore in Chile in August 1868.

Vessels at sea, even directly over the center of the underwater disturbance, usually are in little or no danger, although they may note the shock.

'Vertical' Quake Caused Sea Bed To Break and Fall, Scientists Say

NEW YORK, April 2 (UP)—The "tidal" wave which originated near Dutch Harbor, Alaska, was caused by a "vertical drop" in the ocean floor and may have traveled 10,000 miles, Father Joseph Lynch, seismologist at Fordham University, said today.

Earthquakes are of two types, he said, in which the earth's crust moves either vertically or horizontally. Those off Japan are usually "vertical drops." Those off the western and eastern coast of the Americas are almost always horizontal.

The earth shock was recorded at Fordham laboratory at 7:38 a. m. and the first wave was sighted at Santa Cruz, Calif., at 1:15 p. m. (12:15 p. m. St. Louis time). Thus the waves swept 2,000 miles in less than six hours—a speed of more than 330 miles an hour. Most tidal waves travel only about 100 miles an hour, Father Lynch said.

The earthquake was equal in magnitude to the catastrophic Tokyo temblor of 1923, which killed 143,000 persons, said Dr. L. Don Leet, of the Harvard Seismology Station.

"If this quake had struck a densely settle area, the chances are it would have taken a tremendous toll," he said.

In this type of earthquake, "the solid bottom of the ocean breaks up and slumps to the deep bottom," he explained. "Naturally, the water slumps, too, causing a depression or dimple on the surface. Water from all sides rushes in to fill the depression, thus setting up a huge wave that goes out in all directions."

In Washington, Navy seismologists said the atom bomb to be tested over Bikini atoll will set up a sea wave but that it would not be more than a few feet high and probably would not be noticeable outside the Marshall archipelago.

HILO'S BUSINESS AREA HIT BEFORE WORKING HOURS

along the waterfront—much of it park and warehouse areas. Cries of warning sounded and people boiled into the streets in a rush for higher ground.

A few merchants remained to tidy their stores, which were barely touched by the water.

Ten minutes later, a second, larger wave struck, driving 100 yards deeper into the city, smashing frailer buildings and strewing mud, coral and debris through stores. Volunteers moved into the area, routing laggards.

30-Foot Wall of Water.

A few minutes later the third wave struck—a towering, angry 20-foot wall of water rushing in from the north at incredible speed.

It smashed buildings as it whiplashed two blocks deep into the city.

William Hana, who rescued his mother and two other women from the Hana hotel, described the wave:

"We heard the water crash into buildings. Screams of people, the crunching of wood and the shattering of glass filled the air.

"Our hotel was shaking so fiercely we couldn't move. There were about 25 women and children inside. Then the waters receded and men started helping the women and children out. Everyone in the hotel was saved, but we found two children underneath—dead."

Three Teachers Missing.

C. R. Ferdun, school principal, identified them as Faye Johnson, Vinton, Va.; Dorothy Drake, Columbus, O., and Helen Kingseed, Sidney, O. Another teacher, Miss Marsue McGinnis, formerly of Fulton, Mo., was rescued at sea after clinging to a door for eight hours.

Ferdun said the teachers lived in beach homes. Two of the cottages were swept out to sea. Three others nearby were sent crashing inland.

Children Swept Out.

"Eight school children are missing," Ferdun added. "There is little chance they are alive.

"After the first wave came in and then receded, the children ran down to the beach to see what happened, and the second wave engulfed them, according to witnesses."

The principal said many people were clinging to driftwood and timbers in the waters offshore.

A naval bomber dropped rescue equipment to four people adrift on debris off Laupahoehoe, and radioed the position of survivors to rescue craft.

There were no rescue craft at Laupahoehoe, but islanders put out to sea in a small outboard motorboat to try to reach men and women being carried farther to sea.

Recession and Surge.

A chance telephone call at 6 a.m. aroused Dan Nathaniel Jr., who then got one of the clearest views of the Hilo disaster. He noticed that the sea had receded unbelievably, leaving the ocean bed in front of his cottage almost dry.

"Then it came, in nine waves. I ran out, and it caught me. Waves were over the railroad bridge, 50 feet above the normal streambed."

Tossed on the raging crests, he grasped a store marquee and managed to cling there until the waters receded.

Today, tearful, grim-faced families wandered about this once beautiful city of 25,000, searching for their missing.

Kamehameha, a street of warehouses, cheap frame hotels and little shops, was reduced to a muddied mass of wreckage. Entire buildings were missing. The fate of their occupants was unknown.

Streets were blocked by rubble that once was buildings. Power lines were down. Railroad tracks were twisted. A huge steel bridge was washed out. Scores of small craft were shattered.

Breakwater Breached.

Out in the harbor, the ocean was pouring through the breakwater that cost several million dollars to build.

I flew into Hilo from Honolulu, and from the air looked down upon a scene of terrific devastation.

Huge warehouses were flattened by the force of the water, and buildings had been crushed like eggshells and swept from their foundations.

The waves played gruesome tricks. A house was perched on a bridge. An oil barge was balanced on the edge of a dock. The Hilo Yacht Club, which had a huge dance floor, was moved several hundred feet.

Eight Earthquakes Recorded at St. Louis U. Yesterday.

The St. Louis University seismograph recorded eight successive earthquakes originating early yesterday in the northern Pacific off the Alaskan coast—believed to be the center of the tidal wave that caused destruction in Hawaii, California and Alaska.

Three strong shocks, beginning at 6:38 a.m., were followed by five earthquakes of less intensity, ending at 8:05 a.m.

Dr. Ross R. Heinrich, assistant professor of geophysics, said it was unusual to have so many earthquakes of such strength recorded successively from the same place. The earth disturbances ranked with some of the most severe ever recorded here, he added.

HOUSE TO REOPEN DRAFT HEARINGS FOR OPPOSITION

Military Group Sets Aside Two More Days for Testimony — Closed Sessions Friday.

WASHINGTON, April 2 (AP)—The House Military Committee voted today to reopen hearings on legislation designed to extend the draft law.

Two additional days of hearings starting tomorrow were set aside for opposition witnesses. Chairman May (Dem), Kentucky, said the American Federation of Labor probably would lead off.

After voting to reopen the hearings over the objections of some members who had sought a showdown vote today, the committee decided to start closed sessions Friday in an effort to reach final decision.

The committee already has heard supporters of draft extension in two days of testimony.

9 to 10 Month Extension Likely.

Indications were the group would recommend a nine or 10 month extension beyond May 15. The Army has asked for one year continuance.

Committee members reported strong support after today's session for an 18-month limitation on service of new inductees, for a bar against the induction of fathers, and a requirement that the Army discharge as quickly as possible all fathers now in service and all men with 18 months service.

Enacted in 1940 and continued from year to year since then, the act expires May 15. The armed services want it kept alive another year in its present form, but with an 18-month limitation on service of new inductees.

The Senate Military Committee reopened its hearings last week to hear opponents as well as those who favor a continuance. It set next Tuesday as the deadline for a final determination.

Both Senate and House must agree before the draft act can be extended.

Reserve Corps Activation.

The War Department announced today that activation of organized Reserve Corps units will begin this summer as a third step in the creation of the postwar army.

The first step in the program was the request to Congress for continuation of the draft to assure a standing army of 1,550,000 on next July 1, with a subsequent reduction to 1,070,000 by July 1, 1947. The second step was a recommendation that a national guard of 622,500 be authorized.

Currently more than 225,000 officers of World War II have accepted commissions in the reserve, and about 300,000 enlisted men have signed up.

BEVIN GOING TO CAIRO PARLEY

LONDON, April 2 (UP)—Foreign Secretary Ernest Bevin told the House of Commons today that he would attend the negotiations in Cairo for revision of the British-Egyptian treaty of 1936. Preliminary discussions already are in progress there.

LEWIS SAYS MINE OWNERS REJECTED PUBLIC HEARINGS

Operators Also Turn Down 3-Fold Safety and Sanitation Demands, Leader of Miners Asserts.

WASHINGTON, April 2 (AP)—John L. Lewis said he made an unsuccessful effort today to throw the bituminous coal negotiations open to the public after operators rejected three safety and sanitation resolutions which he proposed.

The negotiations will resume tomorrow, but Lewis told reporters that if the operators continue their attitude toward his safety and sanitation proposals for the United Mine Workers, "we see no use to continue meeting with them."

"However," he added, "we will be there in the morning."

Lewis said he tried to end the sessions of the joint negotiating committees of seven mine workers and seven operators and report to the main conference that the committee was in disagreement.

Such a step, he said, "would have enabled a full meeting for further discussion to be public and the country would have had a chance to make its own decision as to the tenability of the operators' position."

Safety Demands.

Lewis reviewed the steps he said he had taken in the last two days on resolutions which would have: Required the operators to prevent contamination of drinking water at company houses; forced the operators to put into effect, subject to review by the director of the United States bureau of mines, any safety recommendations by federal inspectors; and give the mine safety committees power to remove men from areas where conditions endanger their lives, before accidents occur.

The operators, Lewis said, voted down each of his three proposals.

Meanwhile 400,000 soft coal miners remained away from the mines for the second day, waiting for an agreement on a new contract. Nobody could say how long they would remain idle.

Effects of the stoppage, which will cost the nation 13 million tons of coal weekly, were felt first in the steel industry, just recovering from a 26-day walkout of steel workers in January.

United States Steel Corporation announced banking of 2800 beehive coke ovens in the Fayette county (Pa.) area. Today, a spokesman said, United States Steel begins banking 20 of the 32 blast furnaces in the Pittsburgh district, cutting steel output here to 47 per cent. Scheduled output for production had been 99 per cent of capacity, highest since January 1944.

The Civilian Production Administration today placed a 20-day limit on the supply of coke which industrial users, including utilities, may keep on hand. The order is effective immediately.

Mine Mediator Fuller, 62 years old, is a former miner. He has been in industry management too — in steel mills and machine manufacture.

Fuller began work in the coal mines at the age of 12. At 18, his right foot was crushed in a mine accident. He than turned to the Methodist ministry and for three years was a "circuit rider" in a Pennsylvania mining district.

Illinois Producers Get Price Increase From OPA.

WASHINGTON, April 2 (AP)—The Coal Producers Association of Illinois obtained from the OPA today an order authorizing it to make price increases resulting from subsequent wage increases under contract with the Progressive Mine Workers of America.

The Progressive Miners, who recently withdrew from the AFL when Lewis's United Mine Workers returned, signed an agreement March 29 providing the basis for including any wage adjustments won by Lewis in their own contract with the Coal Producers Association of Illinois.

Approximately 1,000,000 tons a month is involved in the contract.

FLAT 60C WAGE MINIMUM SAID TO BE AGREED ON

Senate Leaders Reported to Have Settled Point—Extension of Coverage Still at Issue.

WASHINGTON, April 2 (AP)—Senate leaders were reported unofficially today to have agreed to drop the Administration's 65-75 cents minimum wage plan and accept a flat increase to 60 cents.

This point was said to have been settled in efforts to work out a compromise with a Republican-Southern Democrats group opposing the Administration-backed scale.

Still at issue was the question of whether the wage law's coverage should be extended to additional workers.

The measure proposes to extend the wage measure to cover about 3,500,000 additional workers, including seamen, employes of chain and large retail stores, and some presently-exempted processors of agricultural commodities.

Senators Ellender (Dem.), Louisiana and Ball (Rep.), Minnesota, leaders of the Southern Democrat-Republican group, propose to leave the coverage unchanged.

Administration men turned to compromise talk with this group after last Friday's vote made it apparent the 65-to-75-cent bill cannot be passed without the farm price amendment which President Truman has said would compel him to veto the entire legislation.

Their hope was that by accepting a lower wage scale than originally asked for they might rally enough votes to knock out the farm amendment.

SUIT TO DISBAR H. D. CONNER ON ESTATE CHARGE FILED

Suit to disbar Harold D. Conner, lawyer appointed administrator of the estate of Mrs. Josie B. Gregor, who died April 22, 1940, was filed in circuit court today by the bar committee of the Eighth Judicial District on ground of misconduct in the administration of the estate.

The suit alleges that Conner has failed to file receipts showing the distribution of the estate or any portion thereof among the heirs, that the estate has not been distributed, and that Conner has wrongfully appropriated sums for his own use and benefit.

Conner was appointed administrator by the probate court June 15, 1940. A final settlement filed Sept. 21, 1943, showed a balance of $1070 in cash and an unspecified sum in United States Government bonds. Conner, who lives at the Melbourne Hotel, could not be reached for a statement.

GEN. MCNAUGHTON CANADIAN MEMBER OF ATOM BOARD

OTTAWA, April 2 (UP)—Gen. A. G. L. McNaughton has been appointed Canadian representative on the United Nations Atomic Energy Commission, Prime Minister W. L. MacKenzie King announced in Commons today.

Gen. McNaughton is Canadian chairman of the Canada-United States Joint Defense Board. He will be assisted by officials of the departments of reconstruction, external affairs and national defense, King said.

VARDAMAN VOTE NEAR IN SENATE; DONNELL STILL ARGUING FITNESS

No Action So Far on Morse Plea That Each Member Study Testimony Before Balloting on Federal Reserve Job.

WASHINGTON, April 2—Senator Wayne Morse (Rep.), Oregon, served notice in the Senate just before it recessed today that tomorrow he would ask for postponement of a week in the vote on confirmation of Commodore James K. Vardaman to membership on the Board of Governors of the Federal Reserve System.

By JOSEPH HANLON
A Washington Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch.

WASHINGTON, April 2—A vote may come in the Senate late today on the nomination of Commodore James K. Vardaman, White House naval aide, to membership on the board of governors of the Federal Reserve System.

Debate on the nomination was continued this afternoon, and the vote might be deferred if the Senate should act favorably on the suggestion that before voting each Senator should study the record of testimony heard by a subcommittee which approved the nomination.

This proposal was made by Senator Wayne Morse (Rep.), Oregon, who pointed out that charges against Vardaman were heard on the Senate floor for the first time yesterday when Senator Forrest C. Donnell (Rep.), Missouri, spoke for nearly five hours, reviewing the testimony heard by the subcommittee, which voted four to none in favor of the nomination.

"If there ever was a time when this Senate ought to pause in its deliberations and take time to study matters such as have been described here, this is it," Morse said.

Donnell heartily concurred, but there was no decision at the time on whether to accept Morse's suggestion.

Millikin Questions Donnell.

Senator Eugene D. Millikin, (Rep.) Colorado, took up today where he had left off yesterday, frequently interrupting Donnell with questions which sought to mitigate Donnell's charges against Vardaman. Millikin was a member of the subcommittee which approved the nomination.

Standing a few feet apart on the Republican side of the aisle, Donnell and Millikin shouted back and forth, waving their arms for emphasis. At one point the exchange became so heated that the Presiding officer pounded his gavel for quiet.

Donnell attempted to wring from Millikin, a skillful lawyer, a statement as to whether he would characterize as "phony" or "forgeries" the signatures affixed to affidavits which attributed to Vardaman responsibility for a padded 1941 inventory of the old Vardaman shoe company.

Millikin evaded a direct answer, and Donnell finally gave up the effort. Donnell assured the Senate that the photostatic copies of the affidavits presented to the subcommittee had been shown to be conformed copies — carbon copies—of affidavits signed in the office of Frank E. Williams.

The affidavits were made by Sam Reyburn, factory superintendent of the shoe company, and Paul deCoster, the firm's comptroller. Williams was attorney for Frank O. Bittner Jr., who became executive vice president of the Vardaman firm when he purchased a block of stock from Vardaman a few weeks before the concern entered bankruptcy early in 1942.

Conformed Copies Common.

The best that Donnell could get from Millikin in the "phony forgery" exchange, was Millikin's statement that Bittner had not told the truth when he identified the signatures on photostats received by the committee as those of Reyburn and De Coster. And here, Donnell said, Bittner was simply mistaken, because he had seen Reyburn and De Coster sign the original documents.

The "forgery" claim, Donnell warned members of the Senate, may have misled them when they saw it headlined in the newspapers. He reminded those of the Senators who are lawyers that conformed copies, with signatures written in by a stenographer, are a common practice in dealing with record copies of legal documents.

Donnell took exception to the solemn admonition Millikin had given Bittner about the penalties for perjury, while no such warning was given to Reyburn or De Coster. Bittner had been mistaken, Donnell thought, in a statement he made with reference to United States District Judge George H. Moore which, however, had no bearing on the qualifications of Vardaman for the position to which he has been nominated. It was this statement of Bittner which occasioned the perjury warning.

Reyburn and De Coster, appearing as witnesses for Vardaman, repudiated their affidavits, saying they made them only because Bittner threatened them with the loss of their jobs.

Senator Morse to Rescue.

"In my judgment," said Donnell, "the perjury was the statements of De Coster and Reyburn in their testimony before the committee—not in the affidavits which they repudiated."

Millikin attempted to offset the entire testimony of Bittner, Reyburn and De Coster, asking if Donnell knew the rule of law under which a jury may disregard all testimony by a witness who does not tell the truth in any particular.

Senator Morse came to the rescue, saying a different rule should apply to members of the Senate, who, presumably, can weigh and evaluate a mixture of truth and untruth.

Donnell added that Vardaman was not here on trial and that the mere "negative failure to prove his disqualification" should not mean that he must be confirmed. He compared the test to be applied with that which any employer in private industry uses ni determining whether he does or does not want a particular individual in his organization. There, he said, the employer would require "affirmative evidence that the man is qualified."

Row Over Admitted Affidavit.

Donnell referred repeatedly to an affidavit made Jan. 29, 1942, by De Coster and acknowledged by him to be genuine, in which De Coster described a letter and balance sheet of the company he sent to Vardaman March 12, 1941.

In the letter, De Coster stated that the shoe company's raw material and supplies inventory as set out in the financial statement was "estimated . . . in accordance with our phone conversation of yesterday," and that if the actual physical inventory were used the company would show a substantial loss.

Asked by Millikin what Vardaman's testimony was on this purported telephone conversation, Donnell replied that Vardaman testified he could not recall any such conversation, if it took place.

"You now have the letter and telephone conversation," Millikin said, "and the testimony shows that Vardaman knew nothing about them. What is the basis for using them now."

"Because," answered Donnell, "De Coster admitted he wrote this affidavit."

"You want the Senate to believe in these discredited affidavits," Millikin said.

Millikin picked up another of Donnell's statements and asked him if he now was affirming there was anything in the record to indicate De Coster and Reyburn had a corrupt interest in denying the substance of the affidavits made in Williams's office.

Donnell said he was affirming it was to their advantage to deny the affidavits. He said that he would show that Vardaman himself, according to the testimony of Williams, wanted the affidavits destroyed "and that the Commodore himself applied the match."

Would Eliminate Nothing.

Asked by Millikin if he would eliminate the affidavits from consideration and still say Vardaman had advance knowledgge of the inventory padding, Donnell replied he would not eliminate a single sentence.

"The fact that Bittner claimed he was defrauded in the sale of stock in the Vardaman Shoe Co. less than 30 days before the company went into bankruptcy, justifies the inference that Vardaman had full knowledge of the tampering and reasons therefor," Donnell said.

Conflict in Testimony.

The point at issue throughout most of yesterday's debate was Vardaman's initial statement to the committee that he left the old Vardaman Shoe Co. of St. Louis in June 1941, when he took charge of the naval intelligence office in St. Louis.

Donnell brought out that as shown by Vardaman's own testimony under cross-examination this was not the fact, that Vardaman had maintained supervision over the company's operations. Furthermore, he read from the minutes of meetings of directors of the company to show that Vardaman attended every directors' meeting up to the time the company entered bankruptcy in the following February. The minutes, quoting Vardaman's reports to the directors, showed that while in charge of the naval intelligence office he also maintained close supervision over operations of the shoe company.

This showed, Donnell insisted, that Vardaman had "colored" his testimony before the subcommittee, and so had disqualified himself on one of the two criteria which Donnell set up as determinant of the fitness of the nominee.

When Donnell is through, three members of the subcommittee which approved the nomination will be heard—Millikin, Chairman George L. Radcliffe (Dem.), Maryland, and Senator Ernest W. McFarland (Dem.), Arizona. They had their heads together through most of yesterday's session, with the two Democrats crossing the aisle to gather around Millikin's desk.

Veterans Storm America First Rally ---Meeting in Uproar and Fists Fly

—By a Post-Dispatch Staff Photographer.

Some members of the audience at the America First party rally boo veterans who urged them to leave, while others sit stolidly. (An additional picture in the Everyday Magazine.)

'We Saw People Like You in Germany,' Audience Told—Harangue Later by Gerald L. K. Smith.

Thirty-five veterans of World War II turned an America First party rally at Kiel Auditorium into an uproar for 15 minutes last night with the veterans and the audience exchanging oral brickbats, but they failed to break up the meeting.

Gerald L. K. Smith, head of the party, arrived 20 minutes after the disturbance ended and gave his scheduled oration, a rambling harangue in which he attacked Jews, Communists, Great Britain and Russia and called the veterans who caused the disorder "poor, misguided boys."

About 200 persons were gathered in Assembly Hall No. 2 in the auditorium awaiting Smith's arrival when the veterans, marching two abreast and led by Raymond J. Koch, 4140 Washington avenue, pushed into the room and mounted the stage. All were dressed in civilian clothes, but Koch wore a battle jacket.

Objector Brushed Aside.

Almost immediately the tumult started. Don Lohbeck, a former St. Louisan, conscientious objector to military service and publicity man for Smith, attempted to bar the veterans by slamming the door but he was brushed aside.

"You can't come in here!" shouted Lohbeck, a short, slight man with long dark hair. "You haven't any tickets!"

Disregarding him, the veterans, with one carrying an American flag, leaped to the stage and Koch started speaking into a microphone. "We've come to tell you about the people you are here to listen to," he began. At this point someone cut off the public address system.

Varied Yells From Audience.

The audience, stunned momentarily by the unexpected and somewhat violent intrusion, began yelling. Over the din were heard shouts of "Let 'em talk" and "Get 'em out."

Lohbeck, obviously flustered and with his hair disheveled, climbed on a chair in front of the stage. He screamed at Koch, "I've cut you off the air."

Koch, a husky young man, calmly retorted, "I've got a loud voice and I'm going to talk." He launched into a tirade against Smith.

Lohbeck, with an open Bible in his hand, yelled to plainclothes policemen in the audience, "We rented this hall! Get them out!"

"Draft Dodger" Chanted.

Four detectives rushed to the front of the hall, but instead of interfering with the veterans, they lifted Lohbeck off the chair and half-carried him out of the room. Near the rear door, a couple of punches were swung at Lohbeck but in the confusion it was not determined who did the swinging. No arrests were made.

Koch and two other veterans spoke briefly, calling Smith a rabble-rouser and criticizing the audience. "We saw people like you in Germany," declared Koch, his voice rising above the jeers of the spectators, many of whom stood on chairs to get a better view.

Gives Fascist Salute.

Shouts of "get out," "you aren't soldiers," and "get yourself a hall" came from the audience. One woman was seen to give a Fascist salute which drew the wrath of one veteran. "There are plenty of women like you in Germany," he shouted.

The public address system was restored, but the exchange of shouts made it almost impossible to hear as Koch continued his impromptu talk. "We fought and died for our country but not for people like you," he said.

"You didn't die," some one yelled.

"No, but a lot of our buddies did," he replied.

The other veterans who spoke asserted that "people who preach hatred and spread poison are not fit to be listened to." They urged the audience to leave but the pleas went unheeded.

Meanwhile, Lohbeck sat in an anteroom outside. His hands shook nervously as he drank two glasses of water. "Those fellows (veterans) had counterfeit tickets," he told reporters. He remained there until the veterans voluntarily left the hall.

Tells of Difficulties.

Lohbeck returned to the stage and told the audience that the intruders were "not representative of the veterans of this country." After reading from the Bible, he recounted the difficulties party speakers had encountered in various cities and blamed the disturbances on "Communists who are making a concerted effort to break up all America First meetings."

While waiting for Smith to arrive, the audience said the Lord's Prayer and sang "America," "Battle Hymn of the Republic" and "Onward, Christian Soldiers." By the time Smith showed up, the attendance had increased by 100 more persons.

The applause was deafening as Smith strode into the hall. "I understand some of our friends visited us tonight and tried to break up the meeting," he said. "It's the same old Communistic pattern. This was not just a local instance, the wires are pulled elsewhere and these poor, misguided boys put on the act."

On four occasions, during his two-hour oration he mentioned his own son, who he said was wounded five times in fighting behind Japanese lines in Burma on a volunteer mission. Smith perspired freely and gestured wildly, and his wife, seated behind him on the stage, nodded approval at the right moment.

After a collection was taken up, tickets for another party meeting tonight, at which the Rev. Arthur W. Terminiello, suspended Roman Catholic priest, is scheduled to speak, were distributed. The trial of Father Terminiello in Chicago on disorderly conduct charges growing out of a disturbance at a party meeting last Feb. 7 continued today.

MUNICIPAL AND SCHOOL ELECTIONS HELD IN COUNTY

Elections were being held today in 51 municipalities, 90 school districts and 10 sewer districts of St. Louis county. Municipal and sewer district polling places will be open until 7 p.m., consolidated school district polling places until 6 p.m. and rural school polling places from 2 p.m. until voting is concluded.

University City voters, in addition to electing city and school Pofficials, are voting on proposals for a charter form of government, a six-acre extension of the city limits, and a two-cent increase in the library tax rate. Clayton and Affton school districts are voting on bond issue proposals of $90,000 and $155,000, respectively, for school construction and improvements.

Most school districts are voting on proposed tax increases to permit an increase in teachers' salaries. School districts in areas not having libraries are voting on a proposal for a county library district, to be supported by a tax levy of 10 cents on each $100 property valuation.

NICK, ANTI-NICK SLATES SELECTED AT UNION MEETING

Former Labor Czar Makes Speech Denouncing Those Who Are 'Informing Newspapers.'

Nomination of candidates for officers of Theatrical Brotherhood No. 6 (stagehands' union) last night resulted in selection of opposing slates, one composed of henchmen of John P. Nick, ex-convict labor racketeer, the other made up of anti-Nick men headed by present officers of the union. The meeting, held at Musicians' Hall, 3535 Pine boulevard, was watched by a detail of police, including members of the bombing squad.

Nick, former czar of stage employes and movie operators here, who was released from Federal prison a year ago, has been rallying his constituents for a return to power, with the result that there is a sharp division in the membership of Local No. 6 and a keen interest in the election, scheduled for May 6.

The former labor czar, who was first international vice president of the powerful Theatrical Brotherhood before his conviction for racketeering, was on hand last night and made a speech denouncing "the individuals who have been informing the newspapers." The reference was to the recently disclosed plan to restore the Nick forces to control of the union.

Head of Nick Slate.

Heading the Nick group candidates is Leo Scharfenberg for president, opposing Leroy Upton, the incumbent, an anti-Nick man. Scharfenberg was president of Local No. 6 when Nick was in power. He was formerly master mechanic at the Municipal Opera and is now employed at the St. Louis Theater.

For the $125-a-week job as business agent the candidates are William Murphy, old-time associate of Nick, and Elmer Moran, the present business agent, who, with Upton, leads the anti-Nick faction. Moran succeeded Nick when John entered prison in January, 1942. When Nick held the job he drew $250 a week.

Other candidates of the Nick faction are: Vice-president, George Randall; recording secretary, Nicholas Polito; financial secretary, Joseph Otterson; executive board, George Baur, Leroy Stone, John Hickey, A. Wiegraffe and Eugene Popp.

Others on Upton Slate.

Completing the Upton-Moran slate are: Vice-president, William Kostedt, incumbent; recording secretary, Charles Eiffert; financial secretary, John Jordan; executive board, John Steinigger, Maurice Hurley, Thomas McCarthy, Charles Leroy Sr., and Ben Bender. Election of all officers is for two years.

The Nick group has been defi-nitely "taking sides" at union meetings and recently carried by a three to two vote a demand that the top wage of $86.25 a week be paid in all of the 110 movie theaters in the city and county, with a stagehand to be employed in each. This complicated a plan worked out by Moran to place a stagehand in each theater at wages ranging from $55 a week, a proposal which one theater chain had virtually accepted.

Nick was ousted from control of the movie operators union by a Circuit Court injunction in 1939 and the following year was convicted in the United States District Court on 11 counts of an indictment charging violation of the Federal anti-racketeering act. He obtained a conditional release from prison last year after serving more than three years of his five-year term, and is now employed at Loew's Orpheum Theater.

Danville Bartenders Strike.

DANVILLE, Ill., April 2 (INS)—The 173 union bartenders employed in the city's 50 taverns went on strike yesterday for higher wages.

Further Loss of Elms Expected By Uncontrollable Virus Disease

(Picture in Everyday Magazine.)

Continued destruction of elm trees in St. Louis city and county is anticipated this summer as a result of the strange virus disease which has been attacking these trees in the Ohio, Mississippi and Missouri valleys, defying all attempts for control and correction.

City Forester Elbert R. Olmsted and August P. Bellman, manager of the Missouri Botanical Arboretum at Gray Summit, said today they expect hundreds of these popular shade trees to be lost here this year, but both said the severity of the destruction could not be determined before early summer.

In comparison to the high rate of destructiveness of this unchecked disease in some Midwest localities, they said, damage in the St. Louis area has been relatively light. Olmsted estimated that nearly 5000 trees, or about 5 per cent of the city's elms, had been wiped out since the blight first appeared here three or four years ago.

About 20 Pct. in County.

Bellman said no accurate figures are available for the county, but he thought the loss during the same period would probably not exceed 20 per cent. In contrast, Columbus, Ohio, has lost more than 25,000 of its 80,000 American elm trees.

In studying the incident of trees stricken in St. Louis, a number of unaccountable and contradictory situations were noted, Olmsted said.

In a row of elms of the same variety, half may become infected and die while the rest, separated by diseased trees, remain healthy. In other instances, entire groups are destroyed.

Olmsted added that only two small elms had been affected by the epidemic in 1380-acre Forest Park, while losses in smaller areas of the city, particularly in certain north and southside residential districts, had been relatively high.

The heaviest mortality, the City Forester said, had been among 60,000 elm trees planted about 10 years ago under a WPA program, and young trees, six to eight inches in diameter, seemed especially vulnerable. The American and moline varieties have been hit the hardest, while the Chinese elm, a less desirable shade tree, apparently is immune.

Planting of Elms Halted.

The city, Olmsted said, has discontinued planting elms as shade trees pending discovery of methods to check the disease, or until the epidemic has run its course. Trees that die from the disease are removed by the City Forestry Department and burned, he said.

Bellman said the United States Department of Agriculture and a number of state agencies are engaged in intensive research in an effort to find a method to combat the epidemic and to discover the manner in which the disease, known as phloem necrosis, is transmitted.

Some elms of varieties subject to attack have shown immunity to the disease, he said, and nurserymen are endeavoring to develop a strain from these trees which will not be affected by the virus.

The disease attacks the elms at the roots, and the first symptoms are wilting of the branches and shedding of leaves.

COCHRAN 'A LITTLE BETTER,' CONDITION STILL SERIOUS

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

WASHINGTON, April 2.—The condition of Representative John J. Cochran of St. Louis, a patient in the Naval Hospital at Bethesda, Md., was described by physicians today as "a little better, but still serious."

Cochran, Democrat from the Thirteenth Missouri District, has been at Bethesda since suffering a paralytic stroke during a nap at his room in the Shoreham Hotel Saturday. He is 65 years old, and lost both legs by amputation in 1943. He recently announced his candidacy for what would be his eleventh full term. Cochran was first elected in 1926 for an unexpired term and a subsequent full term, and has been in the House continuously since.

STRIKE BY 650 HALTS OUTPUT AT PISTON RING FIRM

Production of automobile piston rings at the Ramsey Corporation, 3693 Forest Park avenue, was halted today by a strike of 650 production employes in a wage dispute.

Picket lines were established at the plant and at the company's warehouse at 2032 Locust street at 7:30 a.m. Office employes reported for work, Lee Ramsey, assistant general manager, said.

About 500 of the strikers are employed at the plant and the rest at the warehouse, Ramsey said. They are represented by the International Association of Machinists.

Larry Connors, union representative, said the strike was precipitated by the company's threat to cancel retroactive pay increases of 7½ cents an hour for general production workers and 14 cents an hour for tool room employes and machinists if a walkout occurred before negotiations were completed on the rest of the union's wage increase demands.

Connors said the union sought general hourly wage increases of 21 cents for machinists and tool and die makers and 14 cents for others and that a compromise was reached for an increase retroactive to Jan. 2 on 50 per cent of the demand. Futher negotiations on the rest were postponed while the company sought price relief from the Office of Price Administration, he said.

Ramsey said the company was unable to grant additional wage increases unless the OPA permitted the company to increase prices, but that "the union apparently couldn't wait."

Connors said the employes voted overwhelmingly for a strike when a strike vote was taken last January under the Smith-Connally Act.

MAN INJURED BY STREETCAR

Paul Hendel, 59 years old, of 6314 Tennessee avenue, suffered head and chest injuries last night when he was struck by a streetcar near the intersection of South Grand boulevard and Winnebago street. He was taken to City Hospital for treatment.

Police reported Hendel stepped from behind a southbound streetcar into the path of one moving north on Grand boulevard and was thrown against an automobile on the west side of the street.

NYLON SHORTAGE LAID TO SCARCITY OF YARN

OPA Chief Says Canceling of WPB Ruling Caused Lack of Rayon Hose.

WASHINGTON, April 2 (AP)—The case of the disappearing nylons was partly solved today by OPA Administrator Paul Porter.

At the request of Representative Ludlow (Dem.), Indiana, Porter attempted to explain why "no hose today" has become the shopkeeper's password.

"There are several reasons," he told Ludlow in a letter, "for the present acute shortage of hosiery.

"One of the principal factors is the removal last September of WPB order M-37d which assured hosiery mills of rayon yarn. Since then many hosiery mills have been cut off by rayon yarn suppliers."

About nylons, Porter wrote:

"The production of nylon yarn is not yet adequate to supply more than about 60 per cent of the hosiery mills' demand for it."

As to rationing stockings, he said:

"At the moment there is such an absolute shortage of hosiery that rationing would probably not assure everyone of a supply."

Other Porter disclosures:

1. Price ceilings on nylons are "substantially those recommended by the hosiery industry."

2. "There is nothing to indicate" that shipments of nylons are being held up on account of prices.

3. Exports of nylons run around two per cent of total production or "lower than the average pre-war level."

RETAILERS SEEK LAWS ON MORE LIBERAL OPA

Fear Price Boosts Reflect 'Shotgun Conversion' Before Vote on Agency Extension.

WASHINGTON, April 2 (AP)—A spokesman for merchants asked Congress today to legislate "in black and white" the Office of Price Administration's liberalized policy of increasing prices to stimulate production.

"Retail merchants say that the index of wholesale prices will probably have to rise certainly by 15 per cent, perhaps by 18½ per cent, if the blockade (against greater production) is to be lifted," said David R. Craig, research director of the American Retailers' Federation.

Craig said the federation was "much impressed" by recent price ceiling increases intended to break bottlenecks in the output of scarce goods. He added, however, that the merchants want assurance that these price boosts do not merely reflect a "shotgun conversion" of OPA caused by the approaching congressional vote on a one-year extension of that agency's life.

Senator Ball (Rep.), Minnesota, outlined last night a series of amendments which he said he and other Republicans would offer on the floor to a bill drafted by the Senate Labor Committee setting up a mediation board. Without waiting for their resolution committee to report, the retailers adopted by unanimous voice vote a resolution "commending and supporting in complete detail" Ball's proposals.

They followed the lines of the bill by Representative Case (Rep.), South Dakota, which the House had passed and the Senate committee junked. Among them are provisions which would bar strikes and lockouts for a 60-day cooling-off period, outlaw secondary boycotts and strike violence, and make unions liable in United States courts for contract violations.

MORE ST. LOUIS MEN'S WAR BRIDES COMING IN

14, Five With Children, Among Group From Britain Due on Thursday

Fourteen British war brides of St. Louis area service men are among the 2329 wives and children aboard the Queen Mary expected to arrive in New York from England about Thursday. Five of the wives are accompanied by children.

The list includes:

Mrs. Joyce Bucher and David L. Bucher, 16 months old, Newington, London, wife and son of Staff Sgt. Lester R. Bucher, 1954A Clara avenue; Mrs. Betty E. Hausmann and Susan C. Hausmann, 6 months, Wolverhampton, Staffordshire, wife and daughter of Staff Sgt. Elmer Hausmann, 3431A Crittenden street; Mrs. Marjorie H. Marler, Carol A. Marler, 2 years old, and Colin A. Marler, 10 months, Fulham, South Wales, wife and children of Pfc. Wayne S. Marler, (local address omitted).

Mrs. Peggy Barker, Arundel, Sussex, wife of Cpl. William J. Barker, 335 Couch avenue, Kirkwood; Mrs. Doreen E. Goshien, Cambridge, wife of Staff Sgt. Herman Goshien, 5848 Maffitt avenue; Mrs. Catherine Keller, London, wife of Cpl. William C. Keller, 2804A Elliott avenue.

Mrs. Rene E. Hill and William F. Hill, Blackley, Manchester, wife and son of Pvt. Wiliam F. Hill, 3939 Washington boulevard; Mrs. Dorothy Cash, Liverpool, wife of Cpl. Lloyd Cash, 2329 Rutger street; Mrs. Betty Queen, London, wife of Pfc. William Queen, 2251 South Jefferson avenue; Mrs. Julia O. Walker, London, wife of Pvt. Steve W. Walker, 201A President street.

JACKSON DAY DINER WILL GET ONLY 700 CALORIES FOR $25

Just because they pay $25 a plate, the diners at Saturday night's Jackson Day dinner at Hotel Jefferson need not expect a fancy meal. The dinner committee announced the menu today, and said each person's food would add up to 700 calories. People of many European countries are glad to get a 700-calory meal; in fact, that is the maximum available a person in the hunger-stricken nations.

Tomato juice will come first, then celery, olives, carrots, broiled chicken, peas, potatoes, lettuce, fruit cup, oatmeal molasses cookies and a demitasse—not a big dunker-size cup of coffee.

No grains, red meat, fats or oils are included, the committee said. It modeled its menu on that of the recent affair in Washington, also called a Jackson day dinner, that day being a movable feast in the Democratic calendar. The price of tickets was fixed with a view to helping the National Committee's treasury, and 1000 guests are expected.

Secretary of the Treasury Fred M. Vinson is to be chief speaker. Others on the program are Attorney General Tom Clark; Robert E. Hannegan, Postmaster General; Clinton Anderson, Secretary of Agriculture; Gov. Phil M. Donnely; Senator Frank P. Briggs; John W. Snyder, W. Stuart Symington and August A. Busch Jr., chairman of the St. Louis Jackson Day Committee.

ARMY AIR FORCE VETERANS' JOB POSSIBILITIES OUTLINED

There are abundant opportunities for employment in the expanding aircraft industry, and Army Air Force veterans can utilize the experience and training they received during the war to fill similiar jobs in civilian occupations, Thomas R. Cook, instrument instructor at Brayton Flying Service, Lambert-St. Louis Field, said last night.

He spoke at a meeting, held at the Union Electric Co., 315 North Twelfth street, which was sponsored by the Missouri Wing of the Civil Air Patrol in an attempt to acquaint St. Louis employers with the degree and types of skills acquired by A.A.F. veterans.

Cook, M. W. Shafer, United States Employment Service veterans' representative, and Maj. Malcolm Buchanan, of Washington, A.A.F. personnel representative, outlined and discussed the possibilities of employment in all types of occupations, both in the aircraft manufacturing industry and in air passenger and air freight services.

HOUSE VOTES FOR PEACE NAVY OF 500,000 MEN

WASHINGTON, April 2 (AP)—The House again went on record yesterday for a peacetime Navy of 500,000 men and a Marine Corps of 100,000 men.

The action was taken in turning down a Senate bill and substituting a House measure passed last December. The House bill is yet to be acted on by the Senate Naval Committee.

Members of the House Naval Committee said during discussion of the bill that the Senate measure would not provide for enough officers and men to permit orderly demobilization of the fleet. The Senate provision calls for a peacetime strength of 232,000 men, as in existing law, with a top of 500,000 in emergency. The Marine Corps, under the Senate bill, would be limited to 46,400 men in peace and 100,000 in emergency.

ROLLA MAN BUYS OZARK TOWN FOR $10,000 AT AUCTION

ROLLA, Mo., April 2 (AP)—R. E. Carney, Rolla theater owner, today bought the town of Arlington for $10,000.

The town, which has a population of five persons, was sold on the courthouse steps here as a result of a partition suit brought by Ben Tillman, co-owner with his niece. He had estimated it was worth $40,000 or $50,000.

Sheriff Walter B. Levine of Phelps county, who sold the town—120 acres of land along the Gasconade and Little Piney rivers, plus a brick store building, a 14-room hotel structure, a filling station and several houses and tourist cabins—said Tillman had no comment on the sale.

"There were three or four bidders, all people from right here in Phelps county," the Sheriff said. "The bidding started at $8000 and went up $5000 at a time until Mr. Carney bid $10,000, and that was all."

The Sheriff said "several St. Louis people" had telephoned bids of up to $9000.

Carney plans to "fix up the place and make a summer resort out of it," the Sheriff said.

RAT BITES CHILD ON HAND

James H. Caples Jr., 3 years old, was bitten on the left hand by a rat while asleep in his home, 2106 North Ninth street, early today.

The father told police he heard his son scream and found him bleeding from the hand. The child was treated at City Hospital and returned home.

Cattle Crossing.

RITZVILLE, Wash. — Three cows decided to cross a highway. State Patrolman Roy Betlatch reported these developments: A driver, swerving to miss the cows, hit a calf, and his woman companion and the calf went into a ditch full of water. Another car glanced off a parked truck and struck the leg of a Navy lieutenant who had stopped to help.

The box score: Three damaged cars; one wet woman; one drowned calf; one compound leg fracture; one negligent driving charge; three unscathed cows.

They Were Heroes, Too.

BELLINGHAM, Wash.—Farmer William McLaughlin ran this advertisement: "Will trade Distinguished Service Cross I won in World War I for priority on tractor." The ex-machine gunner said he had saved for five years to buy a tractor, but couldn't buy one now because priority regulations favored veterans of World War II. His decoration was for wiping out a German machinegun nest singlehanded.

Good Sport.

POLK, Nebr.—"When you share the joys of young folks you must share their bumps," philosophized the Rev. A. Bates of the Polk Methodist Church as he hobbled on crutches today. The minister had taken a group of young people to a nearby town for a roller skating party and joined in the fun. Another skater accidentally bumped him and he fell. He suffered broken ankles.

MANILA, April 2 (AP)—Two Filipinos were in jail today after diving into Manila bay and coming up with 200 gold-filled watch chains which they tried to peddle on the black market. Many Filipinos hid their valuables from the Japanese by dropping them in the bay.

TWO MORE IN G.O.P. SENATORIAL CONTEST

Kem, Mabee Join Thomas as Candidates—Schwabe May Enter Race.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

JEFFERSON CITY, April 2—A contest for the Republican nomination for United States Senator in the August primary began developing today when James P. Kem, Kansas City attorney, and former Lt. Col. Ray Mabee of Unionville, both filed their formal declarations of candidacy with the Secretary of State.

Friends of Congressman Max Schwabe of Columbia have reported he also may file Thursday for the Republican senatorial nomination. Schwabe has been busy for several weeks canvassing the political situation, before determining whether to seek the senatorial nomination or again run for Representative in the Second District. William McKinley Thomas of St. Louis, a shoeworker, who ran last in a field of six for the Republican nomination for Senator in 1944, again is a candidate.

Two candidates already are in the field for the Democratic nomination—Senator Frank P. Briggs of Macon, who has the support of President Truman, whom he succeeded as Senator, and Lt. Col. B. Marvin Casteel of St. Joseph, former superintendent of the Missouri Highway Patrol and former state administrator for the Works Progress Administration.

Roger C. Slaughter of Kansas City filed for the Democratic nomination for re-election as Representative from the Fifth (Kansas City) Congressional District. Slaughter, according to informed political sources, may encounter administration opposition because he voted in Congress against some of President Truman's legislative measures.

NO REPLY BY REDS OR IRAN RECEIVED YET BY COUNCIL

What Diplomats Expect.

Some diplomats in New York said that even if Russia replied to the Security Council, they did not expect the action to settle the issue but merely to advance it to a new stage. They based this on the belief that Iran's complaint to the Council very likely will not be substantially changed by Premier Qavam in his reply. He yesterday sent Secretary General Trygve Lie a note reaffirming the position of Ambassador Ala as his fully authorized spokesman here.

The British-American policy in preparation for tomorrow's session is reliably reported to be this:

If both Russia and Iran say that Soviet troops are being withdrawn from Iran and are not being used to influence the Iranian Government in considering Russian demands for oil or other concessions, the Council should accept the answers as satisfactory and shelve the case temporarily. Moscow and Tehran would then continue with direct negotiations, being asked only to report to the Council at some future stage.

If the Soviet answer is equivocal, however, or if the Iranian Government does not give the situation a clean bill of health, Byrnes and Sir Alexander Cadogan of Britain plan to seek continued active consideration of the case by the Council.

There is also the possibility that Russia may not answer at all the Council's message of last Friday. At the other extreme is the chance that Moscow might reverse Gromyko's instructions, directing him to end his boycott of Council sessions on Iran and join the discussion tomorrow. The Russians had sought a delay until April 10 in the Iran case.

The Nassau Daily Review-Star of Rockville Centre, L. I., reported that the U.N.O. would move from Hunter College in the Bronx to the Sperry gyroscope plant at Lake Success in Long Island's Nassau county. The agreement with the city for use of Hunter expires May 15.

The U.N.O. information office said: "Pending expiration of the Hunter College lease, the secretary-general is exploring all available possibilities. Thus far no decision has been reached regarding staying or leaving Hunter College."

REDS SAY IRAN BLOC SEEKS SOVIET AREA

MOSCOW, April 2 (UP)—The magazine New Times charged today that Iranian nationalists are trying to create a "greater Iran" tht would annex part of the Soviet Union and incorporate the entire Persian gulf. It asserted that Iran is "nothing more than a pawn in the complicated political game of certain British and American interests."

Iranian nationalists, New Times said, want to revive the "greater" Persia of ancient days and extend Iranian borders to incorporate the Soviet central Asian republics, Soviet Azerbaijan and the entire Persian gulf.

The magazine cited as proof of Iranian expansionist aims what it said was a recent article in the national newspaper Mikhan. The article was quoted as demanding that the Persian Gulf should become an "Iranian lake" and that Iran should reincorporate 17 cities and towns of the Caucasus. Iran also should reincorporate Bokhara, Samarkand, Tashkent and Askhabad, the Mikham article was quoted as saying.

SENATE CLEAN ELECTION FUND

WASHINGTON, April 2 (AP)—The Senate approved yesterday the appointment of a committee of five Senators to police this year's elections, with a special $30,000 fund to do the job.

The five will be named later from states not electing a Senator this year.

AFL GROUP MEETS TONIGHT TO EXPEL MACHINISTS HERE

The AFL Central Trades and Labor Union, representing AFL executive authority in St. Louis, will meet tonight to expel from its membership the AFL International Association of Machinists, District 9, pursuant to an order issued last November by AFL President William Green.

Green's order followed refusal of the Machinists to pay per capita dues to the national Executive Council following their convention last October. The refusal was based upon unresolved jurisdictional disputes with the carpenters', engineers' and streetcar mens' unions within the AFL.

The action of the local Central Trades and Labor Union in carrying out Green's order was delayed in order to give the 10 locals in St. Louis an opportunity to disavow the stand of the national officers of the machinists' union. Recently the locals voted four to one in a referendum to approve their national position.

Lloyd Weber, business representative of the machinists' locals here, said "We will resist the order with everything we've got."

EFFINGHAM AUTO ACCIDENT FATAL TO ST. LOUIS MAN

Earl Yowell of 5508 Wells avenue, a molder employed by Sterling Aluminum Products, Inc., 2925 North Market street, was killed in an automobile accident early today at Effingham, Ill.

His wife, Mrs. Edna Yowell, said Yowell and his brother, Leonard Yowell, were returning from a business trip in Detroit, Mich., and that she was notified her husband was killed as the automobile struck a bridge. Yowell was 32 years old. Surviving besides his wife and brother are three small children.

REPLY TO AUDITOR ON REVENUE SYSTEM

Survey Director Says Smith's Office Will Be More Valuable Than Before.

JEFFERSON CITY, April 2 (AP)—State Auditor Forrest Smith's statement that operations of his department might be hampered by establishment of a new state Department of Revenue were described yesterday as entirely groundless by Edward Staples, director of the Missouri Public Expenditure Survey. By making the auditor an independent watchdog of state expenditures, Staples said, the legislation makes the auditor's office more valuable than before. Smith said Saturday he did not know how his department would function after July 1, when the new setup goes into operation.

"This legislation," Staples said in a statement, "specifically provides that the auditor may keep all records necessary to operate his office. A provision which Auditor Smith questions merely prevents needless, duplicate original sets of books from being kept by the auditor. And why should the state be burdened by having its books kept twice?

"This legislation before enactment was studied by competent attorneys, as well as leading delegates to the Constitutional Convention to assure that it conformed with the Constitution. It was also studied by practicing accountants, public finance officials of long practical experience and governmental authorities. All pronounced it sound and desirable. The provisions of which Auditor Smith complains make possible a revenue department which will mark a milestone in the progress of good government in Missouri."

3 EAST SIDE LOTTERY AIDS ARRESTED IN CITY

Tell Police They Sell $1200 Worth of Eagle Park Tickets a Week.

Three Negroes who admitted they were employed by the Eagle Park lottery were arrested late yesterday at Blair and Salisbury avenues by members of the police gambling squad, who found 200 policy top sheets in their automobile.

The Negroes said they wrote policy for the East Side lottery, which is reputed to be the largest in th eworld. It is operated by Frank Hackethal, former Egan gangster and ex-convict, with several partners, and has its headquarters in the Harlem Club in Lovejoy, a small Negro community on the outskirts of East St. Louis.

After watching the movements of the three for two weeks, police arrested them for careless driving, then searched their machines and found the policy paraphernalia. They gave their names as Fortune Humphrey, 4014 Page boulevard; Jonas Perkins, 1706 Division street, and Mary Foster, 1436 Blair.

They said they sold about $1200 worth of tickets a week. Humphrey said he reported $985 as income from gambling on his 1944 tax statement, but said he didn't remember his income from gambling last year, except that it increased over 1944.

HEARING ON FLOATING PLANE DOCK TO BE HELD APRIL 9

A public hearing on establishment of a floating dock for seaplane operations near the foot of Market street will be held at 10 a.m. April 9 in room 700F of the Federal Building at Twelfth boulevard and Market street, it was announced yesterday by the Army Engineers' St. Louis district.

Application to construct the dock has been made by the Petty Marine Flying Service, Hartford, Ill. Plans provide for a dock barge 40 by 160 feet to be moored about 30 feet offshore with a hangar served by a ramp at one end of the barge and offices at the other end.

Oral statements will be heard, but Col. L. B. Feagin, district engineer, urged that all important matters be submitted in writing for consideration by the War Department.

Fined for Using Illegal Bait.

Charles Harrington, 3446 Williams place, was fined $18.50 by Justice of the Peace Will Jones of Salem, Mo., Saturday for using illegal bait while fishing at Montauk State Park, Dent County, on March 5. In Saturday editions of the Post-Dispatch it was erroneously reported that Harrington was arrested for trespassing and fishing in the park, which is a restricted area.

NEW U. S. ENVOY TO ARGENTINA REPORTED CHOSEN

Messersmith Said to Be Slated for Post, With a Shift of Pawley to Brazil Likely.

WASHINGTON, April 2 (AP)—Diplomatic sources said today that the United States has asked Argentina to approve George Messersmith, now United States Ambassador to Mexico, as the new Ambassador at Buenos Aires. The decision to send a new envoy to the Argentine stirred wide speculation whether this country is relaxing its stiff policy toward that South American government.

The officials, who asked not to be named, said a major diplomatic shift in Latin America was expected in the next few days. William D. Pawley, now ambassador to Peru, probably will be shifted to Brazil as Messersmith goes to Argentina. Pawley, a former business man now filling his first diplomatic post, will succeed Adolf A. Berle Jr. who recently resigned.

A State Department spokesman announced yesterday that a new envoy to the Argentine would be named "later in the week.

Post Vacant Six Months.

This country has had no ambassador in the Argentine capital since Spruille Braden left that post nearly six months ago to become Assistant Secretary of State for Latin American affairs.

Word that the President and Secretary of State Byrnes had decided to fill the ambassadorship came virtually on the heels of a landslide victory in an Argentine presidential election for Col. Juan D. Peron, "strong man" of the present government whom Braden outspokenly opposed.

Braden charged Peron and the military faction governing Argentina with wartime aid to Germany, with employing Nazi methods and with violating their hemisphere commitments. Shortly before the Argentine election, the State Department published its "blue book," citing captured German documents which it said furnished "proof positive" of Argentine "complicity with the enemy."

Last Oct. 3, Acting Secretary of State Dean Acheson declared the United States would not sign a projected hemisphere military defense treaty with the present Argentina Government. Byrnes has affirmed that stand on several occasions.

Conciliatory Move.

Some diplomatic officials believe the decision to send a new ambassador indicates that Peron's victory in an apparently free election has prompted this country to take the first step toward a resumption of friendship with Argentina.

They predict additional steps away from Braden's tough policy over a period of time, especially if Peron pursues a conciliatory policy toward the United States, marked by expulsion of objectionable Germans, and cessation of Fascist-type tactics.

Government officials were quick to deny, however, that sending an ambassador in itself constitutes a significant major change of policy. They said Braden consistently had recommended that the United States maintain an ambassador in Buenos Aires on the ground that pulling out an envoy was not an effective diplomatic weapon.

Jubilant Reception Indicated for New Ambassador.

BUENOS AIRES, April 2 (UP)—Foreign Minister Juan Isaac Cooke said today that he was "delighted" that the United States had decided to send another ambassador to Argentina. Semi-official sources indicated the new envoy would receive a jubilant reception.

Foreign office sources, however, said the move signified that "mistaken policies" of the past would be rectified, and that the United States would be able to resume full commercial exchange with Argentina.

VETERANS' SERVICE CENTER OFFICE FOR SCHOOL GROUP

Four representatives of the State Department of Public Schools have taken space in the Veterans' Service Center, it was announced today by Miss Betty Inman, acting director of the center. They will be in charge of approving business and industrial firms in St. Louis as in-job training centers for veterans.

R. L. Douthit is director of the office, Miss Inman said. He is assisted by Kenneth Smith, Robert E. Lloyd and Paul S. Smelser.

PUBLIC SERVICE CO. PLACES ORDER FOR 200 NEW BUSES

An order for 200 new buses has been placed by the Public Service Co., bringing the total new equipment on order to 500 buses and 100 street cars at a cost of $9,000,000, John L. Wilson, company president, announced yesterday.

The 200 additional buses, costing about $14,000 each, will be diesel powered with hydraulic transmissions. Each will seat 40 passengers.

The cost of the 500 new buses will be $7,000,000 and $2,000,000 will be invested in the additional streamlined street cars. Delivery of the new equipment will begin June 1, when the company will receive the street cars and 100 buses. They will be put into service immediately.

SPECIAL VETERANS' COURSE

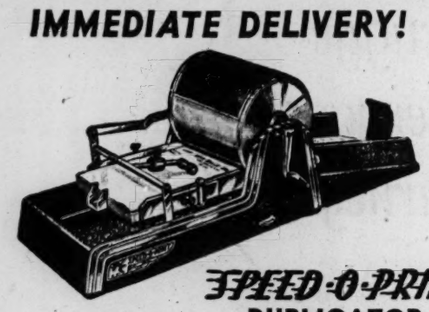

A special accelerated course for 225 veterans, including one woman, who were unable to enter school at the beginning of the semester, opened yesterday at Washington University. Classes were started in freshman subjects and review and preparatory work.

The veterans will take three subjects in the nine-week course, enabling them to enter regular divisions of the university next term. There are now 2875 veterans in the student body of 9384.

Cripple's Artificial Leg Stolen.

WASHINGTON, April 2 (AP)—One-legged Deskin E. Brown reported to police yesterday that two men who attacked him in a dark hallway rifled his pockets, removed his artificial leg to prevent chase, found $1692 he had hidden in the limb and stole that, too.

Feed Your Dog as Many Famous Breeders Do

"...find they like it and thrive..."
Mrs. Dorothy Kennedy, noted dog breeder of 3570 N. Harlem Ave., Chicago, Ill., writes: "I have been using a diet based on GRO-PUP for my Scotty and Kerry Blue puppies and find they like it and thrive on it. Their coats are glossy and I have had no trouble with digestive upsets. I recommend it."
MOST breeders and veterinarians base their dogs' diets on a good dry dog food fed with scrap meat, including fat. So many depend on Kellogg's GRO-PUP because this famous food provides every vitamin and mineral dogs are known to need.
Kellogg's GRO-PUP is economical... convenient to feed. Watch your dog go for its hearty, meaty flavor, and thrive!

POPULIST VICTORS IN GREECE ASKED TO FORM CABINET

ATHENS, April 2 (UP)—The Populist party, victor in Sunday's election and advocate of reinstatement of King George II, accepted an invitation from Regent Archbishop Damaskinos today to form a new Greek government.

Four members of the party's administrative council were received by the regent to receive formally the charge which the Populists won by winning the largest number of seats in the election.

The new government may be formed tomorrow. Constantin Tsaldaris and John Theotokis were leading choices for the premiership.

Leaders of the Liberal party and the National Political Union, runners-up in the election, rejected a Populist invitation to join a coalition government based on proposals for a plebiscite for the return of King George to be held within a month. Themistocles Sophoulis, Liberal party leader who resigned as premier yesterday, and George Papandreou, leader of the pro-republican National Political Union, turned down the Populist proposal.

Counting of votes was halted suddenly by the Ministry of Interior last night, setting off unconfirmed rumors that something had gone amiss in handling the election returns. The rate of abstentions from the polls was reported rising steadily when vote-counting was halted, largely influenced by results in the provinces. The nation-wide average of abstentions was above 45 per cent.

(The Associated Press said the last totals announced by the ministry, from 1550 of Greece's 3200 voting stations, gave the Populists 269,498 votes; the National bloc, 118,740; the Liberals, 72,390; and the Zervas party, 22,907.)

Populist leader Tsaldaris said government election figures were inexact and that the party would publish its own figures.

Leftwing parties, which boycotted the election because they thought it unfair and based on false voting lists, asserted that the Royalists were worried by the growing indications of a high abstention rate.

Over-all figures from 27 of the 38 electoral regions throughout Greece showed an abstention rate above 45 per cent, compared to the 30 to 40 per cent shown in early returns from Athens and Salonika. Of 527,776 registered voters, only 274,242 cast ballots.

A Tass news agency dispatch to Moscow reported from Athens the Greek elections "occurred under conditions of exceptional terror." Tass said armed motorized patrols circled workers' quarters in Athens and Piraeus. The dispatch reported many persons were taken forcibly to the polls. It said as many as 75 per cent of the people boycotted the elections in certain districts.

In London, a British Foreign Office spokesman said reports from Greece "did not suggest that either disorder or intimidation had taken place." He said 240 Allied observer teams were "in better position to get the facts," and their reports were awaited.

U. S. SENDS NOTE TO YUGOSLAVS ON GEN. MIHAILOVICH

Asks That American Officers Be Permitted to Testify at Trial of Chetnik Leader.

WASHINGTON, April 2 (AP)—The United States has asked Yugoslavia to permit American Army personnel who had contact with Gen. Draja Mihailovich to testify at the projected treason trial of the Chetnik guerilla leader.

The State Department said today it had sent a note Saturday, asking for an expression of views on the matter, and citing Mihailovich's contributions to the Allied cause during the war. No reply has been received, a State Department press officer said.

The note recalled that Mihailovich organized and led "important resistance forces" when the German army overran Yugoslavia in 1941, and mentioned "the fact that many United States airmen were rescued and returned to Allied lines through the undaunted efforts of Gen. Mihailovich's forces."

COMPROMISE MADE ON MILITARY'S PART IN ATOM CONTROL

International discussions in recent weeks have tended to indicate that the United States at some future date plans to entrust some of its atomic information to the United Nations. Some senators said today, however, that there will be opposition in congress to legislation disclosing any but the most fundamental secrets.

At least two mine state senators have indicated to reporters that they will oppose legislation—either domestic or international—which would hamper western mining "unnecessarily." Both have expressed a desire to foster needed controls over atomic energy, even to raw materials, but they emphasized privately they will fight "overcautious" restrictions on the mining industry.

The Senate's hearings on the State Department program for broad international control of atomic materials, mining operations, production plants and facilities using fissionable materials probably will be open to the public.

Scientist Says 500 Atomic Bombs Would Destroy a Nation.

KANSAS CITY, Kan., April 2 (AP) — Dr. Harrison S. Brown, scientist with the Oak Ridge (Tenn.) atomic bomb project, estimated here yesterday it would take 'about 500" atomic bombs to destroy a nation.

Dr. Brown, who addressed a conference on atomic energy attended by about 200 civic and business leaders in this area, said the number of bombs needed for complete destruction might vary from 100 to 1000 and that it would take a nation from two to four years to produce that number after making the first bomb.

David L. Hill of the University of Chicago bomb project said that if the flying bombs which managed to get through to London had been equipped with atomic warheads, the city "would have been obliterated in one day."

He agreed with other scientists who appeared on the rostrum in saying that "there is no physical defense against the atomic bomb. The only possible defense is to remove the motivation for its use."

Hurt in Fall From Coal Car.
Alfred R. Lueders, 4044A McRee avenue, was in serious condition in City Hospital with head injuries suffered yesterday when he fell from a coal car at the Schroeter Coal Co., 1721 South Vandeventer avenue. Lueders, a yardman employed by the coal company, told police he lost his balance while attempting to brake the car.

BOARD APPROVES QUONSET SITE FOR NEGRO VETERANS

Plans to Acquire Playground Area and Put 16 Huts on It Voted by Service Group.

Plans for acquisition of a playground site at Hickory street and Theresa avenue, and its temporary use as a location for 16 quonset huts for Negro veterans' families, were approved today by the city Board of Public Service. Each of the huts will accommodate two families, with four rooms for each family.

The city has an option on the land, bounded by Hickory, Theresa, Rutger street and Carr Lane avenue. The site is one of those included in the playground plans of the last city bond issue. The $19,000 for purchase of the site will be provided from Comptroller Louis Nolte's revolving fund for housing, and will be repaid from bond issue funds when the site can be turned over to the city for playground use.

President Milton M. Kinsey of the board announced yesterday that the erection of the 46 huts allotted to the city from Portland, Ore., had been delayed because the Federal Public Housing Administration had disapproved the city's original plan to place them all on Yeatman Square, North Market street and Glasgow avenue. It was decided to place 30 huts on Yeatman Square and 16 on the Hickory street site.

Barracks Work to Begin.

Remodeling of 23 buildings at Jefferson Barracks to provide housing for 184 veterans and their families is expected to start immediately, it was disclosed at a meeting yesterday of the Citizens' Emergency Housing Committee in Mayor Aloys P. Kaufmann's office.

Following a long distance telephone call to the office of the FPHA in Chicago, J. Wesley McAfee, chairman of the committee, said final Army authorization for use of a 50-acre tract at the barracks as a site for the temporary units had been obtained. The FPHA has ordered immediate completion of contracts for remodeling the buildings, he said.

Prior to receipt of the information, he had expressed irritation over the delays encountered in getting started on the work, delays "which were no fault of the city's," but which were caused by a lack of co-operation between governmental agencies, he said. The Army permission was thought to have been obtained in February, he said, but it was discovered at the last minute that the proper officers had not signed the papers.

Question of Allocation.

McAfee announced he would seek a meeting today with John J. Griffin, president of the board of directors of the Veterans' Service Center, to try to "straighten out" the matter of allocating the 22 new houses which the city is building for veterans and their families on city-owned land at Connecticut and Sublette avenues. Griffin last week asked the city to assume the responsibility for allocating the houses.

McAfee told the meeting it is his opinion that allocation of the houses, on the basis of need of the veterans, should remain in the hands of the Veterans' Service Center.

"If this committee were to assume the responsibility, we would have to have additional authority and obtain additional funds from the city to set up an organization to handle the work," he said. "Such an organization is already established as a part of the center."

Kinsey announced also he has applied for 16 additional barracks buildings at Jefferson Barracks. They are the large-type barracks, which it has been estimated can be turned into quarters for eight families each.

John J. Church, secretary of the AFL Building and Construction Trades Council and a member of the housing committee, told the meeting there are about 1500 new homes now under construction in the city and St. Louis county. He said building permits have been taken out in the last two weeks for erection of another 1000 to 1500 new homes. These are mostly in the county.

COMMONS DEBATES TILL DAWN, VOTES TO REPEAL STRIKE ACT

LONDON, April 2 (AP)—The House of Commons recessed at 5:25 a. m. today after a 15-hour debate during which the Labor majority voted down Conservative-sponsored efforts to amend a bill repealing the 1927 Trades Dispute Act prohibiting general strikes.

Sitting as a committee of the whole, Commons approved the measure unchanged by a vote of 249 to 99 just as dawn was breaking.

The measure to repeal the Trades Dispute Act, which also restricts membership of government workers in unions and bars compulsory contributions to political parties, passed its second reading in Commons in February. It will go to the House of Lords after a perfunctory third reading.

FAIR PLAY OUR POLICY ON NEW CAR DELIVERIES!

IN COOPERATION with the Ford Motor Company, we are making every effort to give earliest possible delivery of new cars to our patrons, according to the fairest method we have been able to devise. ● ● During the current shortage, when there are not enough new cars for all who want them, we are filling orders for new cars on the basis of first come first served. There are two important exceptions to this rule:

1. We are definitely reserving a substantial percentage of our cars to supply those who have served in the armed forces. This we feel is simple justice and conforms with public interest and fair play.

2. If emergency need for a new car is a factor, as in the case of doctors and nurses, we will, in the public interest determine priority according to the now abolished but publicly accepted OPA priority lists.

● ● We believe these delivery policies are in your interest. We will use every care to see that the procedure works fairly and that exceptions to the rule of first orders delivered first are made only in genuinely deserving cases.

● ● Both in the matter of increasing production and speeding delivery, the Ford Motor Company and we ourselves are making every effort to get your new car in your hands promptly and fairly. We want to assure you that the '46 Ford is out in front in everything and is well worth waiting for.

U. S. DEVISING NEW PLAN TO GET WHEAT FOR RELIEF

Certificates, Redeemable When Price Goes Up, to Be Given to Farmers to Spur Marketing

WASHINGTON, April 2 (AP)—Director General Fiorello H. LaGuardia of the United Nations Relief and Rehabilitation Administration said today the Government was about ready to announce a new plan designed to expedite wheat shipments abroad.

As LaGuardia outlined it to reporters after a White House visit, the plan will permit farmers to collect later for wheat delivered now and thereby benefit from any price increase.

Instead of immediate cash, he explained, the farmers would receive a non-interest-bearing certificate that could be redeemed later at the prevailing market price for wheat.

Thus, he said, farmers now holding their wheat for higher prices would be induced to release it to feed hungry Europeans without losing expected higher returns.

LaGuardia conferred with President Truman and Reconversion Director John W. Snyder. He told reporters he got a "great deal of encouragement from the President."

After a conference with Secretary of Agriculture Anderson yesterday, LaGuardia had predicted that the United States would meet its food relief commitments.

Anderson said shipments of wheat and meats to the hungry areas were increasing and "show every sign of coming up to the goal."

The goal for wheat is 6,000,000 tons and for meat one billion pounds for the first half of this year.

LaGuardia said that if the promised supplies are not forthcoming, "I'll be out picketing the Agriculture Department. I do not want to be the head of an international undertaking establishment."

President Truman directed Anderson to set up a committee of all Federal agencies concerned to assure fullest Federal aid to UNRRA. He asked Anderson also to consider appointment of an advisory committee of citizens.

Conference in May.

Sir John Boyd Orr, director general of the United Nations Food and Agriculture Organization, announced that a conference of food experts would be held in Washington the week of May 20 to consider steps for co-ordinating relief programs in the coming winter.

Participants will include representatives of UNRRA, the combined Food Board, other international organizations concerned with food, and officials of nations concerned.

ARMY BOARD HEARS PRIVATE HARGROVE ON CASTE SYSTEM

WASHINGTON, April 2 (UP)—A military board investigating the Army caste system listened to a few "see here's" from ex-private Marion Hargrove today.

Hargrove, who wrote one of the early best-sellers about the life of an Army private in World War II, told the gripe board that what the enlisted man needs is a bill of rights so he will know where he stands and what the Army can do to him.

"The enlisted man has some rights," Hargrove said, "but if he does much talking about them he is known as a guardhouse lawyer and a trouble-maker."

Hargrove, who was discharged from the Army in October as a sergeant, discussed his testimony with reporters after appearing in closed session before the board headed by Lt. Gen. James Doolittle.

PAIR ACCUSED OF STOCK SALES FORBIDDEN BY SEC

A warrant charging Mr. and Mrs. William Gruenwalder, 5914A Delmar boulevard, with failure to comply with an order of the State Commissioner of Securities not to sell or solicit orders for stock in a North Carolina mica mine was issued today by Assistant Circuit Attorney Paul L. Dobberstein. The Gruenwalders were arrested early today on Dobberstein's order.

Dobberstein said the warrant was based on a report by Francis A. Hellrung, Federal Securities and Exchange Commission attorney here, in which Hellrung stated Mr. and Mrs. Gruenwalder sold two interests in the mine in April 1945, to St. Louisans. On Jan. 22, 1945, State Commissioner of Securities Russell Maloney held a hearing and ruled the Gruenwalders should not solicit or sell the stock, Dobberstein said. On March 27, 1945, a formal cease and desist order was issued, he continued, and it is this order they are charged with violating.

The two interests in the mine, each for a one hundred and twenty-eighth interest, were sold to Mr. and Mrs. John Old, 4532 Parkview place, and Mr. and Mrs. William E. Krause, 5235 Maffitt avenue, Dobberstein said. The shares were bought for $250 each, he continued.

G. B. SHAW PROPOSES PAY FOR KEEPING PEOPLE WELL

LONDON, April 2 (UP)—George Bernard Shaw wrote to the London Times today urging adoption of the Swedish system of paying a doctor to keep the family well throughout the year.

"The monstrosity of the present system of private practice in medicine is that it gives doctors a vested interest in disease which they are defending desperately," the playwright observed.

He offered his suggestion as a solution for the current private vs. public medicine debate in Britain.

OWNER ATTACKED IN CAFE

Police were searching today for five men who entered a restaurant at 6201 Delmar boulevard last night and attacked the owner, Emil Vescovo. Vescovo, who was treated at City Hospital for cuts and bruises of the head, told police he knew of no reason for the attack.

William Ferguson, 3740 Westminster place, a bartender at the restaurant, told police the men asked him if he was a union bartender and when Ferguson said he was not the men went to Vescovo and struck him.

REDS FIND ATOMIC ENERGY SIGNS NEAR SUN'S SURFACE

MOSCOW, April 2 (AP)—Academician V. Fesenkov, writing in the government newspaper Izvestia, said today that Soviet astronomers are busy studying atomic energy in the cosmos from new and reconstructed observatories equipped with the newest instruments and apparatus.

Astronomers recently have discovered indications that atomic energy is released not only from within the depths of the sun but also from close to its surface, the article said.

UTILITIES READY TO COMPLY WITH COURT DECISION

Brokers Lay Rise in Stocks to Fact They Can Go Ahead With Share Distribution.

NEW YORK, April 2 (AP)—The Supreme Court's long expected upholding of the "death sentence" clause for public utility holding companies found almost all of them with plans for compliance either carried out in whole or in part, or awaiting approval by the Securities and Exchange Commission.

In fact, these blueprints were such that utilities stocks went into a mild upswing on the New York Stock Exchange after the decision yesterday. Brokers said this was due to the theory that holding companies could proceed to distribute their assets according to plan.

The North American Co., which carried the case to the Supreme Court on appeal, was temporarily silent. Officials said E. L. Shea, president, wanted to study the decision before talking.

The SEC had ordered North American in April, 1942, to divest itself of interest in 56 companies, including seven holding companies, and confine its activities to the Union Electric system in the St. Louis area.

North American challenged constitutionality of the "death sentence" but in August, 1943, its directors proposed a plan for dissolution.

In the general utility holding company field, the rate of divestment of interests in subsidiaries speeded up materially in 1945, and utility men said today disintegration should reach a climax within the next year or 18 months.

In the fiscal year ended June 30, 1945, holding companies sold non-retainable interests in 86 electric, gas and other subsidiaries with assets totaling $575,000,000, and 17 companies sold a part of their assets for a total of $33,000,000.

SEC orders now outstanding require divestment of holding companies' non-retainable interests in 147 subsidiaries with assets of $4,352,000,000. About 60 plans for compliance are pending in various stages of completion.

Utility men said that in the 10 years since passage of the Public Utility Holding Company Act, requiring that a holding company confine itself to a single, integrated system of operating companies, 332 electric, gas and non-utility subsidiaries have been divorced from parent companies, with assets involved totaling more than $4,100,000,000. Of these 284, with assets of $3,100,000,000 have been declared no longer subject to the act, because of complete compliance.

Record earnings among the subsidiaries recently have so boosted prices of their stocks that the holding companies found themselves in a much more favorable position than when many of them first proposed divestment plans to SEC.

Parent companies have initiated plans for refinancing the subsidiaries, to take advantage of low interest rates and the large amount of "idle money," prior to divesting themselves of the subsidiary stock.

FINED, JAILED AS DEFENDER OF 'INDEFENSIBLE CASE'

A three-hour attempt to defend a case which, in the opinion of the court, had no defense, cost James C. Hooberry, defendant on a liquor charge, a $100 fine and 30 days in jail following a hearing yesterday before United States District Judge Richard M. Duncan.

Judge Duncan informed the defendant and his counsel, Walter Kramer, that he would have strongly considered probation for Hooberry if they had not wasted three hours of the court's time. Hooberry was arrested last October by liquor control agents and police at a confectionery at 2229 South Twelfth street. The officers testified they purchased several rounds of whisky highballs at 30 cents a drink from Hooberry.

Hooberry testified that the store belonged to his brother and that he was having a few drinks from his private stock in the place on a Sunday night when four men came in and insisted on helping him drink his liquor. He said he charged them 25 cents a drink for his whisky, and put a nickel in his brother's till for the soda consumed each time he collected for a drink. He was charged with selling liquor without payment of the tax.

Stassen Criticizes Foreign Policy Record of New G.O.P. Chairman; Will Co-Operate in Campaign

Says He Does Not Consider Selection of Congressman Reece of Tennessee as Declaration of Party on Platform—Senator Morse Asserts Victory Dinner Was 'Flop.'

WASHINGTON, April 2 (AP).

HAROLD E. STASSEN sounded a discordant note today in Republican praises for the Republican National Committee's choice of Representative Carroll Reece of Tennessee as the party's new chairman.

Stassen, who is almost avowedly in the race for the 1948 presidential nomination, said it is "well known that I do not approve of Chairman Reece's stand on many issues in the past."

The former Minnesota Governor's statement left little doubt about his disappointment over the committee's action late yesterday in naming Reece, a close political associate of Senator Robert Taft and former Governor John W. Bricker of Ohio, over two other candidates. Reece succeeds Herbert E. Brownell Jr., who resigned to devote full time to his New York law practice.

With the almost solid backing of southern Republicans, plus some such veterans of political battles as Werner Schroeder of Illinois, Reece won on the third ballot in a torrid committee session.

The 56-year-old Tennesseean, a veteran of nearly 25 years of congressional service, told delegates at a victory dinner last night that he realizes the national chairman "cannot make the Republican party or determine its destinies."

That was the point made by Stassen, who said he did not believe Reece's selection "constitutes a declaration by the Republican party as to its policy or platform."

Senator Wayne Morse, Oregon Republican, said the banquet meeting was "a grand flop."

"If the program, which its leaders announced at the banquet, is to constitute Republican policy during the next two years, the Republican National Committee will re-elect Harry Truman in spite of everything he is doing to defeat himself," Morse asserted.

Stassen to Co-operate.

Stassen said significantly he was prepared to co-operate with Reece in this year's congressional elections. He did not go further than that.

"Of course," Stassen said, "it is well known that I do not approve of Chairman Reece's stand on many issues in the past."

Stassen declined to amplify his remarks, but it was apparent he considers Reece's congressional record on international issues open to question.

Reece's forces, headed by Walter Hallanan, West Virginia committeeman, defeated former Senator John A. Danaher of Connecticut, generally regarded as the choice of Gov. Thomas E. Dewey of New York.

Danaher and John W. Hanes, a North Carolina Democrat-turned-Republican, at one point on the second ballot polled between them a total of 53 votes, enough for election had it been amassed by one individual.

Hanes' candidacy was advanced by Sinclair Weeks of Massachusetts, former National Committee Treasurer and an ardent supporter of the late Wendell L. Willkie. Despite an assertion by former Republican Chairman Harrison E. Spangler that Hanes had been appointed to the Securities and Exchange Commission and to the Treasury by President Roosevelt, Hanes received 22 votes.

Danaher mustered 31 as his top strength, but Reece had 46 on the first ballot, held that on the second and climbed to 58 on the third. This was five more than a majority. The committee promptly made the election unanimous.

In his victory talk to the confident party members, Reece asserted that a "new deal monopoly" has been in charge with resulting "secret" and "bureaucratic" government.

Against Class Division.

"As Republicans, we want labor and agriculture and the people generally to have their full rights," the new chairman said. "But we have got to restore in this nation the doctrine that first of all wage earners and farmers and city folks are all Americans—they all are consumers, they all are citizens under the Constitution.

"It is still not possible to continue this nation free and prosperous and still put class against class, race against race, section against section."

The choice of Reece was approved publicly by Danaher, whose $20,000-a-year job as liaison man between the national committee and minority members of Congress may continue. Hanes was not present to state his views.

Members returned Hallanan, who had been shunted aside at Dewey's request in 1944, to the executive committee. And as chairman of that group they elected Representative Clarence Brown of Ohio, a half-way candidate for the chairmanship who nominated Reece.

Reece, said by friends to be an adroit politician, expects to serve as full-time chairman without pay. He said he will resign his congressional seat to take over immediately. That will leave the line-up in the House: 239 Democrats, 190 Republicans, two minor party members and four vacancies.

Tennessean Gets G. O. P. Post

CARROLL REECE and JOHN A. DANAHER

WASHINGTON, April 2 (AP).

IN becoming Republican national chairman Carroll Reece will give up a congressional seat for which neither Democrat nor Republican has challenged him since 1934.

Reece has represented the first Tennessee district since 1920, except for one term (1930-32) when he was the Republican nominee but was defeated by an independent candidate in the general election.

Although he was not an advocate of the nomination of Thomas E. Dewey in 1944, Reece's district gave about 80 per cent of its vote to the Republican presidential candidate—the highest percentage of any congressional district in the nation.

World War I Hero.

Born on a farm in the great Smoky mountains of East Tennessee, Reece has been a lawyer, teacher, soldier and banker. In World War I he rose from private to battalion commander and received the Distinguished Service Cross, Distinguished Service Medal and Purple Heart decorations from the United States, and the Croix de Guerre with Palm from France.

Long a leader of the Republican party in his state and the south, he came into national party prominence as chairman of the resolutions committee which had the task of bringing accord between congressional leaders and committee members at the 1944 meeting of the national committee.

Reece's district is one of the two out of ten in Tennessee which have been traditionally Republican. It normally gives an overwhelming vote to all Republican candidates in general elections, but in recent years it has given substantial primary votes to the Democratic candidates for statewide offices who have been supported by the dominant organization headed by E. H. Crump and Senator K. D. McKellar.

Minority groups in both the Republican and Democratic parties in Tennessee have charged that the Reece forces had a working alliance with the Crump organization to split the offices.

Cumberland U. Law Degree.

Reece was born at Butler, Tenn., Dec. 22, 1889. He attended Watauga Academy and Carson Newman College, took a law degree from Cumberland University in Tennessee and did advanced work at New York University and the University of London.

He was an instructor at New York University in 1916-17 and then enlisted in the Army, serving in the 26th Division and emerging as commander of the Third Battalion, 102nd Infantry Regiment. For the 1919-20 term, he was director of the School of Commerce, Accounts and Finance in New York University. He obtained a leave of absence from his job to run for Congress in 1920.

Reece was married in 1923 to Louise Despard Goff. Their daughter, Louise Despard Goff Reece, was born in 1928.

His banking interests have spread over the years until at present he is president of three banks, the Carter County Bank of Elizabethton, Tenn.; the First National Bank of Jonesboro, Tenn., and the recently established Sullivan County Bank at Kingsport, Tenn. He also is a director of the Farmers' Bank at Blountville, Tenn.

TRUMAN AGAIN DISAPPROVES PHILIPPINES FIAT MONEY BILL

MANILA, April 2 (AP)—President Truman, in a letter received by commonwealth President Sergio Osmena today repeated White House disapproval of the Philippines fiat money bill on the ground it failed to provide an equitable standard for judgments between debtors and creditors. Truman said he felt a renewed effort should be made to establish such a standard.

Truman wrote Osmena in February that the money bill as passed in Manila would "tend to retard rather than to advance the economic rehabilitation of the Philippine islands." On March 25, Carlos P. Romulo, resident commissioner for the Philippines, relayed Osmena's request that Truman reconsider his disapproval of the bill.

Franco Sets Up Block Against An Invasion

A Correspondent of the New York Herald Tribune and the Post-Dispatch.

ON BOARD U. S. S. MISSOURI AT GIBRALTAR, March 31 (Delayed)

A GROUP of American newspaper correspondents made an invasion of Spain today from the battleship Missouri by special permission of the Spanish authorities. The correspondents did not get far into the interior, but they were able to see some of the preparations Generalissimo Francisco Franco has made against possible revolution within or invasion from without.

(The Missouri, carrying back to Turkey the body of Mehmet Munir Ertegun, late Turkish Ambassador to the United States, left Gibraltar Monday morning en route to Istanbul, an Associated Press dispatch said.)

We crossed the border at La Linea, where Spanish frontier guards studied our passport photographs and looked up our names in an indexed file. Apparently none was on a blacklist, for we were quickly passed through the gates.

In Spain we saw nothing to match the power visible at Gibraltar—the Missouri, the American cruisers Selena and Providence, the American destroyers Glennon, Cone and Power and various British warships, as well as the strongly fortified Rock frowning down on the plains and rolling hills of Andalusia.

As if fearing invasion from the Rock and the beaches, Franco has strung miles of barbed wire and has prepared all manner of pillboxes, tank traps and road blocks. There is no profitable cultivation of the soil apparent for some distance from the Rock. Signs proclaim military zones and warn the public to keep out.

Although it doubtless was the usual quiet, even sleepy, Sunday for the rest of Spain, we saw fairly large groups of soldiers on the move. Some were marching along the narrow macadam highways, some rode in motor trucks and still others were cutting off into woods as if on maneuvers.

MATTER OF FACT

By JOSEPH and STEWART ALSOP
Copyright, 1946

WASHINGTON, April 2.

THERE is trouble in the United Nations Security Council. There is bad trouble at Trieste. There is trouble in Korea, in Austria and in Germany. And now, just to complete the tale of conflicts between this country and the Soviet Union, there has been a sharp dispute in the Far East Council between the American member, Gen. Frank McCoy, and the Soviet representative, Gen. Nicolai Novikov. It was caused by the Soviet effort to put off the Japanese elections, now scheduled for April 10, in order to give left wing Japanese elements time to gain strength. It presages serious trouble over Japan, as is indicated by the sudden barrage of attacks on Gen. MacArthur in the Moscow press.

Such is the unhappy foreground of the world picture. Still in the background, however, is the great issue which will finally determine the nature of Soviet-American relations, and therefore the nature of the world future. That issue is the internationalization of the new weapons. The issue has at last been brilliantly crystalized in the report on international control of atomic energy prepared by the committee headed by Under Secretary of State Dean G. Acheson. The report was the one bright spot of a grim week.

Practical World Government.

The implications of this report are very hard to overstate. The best proof of this is provided by a simple fact. The question of the future of the United Nations has naturally been much discussed by Secretary of State James F. Byrnes and his entourage, while they have been fighting at the Security Council meetings to give to the United Nations real strength and meaning as a world organization. The majority of these men frankly acknowledge that it is not enough merely to insist on the right of small nations to be heard, and to prevent the Soviets from extending the veto power. They believe that the United Nations must eventually acquire certain elements of sovereignty, if it is to be the effective world organization which our policy-makers are struggling to create. They believe that this acquisition of sovereignty by the United Nations must be a gradual and natural growth (for they know only too well the political impracticality of the plans of the "world government" advocates). And they see the most significant of the elements of sovereignty which the United Nations must acquire in the system of atomic energy control so admirably outlined in the Acheson committee report.

Obviously, the United Nations will gain a vital element of sovereignty by establishment under U.N. of an atomic energy authority, to own, operate and control every mine and installation employed in the process of fissionable material, to regulate and control all uses of fissionable material, and to insure against violation of its regulations by international inspection. This is what the Acheson committee report calls for. As conceived by the American policy makers, it would be only the first installment of the elements of sovereignty which the U.N. requires. The other installments would come with settlement of other problems, such as control of the non-atomic new weapons, and general disarmament. But the first installment would always be the most important.

One World Or None.

Unfortunately, however, any sensible man can see the immense gap between writing a report like that of the Acheson committee and putting the report into effect. In the last analysis, the United States can propose, but the Soviet Union will dispose. That is the connection between the foreground and background of the world picture. In the background, the problem of control of the new weapons looms hugely, pointing the lesson of "one world or none." In the foreground, the innumerable troubles with the Soviet Union indicate how far we are from attaining world unity.

These troubles arise, essentially, from a conflict of policy. Present Soviet policy is nationalist and imperialist, which explains everything the Soviets are doing from the Iranian adventure to their effort to extend their United Nations veto. United States policy, though often badly implemented, is fundamentally and sincerely a "one world" policy. The final test between the two policies is likely to come, and ought to come, when the effort is made to solve the basic problem of control of the new weapons—which is the problem that makes "one

Iran Anxious To Make Own Deal With Reds

People Recall Old Friendship, Oppose Providing U.N.O. Testing Ground.

By PAUL GHALI
The Chicago Daily News-Post-Dispatch Special Radio. Copyright, 1946.

TEHRAN, April 2

LET Turkey be the guinea pig for testing American-British-Russian relations. Iran doesn't want to be.

Iran remembers its good-neighbor policy with Russia under the czar. It means to revert to that policy and is even ready to grant oil concessions to achieve that.

Above all Iran does not intend to let the United Nations ruin its chances of coming to an agreement with Russia—at this stage at least.

Maybe America is solidly behind Iran and will not let Russia play havoc with its independence. But after all America is far away, while Russia is a neighbor.

While the eyes and ears of the world are turned toward Tehran, political activities in the Iranian capital these days are centered within the British and Russian Embassy compounds and the thick-carpeted offices of Premier Ahmed Qavam.

All this does not mean that Iran is ready to sacrifice its independence to Russian domination. The country's public opinion is behind its burly, dark-spectacled, gray-haired 70-year-old Premier. The Leftists are with him because he placates Russia; the rightists, because they are afraid of Russia; the Centrists, because they are traditionally behind the Government.

No written agreement concerning the withdrawal of Russian troops has been signed, but many observers feel that Qavam has at least given verbal assurances to Moscow.

The premier is in an excellent position to negotiate with the Russians. He has the moral support of the U.N.O. Also he is backed by two Iranian laws. One forbids the Premier to grant oil concessions to foreign powers. The other states that no elections can be held so long as the country is occupied by foreign troops.

Probably Qavam answered Russia's demands by assuring it that he would do his best once a Parliament had been elected, but that he could not act before the country had been evacuated.

NAVY LISTENS IN ON SOVIET RADIO TO GET WEATHER DATA

WASHINGTON, April 2 (AP)—The Navy forecasts Pacific ocean weather by listening in on Russia's meteorological broadcasts.

Capt. H. T. Orville of the Navy's weather service said today that termination of the plan which gave the United States a Navy aerological mission in Siberia had created no serious difficulties.

Monitor stations at Adak, in the Aleutians, Guam, Japan and Shanghai now pick up the Russian weather radio broadcasts and incorporate the data needed for use by surface or air craft in the Pacific weather plot.

The Russian broadcasts are sent in internationally recognized symbols. The system works both ways—Russia uses weather information needed for its continental forecast from broadcasts of United States weather material reported by stations in Greenland and Iceland.

Orville said Pacific forecasts are of particular value now because of the presence of large numbers of naval ships and aircraft in that ocean. The best possible forecasts also are needed in the extensive mine-sweeping still being done throughout the western and central Pacific.

In addition to monitoring the Siberian broadcasts, Orville said, the Navy checks details through two points of contact with the Russians, Soviet liaison officers stationed here and United States Weather Bureau men attached to the American embassy in Moscow.

CHURCHES IN U.S., BRITISH AREA AID GERMANS IN SOVIET ZONE

BERN, Switzerland, April 2 (AP)—German churches in the American and British zones have collected 20,000 tons of food and clothing for refugees and German civilians in the Russian zone, the Rev. Eugen Gerstenmaier, German delegate to the Reconstruction Conference of the World Council of Churches, said yesterday.

He told a press conference that German churches had collected 30,000,000 marks ($300,000) for relief in the various zones.

MAC ARTHUR URGES CHAPLAINS TO GUIDE TROOPS IN MORALS

Says Home Folks Fear There Is Widespread Immorality in Occupying Forces.

TOKYO, April 2 (AP)—Gen. Douglas MacArthur called on Army chaplains in Japan today to "exert strong and direct moral leadership" over occupation troops, declaring that some Americans feared there was widespread immorality on the part of the occupying forces.

"On several occasions, I have taken the opportunity to commend publicly the high standard maintained by our forces engaged in the occupation, and I have seen nothing to discount that view," Gen. MacArthur said. "I have, however, recently received letters from American homes expressing grave concern and deep distress over published reports suggestive of an existing widespread, promiscuous relationship between members of the occupying forces and Japanese women of immoral character."

He said measures had been taken to curb prostitution and to provide troops with healthy recreation, but that moral leadership also was necessary.

An order barring all social contact with the Japanese people would be useless, Gen. MacArthur added.

U.S. GIVING UP BASES IN CUBA BUILT IN WAR

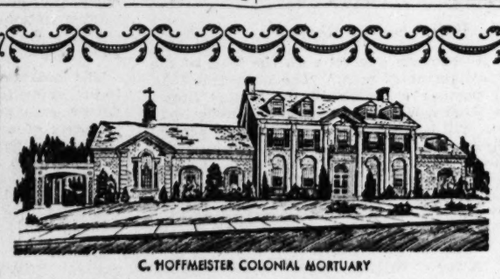

WASHINGTON, April 2 (UP)—Secretary of State James F. Byrnes has notified Cuba that the United States is giving up all the bases built on the island during the war.

Although the United States is entitled to keep the bases until six months after hostilities are formally concluded, it agreed to give them up May 20, forty-fourth anniversary of the proclamation of Cuban independence in 1902.

LETTERS FROM THE PEOPLE

Ring Around the Rosy

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch:

I have read with interest the columns on strikes, pay raises, labor-management warfare, etc. Perhaps soon a semblance of peace will come and strikers will go home with fatter pay envelopes. Perhaps they will even approximate the losses of payless strike days and dwindling bank accounts.

Of course, we all know that these people who spoke so eloquently on the increased cost of living and on the necessity of better wages also realize that these same factors play into the life of what they term the "white collar worker" or the professional person. So, with extreme optimism, we are looking forward to the day when these same people will rally around the teachers, lawyers, doctors, ministers, yes, and newspaper editors, and force upon them additional take-home pay.

The wage-increasers have stated their case so well that we know they understand the needs on the other side of the fence and will want now to play fair when fees for professional services are raised proportionately to the raises received by them. Of course, prices will go up proportionately also, so you won't buy any more than before. But think of the fun it will be to be able to paper your walls with greenbacks, to carry a briefcase full of money to the drugstore for some shaving cream! Why, you will even be able to light cigars with dollar bills again!

School Board Junket

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch:

Once again the Board of Education has decided to dip in the public trough, to the tune of $10,000 to study methods of financing building programs.

St. Louis has many competent firms who would be more than pleased to handle the matter. I join Blanche Jansen in suggesting the board put Dr. Gildea's report in practice. That would save time along with the $10,000.

P. J. S.

C'est Moi, Monsieur

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch:

To find fault with "This is me," except by the most ignorant of pedants, is, I believe, of quite recent usage.

Correct usage is judged first by the custom of well-educated people. A well-educated man may occasionally make a slip, as when Mr. Gladstone occasioned roars of laughter in the House of Commons by pronouncing "sugar" with the "u" as in "but." And though Mr. Gladstone stuck to his guns—"Sugar, Mr. Speaker, I repeat it, Sir, sugar"—nobody took him seriously, and my guess is that when later he asked his wife for sugar at the tea table, he pronounced the word in the conventional way.

Al Smith, of course, always said "radio" with a short "a." Usage would not defend this, but he might have found a pedant to defend it by reference to the Latin.

But Mr. Churchill's use of the pronoun "me" disjunctively was, until quite recently, the more common usage, and is still frequent among educated people. Dr. Murray, editor in chief of the New English ("Oxford") Dictionary, explained the usage many years ago. "Me," he told us, is not only the accusative of the conjunctive personal pronoun "I"; it is also both nominative and accusative of the disjunctive personal pronoun, equivalent to the French "moi."

Ire in University City

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch:

I wonder why it is that we, the people of University City, are consulted and asked to vote on an increase in salary for our public school teachers, and why we are not asked to vote on a $93,000 expenditure for a new golf course.

It's pretty difficult to explain to a returned service man who can't get a place to live, and it's even tougher trying to explain to families who have doubled up with relatives until the housing shortage eases up. Why weren't we asked about it?

Why hasn't the money been used for a housing project or at least the beginnings of one? It doesn't make sense to me. I'm burned up, and I have the comfortable feeling that I'm not alone.

What Reduced Rates?

According to the advertisement, the present urban residential rate is 5 cents for the first 32 kilowatt-hours and 2½ cents for the next 168. That makes the bill $3.30 for 100 KWH. The advertised proposed rates would make 100 KWH cost $3.20, or 10 cents less.

However, the residential schedule already in effect and printed on a bill I received Saturday is 4½ cents for the first 25 KWH, 2½ for the next 150 and 1½ for consumption over 175 KWH—which works out to $3.00 for 100 KWH.

So I am paying 20 cents less now than under the proposed reduction, and I am also getting free bulb renewal, which is to be eliminated. Also note that the rate I am paying differs from the one stated in the advertisement. Why?

The Knife for Stassen?

What is happening to the candidacy of Harold E. Stassen, who, as it happens, will speak in St. Louis tomorrow evening? Is this young, progressive and dynamic Republican leader already being marked for slaughter by the Old Guard? Will this be Task No. 1 of B. Carroll Reece, who was elected yesterday as chairman of the Republican National Committee?

It was announced last week that Mr. Stassen, realizing he can expect little help from the present Republican organization, has started an active fight over the 1948 presidential platform and nomination.

To this end he is planning to create a progressive group to be known as "The Republican Open Forum." Its purpose will be to set up local forums throughout the country for active participation by rank-and-file Republicans, especially college students and veterans, in the formation of party policies.

It is somewhat ironic that a Republican leader of Mr. Stassen's popularity and stature should feel himself compelled to adopt an independent course of this nature. The suspicion naturally arises that the Old Guard, sensing in Stassen a man who would refuse to do its bidding, is already interested in killing off his candidacy.

The situation is reminiscent of the knife-Willkie movement by the Old Guard that occurred prior to the 1944 Republican convention. Willkie had grown enormously in independence and in philosophy since 1940 when he was first nominated. His book, "One World," showed a magnificent understanding of the problems that would confront us and have actually confronted us since the war ended. In many domestic matters he had spoken freely, sensibly and progressively. Willkie sensed that changing times demanded a new type of Republican leadership.

The analogy between Willkie and Stassen, while not perfect, is interesting. Stassen years ago declared himself in favor of a strong one-world organization to prevent war. He played a distinguished part in drafting the San Francisco Charter as a member of the American delegation. His views on domestic affairs, as recently reprinted on this page from an article in the American Magazine, while far from radical, do show his strong feeling that the Republican party must recast itself in harmony with the times.

Evidently the Old Guard wants no dynamic leadership. It prefers party rule by the oligarchy of vested interests that has characterized its composition for generations. If we glance at the history of the Republican party since its glorious beginnings in Lincoln's day, we find that its choices for President have been mostly second- or third-rate men. Men like Grant, Hayes, Harrison, McKinley, Taft, Harding and Coolidge were not great leaders. The single exception in a long roll of G. O. P. presidential mediocrities was Theodore Roosevelt, and he entered the White House as a result of McKinley's assassination after the Old Guard thought they had him carefully stowed away in the vice-presidency.

In 1946, as in preceding presidential years, the Old Guard evidently prefers to sit back and wait for Democratic mistakes to make an easy victory for them. They would prefer to nominate a second-, third- or fourth-rater such as Bricker of Ohio than to go forward under the bold leadership of men like Stassen.

It may be that the Truman Administration will be so unpopular by 1948 that any Republican can win, but it would be an empty, sterile and only temporary victory for the Republicans if the successor to Truman were not a man with strong qualities of leadership, the independence of mind and the progressive point of view that are demanded in this fateful era.

Success for the Legislature

The Missouri Legislature has completed a major part of reconstructing State Government to accord with the new Constitution. This was a grinding job. It was largely unspectacular and did not always command public attention. But it was done, and done well.

The Constitutional Convention required a little more than a year to draw up the new charter of the State. In a slightly longer length of time, the Legislature has achieved the difficult goal of rewriting and consolidating the bulk of state law to meet new constitutional requirements. Sometimes one paragraph in the new Constitution was the source of 200 new or revised sections of law. Between 5000 and 6000 sections had to be altered.

The Legislature did its work despite handicaps. It was primarily a wartime Legislature, deprived of many young and capable members. It lacked sufficient legislative advisers because available salaries were no inducement to men with necessary legislative experience. Consequently, the burden fell on older legislators, many of whom worked in and out of recess to complete committee assignments.

Even now the reorganization of State Government and law is not entirely complete. Neither is it perfect. But the Legislature and all its members deserve Missouri's thanks for what must often have seemed a thankless task.

For Continuing a Nuisance

Very soon—this week, perhaps, as the House Banking Committee works in private—the fate of price control after June 30 will be settled. As decision draws near, the outlook is brighter for the inflationary lobbyists than for the American people.

The minimum-wage bill is a telling straw. President Truman announced he would have to veto it if it carried a rider to push agricultural commodity price goals, according to Secretary Anderson's estimate, 33 per cent higher. The President is right, but the Senate included the rider anyhow. There is justice in increasing the wage floor, which benefits low-paid workers who have suffered acutely with the rise of prices. But farmers are not suffering. They are the most prosperous in 25 years, and they have a pledge of Government price protection for two years after peace is proclaimed. Nevertheless, the farm bloc proposes to hook the boost-parity amendment to the OPA extension, which the President cannot afford to veto.

It appears, too, that Congress will write a new "parity" in place of the 1936-39 base for business profits. With wages, prices and living costs rising, it is both just and necessary for production that profits be allowed moderate increases. What the right-wing coalition intends, however, is not moderate adjustment. It intends, apparently, to adopt the NAM-National Association of Real Estate Boards policy against any price controls. Failing that, it will try for litigation-inviting amendments under which, for all practical purposes, OPA would become a dead letter.

If this were simply a matter of saving OPA, then we could do without OPA. OPA is a nuisance. But it is a necessary nuisance.

"Death Sentence" Upheld

Once it mustered a quorum, the Supreme Court made an end of the North American Co. divestment case with little apparent travail. By a 6-to-0 decision which would undoubtedly have been 9-to-0 if three Justices had not been previously involved in the Government's side of the case, the court sustained the SEC's ruling that North American shall limit its investment to the integrated operations of Union Electric.

The Government argued a close analogy between the Sherman and Holding Company acts. "I think," Chief Justice Stone remarked, "that is the crux of your case." Congress does have the power to free commerce from undue restraint, whether the threat be by conspiracy of nominal competitors or by the manipulation of stock interests. Excessive aggregations of economic power are contrary to American policy—a principle which might, indeed, if Congress so chose, be broadened to include the doings of John L. Lewis.

That the holding companies worked to evil ends is minutely documented. In their heyday, before the Insull crash, they systematically bought the votes of legislators and opinions of professors. With very minor investment, they acquired control of operating companies, diluted the assets with unparalleled boldness and unloaded the cost on consumers and unsuspecting "preferred" stockholders alike. The shame is that they were not curbed long before 1935.

As to North American as a particular holding company, its connection with the Union Electric slush fund scandal has never been legally established. However, Union Electric then, as now, was under North American's control. Furthermore, the SEC wanted to prosecute a former North American president for perjury in that case, and Frank J. Boehm, who was sent to prison, has entered suit charging North American with responsibility for his plight.

North American, moreover, has been in control during the long period when Union Electric, contrary to a striking industry-wide trend, has been laggard in reducing rates. It is in control today, and Union's proposed reduction is meager.

It is good news to St. Louis, therefore, that North American must now reduce to the size of Union Electric, for, in doing so, it will become a complete superfluity and ripe for dissolution. Indeed, North American itself proposes to be out of Union Electric in a few years. Its departure, at long last, should free Union's able management to do the aggressive kind of public service job which will not be done so long as the control is wielded by men who regard it as only an avenue of investment.

Freedom for the Thought We Hate

The veterans who invaded Kiel Auditorium in an attempt to break up the meeting of Gerald L. K. Smith were guilty of an intolerable action. This is a democracy. The Constitution provides for free speech to Gerald L. K. Smith or anyone else. Smith rented the hall in due form and should have been safeguarded in the right to use it. Smith is a Fascist, a rabble-rouser, a race-hater, an evil figure. But the veterans' exhibition last night is no way to combat his influence.

The Seniority Issue

The Post-Dispatch poll of congressional committee chairmen strongly suggests why the La Follette-Monroney report stayed so studiously off the chairman-by-seniority evil. The authors probably assumed the report would otherwise be filed unheard. Senator Elbert Thomas, one of the best minds in the Senate, as much as says so.

Only a couple of the respondents think that chairmen by seniority is wholly satisfactory. Nearly all, however, expressed seemingly respectable objections to the alternatives of designation by the presiding officer or election by the membership. The former would rather uniformly give these strategic posts to Administration stalwarts, which would tend either to give the President too great a power in Congress or to alienate chairmen from members. The latter would cause politicking within Congress itself for position, and it could become decidedly disruptive.

There remains, however, the possibility of rotating chairmanships, which Congressman Cochran in his wisdom expressly proposes. Rotation would break the dictatorial power of seniority chairmen. It would engender a wider participation of non-chairmen members in committee business, for their opinions would then have an efficacy approaching the chairman's. It is just such a reason, in fact, that the Interstate Commerce Commission and the instruction departments of progressive colleges have adopted rotation—and the trend is still in that direction.

As Elbert Thomas implies, it may be unwise to pursue the chairmanship question until the La Follette-Monroney report is secured in practice. Assuredly, none the less, through rotation or some other device for greater efficiency and democracy in Congress, it is a second overdue step in congressional reform.

In Memoriam Captain Jinks

If there are any weather-beaten veterans of the horse cavalry confined in the Pentagon building these days, they probably are as sad-faced as an old war horse turned out to pasture. The War Department is reported to have made up its mind to abolish the cavalry.

The decision concludes an era in which efficiency has killed much military romance. This is period to the gay tradition of "Light-Horse Harry" Lee, Jeb Stuart and Sheridan. It is anticlimax to the epic of Captain Jinks of the Horse Marines, who fed his horse on corn and beans and kissed the ladies in their teens, all for love of the Army.

Despite nostalgia for pennon and saber, however, the dissolution of the equine squadron is already a virtual fact. A General returning from China said the requiem a few days ago, when eager but dismounted cavalrymen asked him how he'd found the horses overseas. He replied wryly that he hadn't found them very tasty.

"AH, ANOTHER UPSTART"

One Practical Chance—the UNO

The Mirror of Public Opinion

Impractical evangelists for world government undermine confidence in UNO, statesman says; United States and other nations will not abandon sovereignty; San Francisco Charter offers the one way to secure peace and to permit gradual perfection of international order.

Sumner Welles, Former Under Secretary of State, in the American Scholar

The controversy still rages over the course which the American people should take in view of the release of atomic energy. Some of us believe that the one hope for world peace lies in our exercising every iota of our national influence in making the United Nations Organization succeed. Others vehemently assert that, notwithstanding the agreements reached at San Francisco, the United Nations Charter must be amended even before it has had time to function.

The most clamorous outcry of all comes from those who demand that the United Nations Organization should immediately be thrown upon the junk heap of discarded experiments in international organization, and be replaced with a world government. The type of world government generally sponsored by those who favor the scrapping of the United Nations Organization is some form of federal government responsive to a parliament elected by the peoples of all nations.

It would be well if the proponents of this program for immediate world government limited their side of the debate to a discussion of the practical possibilities of establishing such a world government rather than to the effort to undermine popular confidence in the efficacy of the United Nations Organization.

No Reference to Reality

No one can quarrel with the ideal of the "parliament of man." The danger is that, if popular attention in the United States is fixed solely upon that ideal, public opinion will be inclined to lose sight of certain stark realities in the present-day world. Even the most fervent evangelists of world government must admit that no world government can be successfully established unless the Soviet Union, Great Britain and the United States jointly participate in its creation.

In Great Britain, leaders in both the Labor and Conservative parties have expressed the hope that the new international organization may eventually more closely approximate a world government than an alliance of states, each insistent upon the retention of its undiminished sovereignty. There is no indication available, however, that the British Government has any illusions that such an ideal can be realized within the near future.

The Union of Soviet Socialist Republics is as always far more precise. Its voice is trenchant. The reaction of the Soviet Union to world government is a blunt "no."

The official Soviet press has made it unmistakably clear that the Soviet Government will resolutely oppose any form of international organization other than that agreed upon at San Francisco. In particular, it opposes any project for world government.

And how about the United States of America? Have the supporters of the project for world government any reason to believe that a majority of the American people would be willing, with world conditions what they are at present, to subordinate the control of American self-defense and of American foreign policy to the parliament of a world government?

Question of Senate Approval

Can they conceive of the United States Senate now ratifying an international agreement through which the United States would abandon its sovereignty? Are they aware of the fact that the United States Senate would not have ratified the present Charter of the United Nations Organization unless that Charter had provided a veto right for the major powers?

Have the proponents of world government any proof that the peoples of the smaller nations would at this juncture subordinate their individual rights as independent peoples to a world government?

The problem which humanity confronts is not going to be solved by any academic debate with respect to the theoretical superiority of a world government over the United Nations Organization. For there is today not the faintest hope of securing the agreement of the two most powerful nations of the earth, let alone that of the 49 other members of the United Nations, to participate in any kind of world government.

But we have the United Nations Organization. Fifty-one nations have joined it. It affords the one practical chance we possess to secure world peace, human freedom and a decent international order. If the people of the United States do not give it their unflinching and untiring support, it will probably not succeed.

In our own interest we must make it succeed. If it does succeed, we will later possess every opportunity to bring about its gradual perfection, and, as the years pass, to make of it an organization which more nearly approaches the ideal which the adherents of world government now urge upon us.

We Must Hurry, Hurry

From the Nashville Tennessean.

What injury has been suffered by the cause of international co-operation through the long delay in the appointment of the American member of the UNO Atomic Energy Commission has to a great extent been repaired by President Truman's choice of the venerable Bernard M. Baruch to the post.

It will now be up to Mr. Baruch to try to make up for the lapse of time which will have intervened between the Truman-Attlee-King declaration and the formal constitution of the 12-man commission. Inasmuch as we possess the only supply of bombs and the only means of making them, the initiative has rested with us.

Mr. Baruch has a rare opportunity to cap a long and successful career by leading the commission to a sound solution of the atomic bomb. But what the elder statesman had to say about production licking inflation applies with equal force to his new assignment—we must "hurry, hurry, hurry."

Criticism of Our Policy In Preserving the Mikado

"Dragon in the Dust," by Post Wheeler. (Marcel Rodd Co., New York.)

In ornate and distinctly passionate language, Mr. Wheeler takes strenuous exception to the American policy of carrying on occupation activities in Japan, as the Washington directive to MacArthur put it, "through Japanese governmental machinery and agencies, including the Emperor" (emphasis supplied by Wheeler).

His argument is encompassed in two pages of allegory, "The Jewel in the Dragon's Head," at the beginning of his book. The jewel, of course, is the Emperor in his role as the divine head of the Shinto religion. So long as the jewel remains, asks the writer, "will not his teeth and claws grow again?"

* * *

Wheeler's concern is with the use of Shintoism as an instrument of the rulers of Japan in their bid for world conquest, the counterpart of the super-race myth of Nazism. He points out that "a hundred years ago the Shinto was a fragmentary assemblage of primeval folklore, with no bearing on the nation's ethics or ambitions, a fable smiled at by Japan's scholars." He traces the transformation of this folklore into a documentation of the Japanese divine right to rule.

The occupation, from all accounts, goes moderately well. As Owen Lattimore pointed out recently in the Post-Dispatch, the Japanese heard the Emperor in a nation-wide broadcast for the first time in history as the voice of defeat. One suspects that the word will get around that Shintoism is a hollow shell.

* * *

Wheeler, a former representative of the State Department in Japan and elsewhere, sketches the plottings of the Nipponese military clique, with the advantages given it by the Japanese Constitution, to expand the Empire. Along with Shintoism, one discovers, there was the more direct argument of a knife between the ribs for such liberals as Japan could boast.

Some of the passages have an E. Phillips Oppenheim flavor. One of the best is Wheeler's tracing of how Yamagata had purchased the fall of Port Arthur from three Russian officers in the Russo-Japanese War. Wheeler, unhappily, reports on one page that the three Russians betrayed Port Arthur for "no personal gain." On the succeeding page, he reports that they had been "promised the astounding sum of 138,000,000 rubles, more than $65,000,000, more than £13,000,000 sterling!"

A Clarifying Book on Religion.

"The Light of Faith," by Albert W. Palmer. (Macmillan Co., New York.)

Here is a light for laymen that doesn't flicker. It is offered as the author's free and unfettered religious convictions, without any silent reservations, hidden inhibitions or outside control. It faces problems fearlessly and solves them clearly, unclouded by any lingering allegiance to traditional interpretations and doctrinal formulas. It is not contentious or disruptive. It is bold and forthright but reverential. It cuts no corners and dodges no difficulties.

The book is not the work of an iconoclast, but of a man who has been a Congregational minister for over 40 years and for over 15 years has been president of the Chicago Theological Seminary. In his book he has undertaken to state "in direct and normal human language, free from all technical jargon or professional shorthand, the fundamental truths of a modern Christian faith."

DOROTHY THOMPSON

Nightmares and Daydreams

SOONER or later we shall have to force our minds away from the empty slogans that are passing for thinking. We have based all our hopes for peace on UNO. Yet every meeting produces a fresh crisis and an insoluble dilemma. Each issue is argued pro and con in a world-wide press and radio war of nerves, but we do not face the reality, seen in advance by some sober, but unlistened-to critics, that these crises are inevitable.

They are in the nature of the so-called peace structure of UNO itself, which has taken on the sanctity of a fetish. If an organization is based on the sands of false assumptions, it will not work no matter how great an Elijah chorus chants its praise, any more than an improperly constructed engine will run by verbal exhortation.

Three Assumptions.

The main assumption of the San Francisco Charter was that three great powers, one of them embodying a totally different concept of civilization from the others, can remain "united" without putting their sovereign interests in obedience to a clearly established law of nations. For this assumption there is no basis in reason or historical experience. No alliance of great powers has ever endured except as a defense against actual or potential enemies. The enemy is the only cement.

The second assumption was that these particular great powers are "peace-loving." For this there is neither historical nor rational evidence. A generation ago, imperial Russia played a major role in provoking World War I, according, at least, to the documents published by its revolutionary heir, the Soviet Union. The entire Communist philosophy is based on war—on the struggle for power. And no one can foresee what circumstances and movements within any country may change it, at any time, from a pacifist to a belligerent and expansionist frame of mind.

The third assumption was that all three powers were satisfied by and large with the pre-war status quo and the equilibrium of power relations among themselves. That was, from the beginning, a pure wish-dream with no foundation even in probability.

Needed: World Law.

The destruction of the power of the mighty Axis and its satellites and the failure to reconstitute that world in a manner that would neutralize their assets, opened an epochal opportunity for adding the assets to one or the other of the Allies. When a rich man dies without a will, has there ever been "unity" among the contending heirs?

A world order capable of preserving civilization can be created only on the basis of obedience to universal law, clearly defined, to which every issue is referred, and with organs of adjudication and enforcement, not of peace, but of law. Otherwise the most dynamic of the great powers will push for the elimination of the others to the one world of a single authority, extending itself by acquisition of the power-assets of the defeated and the weak, to the point of war, or to the point where its rivals capitulate before an overwhelming consolidation of superior force.

There is no world order, because there is no law and no stakeholder, nor does UNO even create the mechanism for working in this direction. Mr. Gromyko acted before the Security Council like the representative of a "herrenvolk." He was caught in a lie, and he did not even attempt to make the concession to truth of trying to support the unveracity.

He described as an existing understanding one he hopes to get if the rest of the world will grant his Government time—and which it will get if the Iranian Government sees that it is only a pawn. Small countries have lost faith in the promises of Western democracies. None again is going to close other exits on mere faith.

Struggle Would Shift.

Now, in the midst of such a struggle, absolutely inevitable in a totally lawless world, a report is released by the State Department to Congress urging the creation of a world-wide technological monopoly of atomic energy under this self-same, unreformed UNO. The monopoly would build nuclear fission plants around the world, to offset those in the U.S.A. It would take over ownership of our atomic plants and operate them with persons who "would rise above national affinities"—like the members of the International Soviet party, perhaps!

The controllers of such a monopoly would be the dictators of the world. The struggle for power exemplified in this session of UNO would then, of course, center in a struggle for the control of the monopoly of the instruments of life and death, for human civilizations. Every life in the world and all the freedoms of civilizations would depend on that monopoly being in the hands, not of normal human beings, but of gods!

We shall not escape reality by thus trying to turn a nightmare into an Elysian daydream. Wisdom begins with facing the facts, the first of which is that UNO is a house built on the shifting sands of impetuous, childish assumptions.

MARQUIS CHILDS

Needed: A Good Chart of Action

WHAT is happening in the United Nations Security Council must be considered as part of the whole complex tangle of world relationships. The United Nations meeting has provided a new framework for the quarrel between Russia, on the one hand, and Britain and the United States on the other.

It was the misfortune of the United Nations to inherit that quarrel at the outset. But that could hardly have been averted if the new organization was to have any reality.

The ground on which Secretary Byrnes stood was sound. If small nations cannot even present their grievances, then the UNO is an empty shell.

Again, it was the misfortune of the UNO that the test came over a small nation which is a backward, feudal country torn by internal dissensions. That does not, however, alter the basic principles under which the Iranian case was raised.

The Danish Incident.

Toward the end of the conquest of Germany, Soviet forces moved onto the island of Bornholm in the Baltic. Bornholm is a Danish island commanding the approaches to both Denmark and Sweden.

How long did the Russians mean to occupy Bornholm? That was the question which caused shivers of apprehension throughout Scandinavia. If the Russians were to remain there permanently, then the Baltic would indeed be a Soviet lake and Denmark and Sweden would live constantly under the gun.

The Danish Government not so long ago addressed a tactful question to Moscow. Shortly thereafter, Soviet troops began to leave Bornholm. The evacuation is progressing and Danish troops are now beginning to occupy the island.

UNO's Negativism.

If the issue before the Security Council had been Denmark instead of Iran, the principle would have been much clearer. Denmark is an advanced democracy. The Danish people have stood united throughout the war. But Iran or Denmark, the cause is the same. It is the right of small nations to independence and integrity.

What has characterized the UNO in the months of its awkward, mewling infancy is its negativism. It has seemed to stand before the world for the sole purpose of saying no.

You can argue, and perhaps rightly, that the organization is too new to expect positive, constructive action from it. That answer may do for the present. It will not suffice for long.

If the United Nations Organization seems to exist merely to preserve the world as it is, then inevitably it will fail. If it is no more than a policeman with a stick to keep the status quo in every corner, then it will go down.

What the moment desperately needs is creative, courageous thinking that goes beyond the mere do's and don't's of things as they are. That is the kind of thinking which went into the report by the State Department's committee of experts on atomic control. It is this kind of trail-blazing which the UNO must do if it is to grow up into a vigorous, effective organization.

The Iranian case points up that need as well as any issue could. One thing is as clear as day, and that is that Iran will not remain what it is for long.

Britain's Signal.

In this connection, a significant news story recently came from the United Press in London. It quoted a British Foreign Office "spokesman" as saying that Britain would like to see Iran's "unexploited oil resources" placed under international control.

This is rather vague. Would "unexploited oil resources" include the vast undeveloped reserves held by the Anglo-Iranian oil company? Or would they include only those reserves that have not yet been staked out by any of the great powers?

But the important fact is that the British have clearly signaled their desires. This may have been intended to put the initiative up to us. If it is to have any chance of succeeding, it must come quickly. Some such move should have been made months ago, if only as evidence of the intention of Britain and America to try to remove one of the chief sources of trouble in the Middle East.

The United States State Department and the British Foreign Office have drifted into the current crisis as one drifts in a becalmed sailboat. What is needed in the skipper's cabin is a good chart of action.

MEETING OF CIVIC GROUP

Edward Staples, executive director of the Missouri Public Expenditure Survey, will speak on the subject, "Government Today Calls for Citizen Participation," at a dinner and meeting of the Civic League of Business and Professional Women of St. Louis beginning at 6 p.m. tomorrow at the DeSoto Hotel.

Other speakers at the meeting will include James P. Finnegan, collector of internal revenue, and City Collector Richard E. Gruner, who will describe the functions of their respective offices.

DRAFT CONTINUATION VITAL, GENERAL SAYS

Paul, Army Personnel Chief, Stops Here—Cites Big Manpower Problem.

Continuation of the draft is necessary as a form of insurance for this country, Maj. Gen. Willard S. Paul, chief of Army personnel, said yesterday when he stopped off in St. Louis on a trip to Fort Leavenworth and Fort Riley, Kan.

"I don't see how any reasonable person can be against selective service," the general said. "If we don't keep it up we are taking a long gamble."

Gen. Paul, whose job is to supply the various departments of the Army with men they request, said draft boards throughout the country had been asked to supply 50,000 men a month since V-J day but had fallen far short of their quota. To make up the deficiency, he said, this month he has asked that 125,000 men be inducted into the service.

"In order to fill our needs," he said, "we are now taking men with flat feet or other minor ailments who can be used for the jobs that have to be done. We will have to have them because we have cut our requirements to the bone."

In the event that selective service is discontinued, Gen. Paul added, the Army will have to increase its rate of pay and provide other inducements so that it will be able to compete with industry in offering jobs. He estimated that 6,700,000 men were discharged from service by March 15, and said it was planned to reduce Army personnel to 1,550,000 men by July 1.

A majority of the men now being inducted are being used to replace veterans overseas eligible for discharge. Soldiers with 45 points or two and one half years service as of April 30 and with 40 points or two years service as of June 30 will be released, he said.

During his brief stop here, Gen. Paul inspected the Army radio school at Scott Field and the records center at 4300 Goodfellow boulevard. He said he found the labor market in St. Louis well suited to the Army's needs since most of the skilled employes sought were available in this area.

The general was wearing the YD insignia of the Twenty-sixth (Yankee) Infantry Division, which he commanded from August, 1944, until June last year when he was transferred to Supreme Headquarters of the Allied Expeditionary Forces at Frankfurt, Germany. The division went into action as part of the Third Army in October, 1944, took part in the Battle of the Bulge and fought in Germany, Austria and Czechoslovakia.

He left last night to address the Command and General Staff School in Fort Leavenworth and will go from there to Fort Riley to attend ceremonies dedicating a memorial to Gen. George S. Patton.

WALLACE BEERY GOES ON WITH SHOW AFTER BROTHER DIES

HOLLYWOOD, April 2 (AP)—Wallace Beery, his voice showing none of the tears that were in his eyes, upheld again last night the theatrical tradition that the show must go on.

Only hours after his elder brother, Noah, died in his arms of a heart attack, Wallace and his adopted daughter, Carol Ann, made a scheduled radio broadcast of "Barnacle Bill," with another actor in the role Noah was to have played.

The brothers, always close, had parallel careers for many years, both on the stage and in films. Their last joint film appearance was last year in "this man's Navy."

Noah, 63 years old, was stricken here while on a two-week vacation from "Up in Central Park," the hit New York musical in which he has played Boss Tweed. Sunday night he attended Wallace's sixtieth birthday party.

Tomorrow's Events

9 a. m. to 6 p. m.—Art work of St. Louis and county students will be displayed at the convention of the Western Arts Association at Hotel Jefferson. J. H. Furbay, lecturer and traveler, will speak on "This Business of Global Living in the Air Age" at the morning session, and Dr. Wesley Peik, dean of the college of education of the University of Minnesota, will discuss "The Implication of World Affairs on Education" at the afternoon meeting.

8:15 p. m.—Discussion groups of the Third Baptist Church, 620 North Grand boulevard, will sponsor an open forum on the subject of relief and rehabilitation in Europe.

PLAYWRIGHT EDWARD SHELDON DIES AFTER 23-YEAR ILLNESS

NEW YORK, April 2 (AP) — Edward Brewster Sheldon, playwright until he was stricken with a strange ailment 23 years ago, died yesterday. The illness paralyzed Sheldon and he remained in bed until the end of his life—the last 15 years without eyesight. He was 60 years old.

His last play on Broadway was "Dishonored Lady," in 1930.

Sheldon's first play, "Salvation Nell," was produced in 1908, starring Minnie Maddern Fiske. At the time Sheldon had just received his M.A. at Harvard. Other hits were "The Nigger," "The Jest," "Lulu Belle" and "Romance," one of the greatest financial successes in stage history.

ARTEMUS A. ROWE DIES AT 77

Artemus A. Rowe, who retired in 1938 as a Post Office inspector after 41 years in the mail service, died of a cerebral hemorrhage last night at his home, 6159 McPherson avenue. He was 77 years old.

Funeral services will be held Thursday at 2 p.m. at Alexander and Sons' undertaging establishment, 6175 Delmar boulevard. Burial will be in Oak Grove cemetery. He is survived by his wife, Hope Walling Rowe, and a daughter, Miss Ruth Rowe.

Princess Elizabeth Goes to Play.

LONDON, April 2 (AP)—Princess Elizabeth, with a party of six including Prince Philip of Greece, saw the John Patrick play, "The Hasty Heart," last night.

5700 SERVICE MEN ON SHIPS DUE TODAY

Two Vessels With French War Wives, Children Scheduled to Dock.

NEW YORK, April 2 (AP) — Ten transports, carrying 5476 service personnel, were scheduled to arrive today at two west coast ports. One vessel with 230 troops is due at New York, bringing the total for the day to more than 5700.

Ships and units arriving:

At New York—George Elliot from Oahu, 230 miscellaneous troops. Brazil from Le Havre, 414 French war brides and 47 children. Zebulon B. Vance from Le Havre, 448 French war brides and 35 children.

At San Diego—Three LSTs with 182 miscellaneous Navy and Marine personnel.

At San Francisco—Miscellaneous on following vessels: Bingham from Samar, 2000 Navy; Gen. Oswald H. Ernst from Okinawa, 3168 Army, 52 Navy; Birmingham from Sydney (due originally yesterday), 39 Army; Trinity Victory from Yokohama, two soldiers; LCS 90 from Pearl Harbor, 13 Navy; LCS 94 from Pearl Harbor, 12 Navy; LCS 92, eight Navy.

Six St. Louis Veterans to Debark at New York Thursday.

Six St. Louis men were listed among service passengers on the Madawaska Victory, which will dock Thursday at New York. The list included:

Pfc. Lee E. Hargis, Pfc. Robert H. Wallace, Pfc. Albert E. Davis, Cpl. Hugo E. Grimm, Cpl. Elmer H. Knop, Pfc. Robert J. Black.

Two St. Louisans were due to reach San Francisco today on the Birmingham. They were First Lts. John A. Gilbert and Norman D. Schleuter.

Staff Sgt. Alan S. Holtz of Kirkwood was due to arrive yesterday at New York on the Hampton Sidney Victory. Illinois men on the ship were:

EDWARD C. SOTHMANN DIES

Edward C. Sothmann, stereotyper employed by the Post-Dispatch for the last 20 years, died yesterday at St. Anthony's Hospital following a heart attack. He was 54 years old and lived at 4941 Tholozan avenue.

Surviving are his wife, Mrs. Helen Sothmann, and two daughters, Mrs. Betty Halliday of St. Louis and Mrs. Jean Rowan of San Pedro, Calif. Funeral services will be held at 2 o'clock tomorrow afternoon at the Robert's undertaking establishment, 1905 South Grand boulevard, followed by cremation.

SOCIAL ACTIVITIES

THE engagement of Miss Ann Russell Allen, daughter of Mrs. William Russell Allen Jr., 30 Kingsbury place, to John P. Flanigan, son of Mrs. T. Edward Flanigan, 5826 Maple avenue, and the late Mr. Flanigan, was announced today at a luncheon. The party, given by Miss Allen at the Junior League Tea Room, was in honor of Miss Julia Rumsey Holland, who will be married soon to Lt. David Carter Clarke Jr., an Army engineer from Plainfield, N.J., to whom she announced her engagement last October. Lt. Clarke is en route home from Manila.

A graduate of Villa Duchesne, Miss Allen attended Manhattanville College of the Sacred Heart in New York, and made her debut in 1939 with her sister, Mrs. Wilbert C. Schade Jr. (Florence Allen) of Alton, at a tea dance at St. Louis Woman's Club. She is active in the Junior League and at present is serving on the committee for its charity ball, to be given April 26. During the war she was a member of the Red Cross Motor Corps and spent considerable time at the Service Wives Center.

The bride-to-be, whose father died in 1943, is a granddaughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. William Russell Allen of St. Louis and Pittsfield, Mass., and the late Mr. and Mrs. Francis B. York, and a great-granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Allen. Mrs. Thomas Allen was Miss Ann Russell, for whom she was named. She traces descent from William Bradford, first governor of the Colonies. Mrs. Ralph W. Coale, 8 Westmoreland place; Mrs. Martin Linn Clardy of Farmington, Mo.; Mrs. Frederic W. Hibbard of Belmont, Mass., and Mrs. Henry D. Rodgers of Albany, N. Y., are aunts of the prospective bride, who has two brothers, Francis York Allen and William Russell Allen III of Hollis, N. Y.

Mr. Flanigan, a grandson of the late Mr. and Mrs. Dumont Gardner Jones and the late Mr. and Mrs. Patrick Flanigan, has two sisters, Capt. Edith Josephine Flanigan of the Women's Army Corps, now stationed in Frankfurt, Germany, and Miss Rosemary Flanigan, and one brother, T. Edward Flanigan Jr. His aunts are Miss Blanche Flanigan, Mrs. Theodore S. Proxmire of Lake Forest, Ill., Mrs. Thomas J. Dempsey and Mrs. Augustine B. Jones.

The prospective bridegroom is a graduate of St. Louis University High School and St. Louis University.

Mrs. Allen, sitting at a small table near that of her daughter's friends at the announcement party, told the news informally to the following guests: Miss Eleanor Schlafly, Miss Edith Jenkin, Miss Virginia Carter, Miss Mary Frances Clifford, Miss Elizabeth Nolker, Miss Mary Galt, Mrs. Robert C. Krone, Mrs. John Blair, Mrs. Robert Ward Forcier and Mrs. Cornelius McDonald Jr.

The wedding is planned to take place later in the spring.

To Visit in the East.

MRS EUGENE F. WILLIAMS of St. Louis Country Club grounds will depart Thursday for the East to spend about 10 days with her children. In New York she will visit her daughter, Miss Marie Wight Williams, who is living at the Residence School while studying at Parsons School of Design, and will then go to New Haven, Conn., to see her son, Eugene F. Williams III at Yale University. Mrs. Williams will attend the wedding Saturday of Miss Marion Valle Turner and Lt. John Hays Caperton, U.S.N.R., at St. Thomas's Episcopal Church in New York. The bride-to-be is the daughter of Mrs. J. D. Wooster Lambert of New York and W. Pelham H. Turner, 4406 McPherson avenue.

Other St. Louisans who will be among the wedding guests are Mrs. James O'Malley Davies, 501 Clara avenue; Mrs. Charles E. Bascom, 52 Portland place, and Mrs. Carl H. Langenberg of St. Louis Country Club grounds, aunt of the bridegroom. Mrs. Davies will leave tomorrow to spend 10 days in New York.

* * *

Mr. and Mrs. Henry H. Whittemore, 6440 Forsythe boulevard, will entertain friends at home this evening in honor of Miss Kathryn Cravens, news commentator, who is visiting her sister, Mrs. Maury Hill, 4 Forest Ridge, and Mr. Hill. Miss Cravens, who arrived last week from New York, was a foreign war correspondent in Europe. Mr. and Mrs. Hill gave a party for their visitor Saturday night.

Miss Cravens and Mrs. Hill will depart tomorrow for San Angelo, Tex., to see their mother, Mrs. J. A. Perry. From there they will go to Los Angeles and San Francisco for visits, returning to St. Louis the end of the month. Miss Cravens will spend a few days here again before proceeding to New York.

The Hills' daughter, Miss Virginia Hill, returned last night by plane to New York to resume her studies at Briarcliff Junior College, Briarcliff Manor, N. Y., following spring vacation. Her younger sister, Miss Lela Hill, a student at Vassar College, has no spring recess because of the early close of the term on April 16. At that time she will go to Palm Beach, Fla., to spend three weeks visiting college friends.

ANNOUNCEMENT is made today of additional plans for the marriage of Miss Nellie Jane Mellow, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Wesley Mellow, 70 Fair Oaks, and John Brabson Trent, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Franklin Trent of Knoxville, Tenn. to take place next Tuesday night at Second Presbyterian Church.

William Franklin Trent Jr., of Washington, D. C., will be best man for his brother, whose ushers are to be another brother, Dr. Lucian William Trent, also of Washington; John M. Armistead, Ben Sanford and Albert G. Kern Jr., all of Knoxville; Richard Wesley Mellow Jr., the bride's brother, who has just been discharged from the Coast Guard, and James Kuhn Mellow, her cousin.

Parties for the bride-elect, in addition to those already announced, include a dinner to be given Saturday night by her parents at their farm near House Springs, Mo., at which guests will be members of the wedding party; a dinner the following night with Mrs. John McHale Dean as hostess at her home, 6401 Ellenwood avenue, and the rehearsal dinner to be given Monday night by Mr. and Mrs. George Edward Mellow, uncle and aunt of the bride-to-be, at their home, 69 Fair Oaks.

Mr. Trent's parents will be unable to attend the ceremony, but his brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Darnall Morrison, will come from Knoxville, as will Mrs. Dewey Windsor of Point Pleasant, W. Va.

* * *

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Wickstead and their young son, David, arrived Saturday from their home in Cheltenham, England, to live in St. Louis. Until they find an apartment they are with her sister, Mrs. Harry Herzogenrath, 6633 University drive. Mrs. Wickstead, the former Miss Mildred Knappneier, was for many years a teacher at Columbia School. She has been living in England since her marriage in Liverpool, seven years ago.

* * *

Dr. and Mrs. C. Gene D'Oench of Mosley road, Ladue, have returned from Colorado Springs, Colo., where they visited after a trip to New Orleans and the Gulf Coast. Dr. D'Oench has just completed his terminal leave with the Army Air Forces after 30 months of service.

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla., April 2—The Cardinals today ended the Waterfront Park phase of their exhibition season the way they began it, losing a ball game. The Redbirds, who were shut out by the Yankees in the opener on March 9, bowed to the Cleveland Indians this afternoon, 7 to 3.

The Indians blasted out 15 hits, including home runs by Bob Lemon and Dutch Meyer, and the chief victim of the attack was Charley (Red) Barrett, who was pounded for 10 hits and five runs in five innings, bringing his 32-inning total to 43 safeties and 18 tallies yielded.

Fred Schmidt, who pitched the ninth inning, was hit hard, too, giving up three hits and two runs, which were driven in by Meyer, Ed Robinson, Meyer, and Enos Slaughter of the Cardinals had three hits apiece.

In between Max Lanier was effective, allowing only two hits and no runs in three innings, though he walked three. By far the outstanding pitcher of the afternoon was the Cleveland starter, Charles (Red) Embree, who allowed only four hits and one run in six innings. That tally was batted in by pinch-hitter Walter Sessi's triple.

In 24 games while based here, the Redbirds, who break camp tomorrow afternoon for a 10-game trip home, won 14 and lost 10. Their setback against Cleveland was only the fourth in the last 17 games.

The attendance was 1816.

The play-by-play:

FIRST INNING — INDIANS — Conway singled to center. Lemon flied to Musial. Keltner singled to right, sending conway to third. Robinson grounded out to Verban, Conway scoring. Sepkowski dropped a Texas League single in short right, scoring Keltner. Meyer grounded out to Schoendienst. TWO RUNS.

CARDINALS — Schoendienst tapped to Embree. Walker grounded out to Conway. Embree deflected Musial's grounder to Meyer, who threw him out.

SECOND—INDIANS — Schoendienst threw out Mackiewicz. Lollar was out the same way. Embree struck out.

CARDINALS—Slaughter singled to deep short. Sanders tapped to Embree, who threw too late to second for a force play, but Conway's relay to first retired Sanders. Marion popped to Conway. Verban grounded out to Meyer.

THIRD—INDIANS — Conway flied to Musial. So did Lemon and Keltner.

FOURTH — INDIANS—Robinson singled to right. Sepkowski was called out on strikes. Meyer singled to left, Robinson stopping at second. Slaughter missed a shoestring catch of Mackiewicz's low line drive, but Robinson, fearing a catch, was forced at third, Slaughter to Verban to Schoendienst. Lollar singled to center, scoring Meyer and sending Mackiewicz to third. Embree struck out. ONE RUN.

CARDINALS—Ross played third base for the Indians. Walker tapped to Embree. Musial flied deep to Lemon. Slaughter singled to center. Sanders flied to Sepkowski.

FIFTH — INDIANS — Conway flied to Walker. Lemon hit a home run over the right field fence. Ross singled to left. Robinson popped to Sanders. Sepkowski singled to right, Ross stopping at second. Meyer singled to left, scoring Ross and sending Sepkowski to third, and Meyer took second on the throw to third. Mackiewicz popped to Marion. TWO RUNS.

CARDINALS—Campbell played left field for the Indians. Conway threw out Marion. Verban tapped to Embree. Rice was credited with a double when Meyer dropped his pop fly after a long run into right field. Sessi batted for Barrett and tripled to deep center, scoring Rice. Schoendienst grounded out to Meyer. ONE RUN.

SIXTH — INDIANS — Lanier pitched, Sisler played first base, Klein second base and Cross short-stop for the Cardinals. Lollar was called out on strikes. Embree walked. Conway hit into a double play, Cross to Klein to Sisler.

SEVENTH—INDIANS — Dusak played third base and Adams centerfield for the Cardinals. Lemon popped to Cross. Ross flied deep to Musial. Robinson beat out a hit to Cross in deep short. Sepkowski walked. Lanier dropped Meyer's low pop on the first base line for an error, filling the bases. Campbell fouled to rice.

CARDINALS—Krakauskas and Hegan formed a new battery for the Indians. Sisler looped a Texas Leaguer to short center field for a single. Cross hit into a double play, Ross to Meyer to Robinson. Klein popped to Conway.

EIGHTH — INDIANS — Hegan beat out a hit toward first. Krakauskas sacrificed, Lanier to Klein, who covered first. Conway struck out. Lemon walked. Ross fouled to Sisler.

NINTH — INDIANS — Schmidt pitched for the Cardinals. Robinson singled to right. Sepkowsk flied to Adams. Meyer hit a home run over the left field fence and scored behind Robinson. Klein made a good stop and threw out Campbell. Hegan singled to center. Krakaukas tapped in front of the plate and was tagged out by Rice. TWO RUNS.

CARDINALS—Musial grounded out to Ross. Slaughter's third hit was a single to right. Krakauskas knocked down Sisler's smash and threw him out. Cross beat out a hit to Ross. Klein doubled to center, scoring Slaughter and Cross. Rice lined to Lemon. TWO RUNS.

Hornsby Relates Experience With Mexican League, Scoffs At Its Threat to Majors

CHICAGO, April 2 (UP)—Rogers Hornsby, the first "big name" player from the United States to sample baseball in the Mexican League, indicated today a belief that major league moguls are unduly perturbed over the exodus of some of their players to the South of the Border circuit.

Hornsby, a major league star for 23 seasons and one of the game's greatest right-handed hitters, scoffs at the idea that the Mexican League is a "threat" to the National or American loops.

The "Rajah" knows about the Mexican League from experience and he isn't backward in explaining it wasn't a pleasant one.

After the Texas League, where he was managing a club, folded because of the war, Hornsby went to Mexico in 1944 to manage the Vera Cruz team. He was signed for the venture by Jorge Pasquel, the exporting tycoon who bankrolls the game in Mexico.

"I had the money Pasquel agreed to pay me deposited in an American bank before I ever left," Hornsby said, "and it was a good thing I did for I don't think I would have gotten it otherwise, as it was after I got there and started handling the team, Pasquel saw me taking batting practice and so wanted me to serve as a pinch hitter. He agreed to pay me extra for that, but I never collected that money.

Everything Even.

"However, I left a little ahead of the three months I was scheduled to handle the team, so I figured things were even."

Hornsby claims that after his arrival in Mexico, Pasquel wanted him to pay his own expenses on the road.

"We're paying you big money," Hornsby said Pasquel told him," so you have to stand road expenses."

"I balked at that," Rogers explained, "and told Pasquel, 'we don't do things like that in the United States and we're not going to do it here. You pay the expenses.'"

While not staying a full season Hornsby "guessed" he was the highest paid performer in the Mexican League.

"I don't think any full-time player in the league was drawing more than $7,000 for a season when I was there," Hornsby said, "and those salaries were few and far between. Some of the players were getting less than $100 a month."

Hornsby said there not only was great disparity in the matter of player salaries, but even in the amount of meal money furnished on the road.

"A star player might be given 16 or 20 pesos a day for his meals," Hornsby said, "while a lesser light might only get eight. It was a helluva system."

Hornsby's biggest objection to the Mexican League was the handling of the players and the constant shifting of them from team to team to maintain league balance.

Player Switching.

"Pasquel controlled five of the six teams in the league when I was there," he said, "and you would have a good player today, then tomorrow he'd turn up on the club playing against you. They just juggled them to suit themselves."

The former great second baseman doesn't think the contracts players from the states are signing to play in Mexico are very binding.

"The best advice I can give any player signing to play in Mexico is to get all the money deposited in a bank on this side of the border for the full term of the agreement. They have funny standards of judging players down there and after a season they might decide that you weren't worth what they told you they'd pay. What's a player going to do then?" Hornsby asked, "he hasn't anyone in the league to which he can take a plea of enforcement and I'd like to see him get any place in court with such a case. You know when an American star comes down there they expect great things of him and if he doesn't hit a home run every time at bat he's very likely to be told 'you're no good.'"

Hornsby said during his stay in Mexico that the games drew an average of 20,000 fans per contest. Three games were played each week.

"The Mexicans are good sport fans and they like baseball," the Rajah stated, "the game could be successful down there if an affiliation was made with the national association of minor leagues in this country. They have to have organization though and a tie-up with the controlling group in this country to protect the player and guarantee him some rights. Otherwise the league isn't going to amount to much."

Would Hornsby want to go back?

"Not as long as the league is run the way it was when I was there before or now," he said emphatically.

Chandler Has No Comment on New Rush of Jumpers

VENICE, Fla., April 2.

BASEBALL COMMISSIONER A. B. (Happy) CHANDLER said yesterday that he had no comment on the new rush by major league players to the Mexican league, except to repeat an earlier statement that such contract jumpers would be barred from organized baseball in the United States for at least five years.

"All these cases are in the same category," Chandler said, "and my former statement still stands—any player who jumps his contract will not be permitted to petition for return to American baseball for five years."

Within the past three days five major leaguers have announced acceptance of invitations to play in Mexico. They were Vern Stephens, star shortstop for the St. Louis Browns; Mickey Owen, Brooklyn Dodger's catcher, and three New York Giants, Pitcher Sal Maglie, First Baseman Roy Zimmerman and Second Baseman George Hausmann.

TRAINING CAMP NOTES

BUDDY KERR, New York Giants's shortstop last season and probable third sacker for the coming campaign, told Manager Mel Ott that he had received a $55,000 offer for three years of play in the Mexican League, but that he had rejected the offer. . . . With George Hausmann gone, the Giants probably will start the season with Johnny Mize at first; Mickey Witek, second; Bill Rigney, short, and Kerr at third base.

Outfielder MIKE BEJAN, who fought with the infantry in Europe, has been released to San Diego by the Cincinnati Reds. . . . AL FALZONE, a pitcher, has been unconditionally released by the Brooklyn Dodgers. . . . The CLEVELAND INDIANS pared their roster to 40 players by optioning outfielder Cliff Mapes to San Diego and sending first baseman Elmer Sidlo and catcher Ralph Weigel to Wilkes-Barre.

Outfielder FRANK DEMAREE, drafted from Portland of the Coast League by the Athletics, has been unconditionally released by Connie Mack. . . . Ray Poole was optioned to Savannah and Don Richmond was sent to Toledo. . . . TOMMY HOLMES has been benched by Manager Billy Southworth of the Boston Braves, because of a batting slump. . . . Max West has replaced him in the outfield. . . . The Braves have released six players to various farm clubs.

HAL GREGG, Brooklyn right-hander, yielded only two hits and fanned seven in his seven innings on the hill against Jersey City. . . . He faced only 21 batters. . . . DON KOLLOWAY, making his first appearance at second base for the White Sox, hit a home run, triple, single and drew a walk in a game with the Pirates.

CHARLEY KELLER hit two homers and drove in seven runs, while JOE DI MAGGIO had a homer and four singles as the New York Yankees routed Beaumont, 17-0, in a game before 7571 fans at Houston, Tex.

KUROWSKI TO SEE BREADON HERE

READING, Pa., April 2 (UP)—George "Whitey" Kurowski, Cardinal infielder, said today he would meet Sam Breadon, Cardinal president, over the weekend in St. Louis to discuss contract terms.

At the same time, Kurowski said he had at no time considered playing ball in Mexico, and that he had not received any overtures from south of the border.

Kurowski disclosed today that the first break in his month-long holdout from the Cardinals came when Breadon phoned him and asked him to come to St. Louis. Breadon, Kurowski said, was sending him his railroad ticket, and he expected to leave Thursday or Friday for the Midwest.

He dismissed questions on the Mexican loop by saying he had not been approached, and that he would not have played there.

"I never heard from them," Kurowski said, "and even if I had, I would have rejected the offer immediately. I want to play my baseball in the United States."

At the same time, relatives of Chicago Cub outfielder Don D'Allessandro said he was expected at his Reading home within a few days. D'Allessandro, with the Cubs five years until he was drafted last spring, was discharged yesterday at Camp Grant, Ill.

He planned to visit Reading only long enough to pick up his belongings and join the Cubs in the West.

Fox Scores His 38th Consecutive Kayo

PITTSBURGH, April 2 (AP)—Black Jack Billy Fox, sensational Philadelphia light heavyweight, racked up his thirty-eighth consecutive knockout last night but he had to go farther and harder than ever before in his short career to kayo Ossie (Bulldog) Harris of Pittsbugh in 2:15 seconds of the last round of a 10-round bout. Fox weighed 167, Harris 165.

Ladowski Gets Kayo on South Side High Card

Christman Triples to Win Game

Brownies Send Byrnes to Yanks For Catcher Sears

EL PASO, Tex., April 2.

OUTFIELDER MILTON BYRNES, a home product, was traded along with some cash to the New York Yankees by the Browns last night, for Catcher Kenny Sears, a slugging backstop. The deal was announced by Secretary Charley DeWitt before the Browns left Tucson and the arrangement was for Byrnes to leave the St. Louis club immediately, to join the Yankees in Dallas, Tex., where they are playing.

Sears will join the Browns at once. He figures to give the St. Louis club greater catching strength than it has had in years. With Frank Mancuso greatly improved and recruit Hank Helf showing promise, the club probably is better off behind the bat now than it has been at any other time since Luke Sewell became manager.

By L. A. McMaster
Of the Post-Dispatch Sports Staff.

EL PASO, Tex., April 2 — For stop No. 3 here today on the barnstorming trip home, Manager Luke Sewell of the Browns will shoot with Nelson Potter or Jack Kramer against the Cubs, hoping to increase his margin of victories to three.

The Browns went two up in the series by batting out a 5-to-4 verdict in the beautiful setting of the University of Arizona campus at Tucson yesterday, rallying for three runs in the seventh inning.

Everywhere the club goes, people still ask if Shortstop Vernon Stephens has joined up. Fans are behind on the news of Stevie's jump to Mexico. Well, after yesterday's game they wondered just how good Stephens could be to rate consideration above Mark Christman for shortstop.

Christman teed off against Hy Vandenberg for a three-base hit with two runners on the bases in the rally which gave the Browns their victory. He won the game with his blow. The Browns went to bat in the big frame trailing by one run. But after Mark connected for his extra-base smash, they were two runs ahead and while the Cubs came back with a run in the eighth and got two men on bases in the ninth, the issue was decided.

Muncrief Starts Poorly.

Bob Muncrief pitched seven innings. He was pounded for six hits in the first two frames. In the second four blows, one of them a double by Peanuts Lowrey, plus the only base on balls Bob issued, netted Chicago three runs. Thereafter Muncrief had the National League champions eating out of his hand.

Bill Nicholson opened the second with a single and McCullough walked. The next two men were retired, but then Stan Hack beat out a hit to second, Johnson singled and Lowrey inserted his two-bagger to drive in the third tally of the inning. Phil Cavarretta, N.L. batting king of last year, who has been having a terrible time against Brownie pitching, then struck out.

Judnich and Berardino singled and Christman walked in the second half, and although the bases were filled with none out, only one run resulted. The Browns had to work hard again to break into the scoring column in the sixth, when once again the first three batters got on base. Laabs walked, Judnich connected for his second single and Berardino got a life on Merullo's boot, Laabs scoring. Christman struck out in this flareup and after Archie walked, the next two batters went out on pop fouls.

Extra Base Hits Net Run.

Against Fred Sanford in the eighth, Mickey Livingston drove a 400-foot triple to center and Marv Rickert, pinch-hitting, doubled him home, but Heinz Becker rolled out to end the inning.

Ed Hanyzewski held the Browns to four hits and one run in five innings. Vandenberg was the victim of two Brownie rallies, and Erickson took his daily workout in the eighth, retiring three men.

Berardino pulled a charley horse running in the seventh, retired from the game and will be rested today. Either Schulte or Johnny Lucadello will be at second base.

Lowrey had four hits for the Cubs, and walked in the ninth.

Bill Jurges, veteran shortstop, reported to the Cubs yesterday after a rugged journey from Florida and probably will break into the Chicago front in some of the remaining games of the trip.

HOCKEY SCHEDULE

SHORT—WAVES

The new All-America Pro League continues to go after the cream of the crop among the football players. . . . Latest to enter the new circuit are ANGELO BERTELLI, former passing ace at Notre Dame, and TOM LANEY, ex-Carrol College star who played end with the El Toro (Calif.) Marines last year. . . . Bertelli, who recently returned from 20 months overseas as a Marine lieutenant, has signed with LOS ANGELES. . . . Laney goes to the CHICAGO ROCKETS. . . . Paul Brown, coach and general manager of the CLEVELAND BROWNS, announces that the Browns and the BROOKLYN DODGERS of the All-America circuit will play an exhibition in a Rubber Bowl game at Akron, O., Aug. 30.

BERTELLI.

Newest ruling in boxing circles is by the PENNSYLVANIA Athletic Commission. . . . The group ruled that a boxer, injured by a major accidental foul, shall be granted a three-minute rest by the referee and the fight awarded to his opponent if he is unable to continue after that period. . . . Also, boxers in main events were ordered to put on their gloves and step into the ring ready to fight.

The horse races continue to set all-time attendance and betting records which is a sign of the times, perhaps . . . The 30-day meet at Oakland Park just wrote into the books new marks in both departments. . . . Total mutuel handle was $10,158,988, almost double the $5,591,131 handle of the fall meeting. . . . Attendance was 187,301, compared to 123,000 for the fall season. . . . The state of Arkansas is expected to profit by $600,000. . . . Apprentice Harold Keene of Lowell, Mass., took riding honors by booting home 27 winners, 22 to place and 21 show horses. . . . Keene is under contract to Reynold Brothers' stable.

HENRY COTTON, former British open golf champion, resigned as Coombe Hill Club pro in England, after "certain negotiations for an undisclosed assignment abroad." . . . Cotton, it is said, has been considering a trip to the United States. . . . GREAT BRITAIN'S first full flat racing season since 1938 opened at the CARHOLME track with GORDON RICHARDS, England's top jockey, scoring a double aboard Golden Sorrell and Your Fancy. . . . Crowds slept in railroad station waiting rooms and hotel lobbies in order to attend the card.

FRANCIS LYNCH, former three-sport star at St. Benedict's of Kansas is the new head football coach at Rockhurst College. . . . He was released from the Navy in January. . . . CHARLIE (RED) CARMAN has been named manager of the Leavenworth Braves, Western Association Farm Club of the Boston Braves. . . .

24-Hour Delay In Release for Walker Cooper

Walker Cooper, former Cardinal catcher and now the property of the New York Giants, will have to wait until tomorrow for his discharge from the Navy. Originally the star backstop was scheduled to be released today at the Lambert Field Naval Training Separation Center, but there will be a 24-hour delay in obtaining his final papers.

Leo Browne Gets Legion Baseball Going Friday

High school baseball players and their coaches will be guests of the Fred W. Stockham Post of the American Legion Friday night in the ballroom of Hotel York.

Leo A. Browne, commander of the post and state athletic officer of the American Legion baseball program, plans at that time to get the ball in play for the legion diamond season. Motion pictures of the St. Mary's-Oklahoma A. and M. football game in the Sugar Bowl will be shown.

Only 370 Watch Palace Show, But Wallach Plans to Carry On

By W. J. McGoogan

Attendance at Lou Wallach's Palace Gardens boxing show reached a new low last night when only 370 persons turned out, paying $465.50 to see a pretty good program of five bouts, two of which ended in knockouts, one actual, one technical.

Despite the disappointing crowd, which has been the usual case almost every night Wallach has run a performance, he announced that he would have another next Monday night with Lou Flyer meeting Bob Fowler, Chicago, who defeated Oscar Suggs of Providence, R. I., in the eight-round main event last night.

Jim Richie, Negro light heavyweight who won a Golden Gloves title here some years ago, also will be on the card. He recently was discharged from the Army.

Conway Goes Down to Stay.

Henry Chucholiek scored something of a surprise victory as he dropped Jack Conway in the second round of the opening four-round preliminary, Conway staying down after he had been on the floor three times from Chucholiek's crushing left hand.

Fowler, short and stocky, had too much power for Suggs who also had a cut eye in the melee and the two put on something of a brawl as they fought and snarled at each other through the eight rounds.

In two other preliminaries, Art Harrison outpointed George Brandon and Ted Weems, Chicago dropped a decision to Ory Smith, St. Louis. Weems was the only one of the three Chicago boxers to lose.

Interest in the fight game here switches now to the Auditorium program Friday night in which Phil Terranova is to make a bid for his third St. Louis victory in a 10-pound go with Aponte Torres, Puerto Rico.

Terranova knocked out Charley Riley and won on points from Jimmy Joyce in previous bouts here and in Torres he will be meeting a boy who boxed two draws with him in 1942.

Torres is built almost like Terranova and has the same rushing, tearing style of battling as Phil.

The Puerto Rican has demonstrated to fans at the Central gymnasium, where he has been working, that he is in condition and ready to go with Terranova who is slated to work at the South Broadway A. C. today.

Palace Gardens Results

Johnny Crane, Chicago (160), won technical knockout over Jerry Marshall, St. Louis (162), fourth round. Sullivan, referee.

Gene Farrell, Bob Dana, Judges.

Bartolo Turns Down $15,000 Offer For Terranova Bout Here

SAL BARTOLO, National Boxing Association featherweight champion, has refused an offer of $15,000 to meet Phil Terranova in a title match here next month, his manager, Lou Schiro wired promoter Hans Bernstein today.

Schiro explained that the proposed bout was too close to the championship match which Bartolo has arranged with Willie Pep, New York title-holder, scheduled to be held on June 7.

In a telephone conversation with Bernstein, Abe Greene, president of the N.B.A. supported Bartolo's contention that the two matches were too close together to force Bartolo to defend his title against Terranova but promised if anything prevented the Bartolo-Pep bout, he would recommend the Bartolo-Terranova contest.

Estelle Gerdes Wins Pin Event With 867

Estelle Gerdes finished with 867, including a handicap of 93, to take the four-game women's bowling sweepstakes just ended at Kaleyn Recreation. Her games were 185, 213, 168, 208. The victory, in a field of 123 contestants, was worth $75 and a medal.

Buckles in Tenth Place in A.B.C. All-Events

St. Louisan Totals 1867 For 9 Games

BUFFALO, N. Y., April 2 (UP) — Sixty directors and executive committeemen of the American Bowling Congress opened a three-day executive meeting today to consider 35 amendments to be presented at Friday's general meeting.

The most important proposal is the upping of fees for the national tournament resulting in larger purses. A secretary also will be elected during the meeting and the site of the 1948 A.B.C. championships announced. The 1947 classic already has been awarded to Los Angeles.

Meanwhile on the alleys, eight more teams, including two from San Antonio, Tex., will attempt to knock the Heils of Milwaukee out of first place in the team division of the forty-third A.B.C. championships tonight.

Bowling's famous Schwoegler family of Madison, Wis., Tony, Connie and Mel, failed to crack the leaders during last night's firing. Tony "Pa" Schwoegler, who won an A.B.C. title in 1909, scored 563, while Mel had 571 and Connie, who has been rolling at a 212 average in league competition, settled for 504. Connie, who sports a 203 average for 400 games in all-star competition, was expected to be a threat in the minor event rolling today.

Toledo, O., gained its first representation among the "high 10" yesterday when John Reighard and Bill Damon hit 1251 for ninth place in the doubles.

Ron Buckles of St. Louis, rolled into tenth place in the all-events with a total of 1867. He had 611 in the team event, 612 in doubles and 644 in the individual competition. Erskine Owens and Vic Stauder paced the Mound City doubles teams with 1226.

Highlight of the day was the performance of Toledo's Robert Olson, who fired a middle game of nine straight strikes, then caught a 4-7-10 split on his tenth ball to end with 263. His first game was 171 and his third 220 for a 654 gross.

Poor Flame Out of Grand National

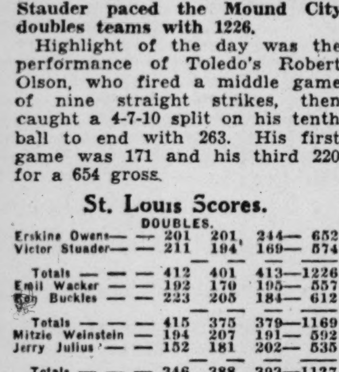

LONDON, April 2 (AP) — Poor Flame, second choice at 100 to 8 in the advance betting, was withdrawn from the Grand National Steeplechase yesterday, reducing the field to 41. The gruelling race is scheduled to be run at Aintree on Friday.

Budge Defeats Riggs.

BUFFALO, N. Y., April 2 (AP) —Don Budge scored his second victory in 14 starts on a cross-country tour by defeating Bobby Riggs, world professional Tennis champion, last night 7-5, 3-6, 6-2 before a crowd of 2107 in Memorial Auditorium.

Parlay Pays 12 Times Daily Double

GET-RICH-QUICK race track bettors like their daily double. . . . On occasion it has returned as high as $10,000 for a folding deuce. . . . But when they note what happened at Bowie, yesterday, they may drop this alluring form of speculation and go back to an age-old system—the parlay.

Most of the 23 daily-double ticket holders at Bowie yesterday were extremely well satisfied to be paid off $901 for $2. . . . The winner of the opener, Late Time, paid $100.20 and Goldie's Sugar won the second, refunding $217.70. . . . A parlay on the two at the odds would have returned investors $10,850—12 times the daily double payoff!

Winning Jockey Is The Golden Boy.

IT'S nice being a jockey, these days. . . . You have a shock-proof helmet to keep your brains intact, if you spill. . . . You have a Jockey's Guild to protect your rights when threatened. . . . You have—if you're real good—a contract of twenty grand or so for first call on your services. . . . And, on the side, you can pick up a nice chunk of what keeps the missus in furs, when your stable doesn't need you.

* * *

If, for example, you happen to be riding for the Maine Chance Farm's Stable and the guy who will get the leg up on the farm's No. 1 three-year-old in the big races this year, you probably would spend your nights figuring what to do with your share of the swag.

You get 10 per cent of the big stakes and the stable's Knockdown already has won one $100,000 race — the Santa Anita Derby. . . . If the boy who rode him has the leg up on the Kentucky Derby, Preakness and Belmont winners, he'd would wind up with a total of $40,000 extra money, for having spent a total of less than nine minutes in the saddle.

The 49 to 1 Winner

—Associated Press Wirephoto.

LATE TIME, on the rail, winning the opening race of the Bowie (Md.) meeting yesterday refunding $100.70 for a $2 bet. The daily double on the first and second races paid $901.

To the Isaac Murphys, the Lonnie Claytons, the Willie Simmses and other riding demons of the early days, such figures would seem like Aladdin's Lamp miracles or dreams that never could come true. . . . But they're hard cash facts, today. . . . When in doubt, become a jockey. . . . That is, if you can hold down that avoirdupois to around 110 pounds.

* * *

Hall of Fame Horse Was Mighty Hindoo.

IN 1918 the Derby, the Preakness and the Belmont stakes rewarded the owners of the winners, George Smith, Damrosch and Friar Rock with a combined winning total of $15,230. . . . This year the same events will be worth $300,000. . . . The 1946 triple crown winner, if any, therefore could jump into a high rating, on a money-winning basis, in just three races.

Three decades ago racing rewards were comparatively meager. . . . A horse's quality was gauged by his performance through the years, not by his winnings. . . . Today First Fiddle has won over $200,000 more than the once great handicap horse Discovery. . . . But turfmen wouldn't put First Fiddle on a par with Discovery.

Sixty years ago there flourished a great race horse, Hindoo. . . . If there were a racing Hall of Fame in this country, Hindoo's name would be enshrined there. . . . He raced three seasons—1880 through 1882. . . . He started 36 times at distances from a half mile to 2¼ miles. . . . He won 31 of his starts and was in the money on the other occasion. . . . But he earned only $72,340.

* * *

So it's not the bacon your horse brings home that makes him great. . . . It's the load he can carry, the distance he races and the insides he shows when he's challenged. . . . And, for all the horses that were campaigned several years we're just about satisfied that the top hoss was one named Exterminator. . . . Of course, no telling what Man O'War might have done had he not stopped at the age of three.

28,203 Paid $8463 to See Muny Playoffs

By Dent McSkimming

"When 28,203 persons pay $8,463.90 to see our playoff games I would say soccer is definitely an important part of the Municipal Athletic Association program," said Freddie Geldmacher, director of Muny athletics as he discussed the championship series concluded Sunday.

"Before the series opened our Muny A. A. treasury faced a deficit of about $4000. Now, we are in the black and we're dreaming nice pictures of new stands and better fields."

Paid attendance at the five games was as follows: 6181, 4104, 3585, 7293 and 7040. Boys admitted free numbered 1000 or more at each game.

"That 3585 crowd would have equaled the others had it not been for bad weather," added Geldmacher. "Rain fell all afternoon but the crowd showed up in spite of the fact there was no roof to cover the stands."

Stands at the championship field were so few that no one was permitted the luxury of a seat. Late comers every Sunday became standees by necessity and, in lining up in front of the sitters they forced everyone to stand. The natural inference is that, given adequate accomodations, the attendance would have been much larger in every instance.

"It was a great series," added Geldmacher. "The finalists played exciting football, the committee did a grand job in the face of difficulties, including a referees' strike, and fans were well behaved. But the fellow who helped most, in my opinion, was our good friend the weather man. We just don't expect such fine weather in March."

A few home-and-home games with Chicago teams are in the making for the local all-star soccer squad which is being prepared for the international game with Liverpool here late next month, it was announced today by Walter Giesler, chairman of the Missouri Soccer Commission. Vikings, Sparta and the Maroons have all replied favorably to Giesler's inquiries regarding tentative dates.

world" necessary if we are not to live in perpetual fear.

All this in turn indicates the reason for the grave disquiet caused by the hesitations of Bernard M. Baruch and the recent senatorial expressions of doubt about the Acheson committee report. The purpose of the report was to make it as painless as possible for the Soviet rulers to accomplish the immense change from a nationalist to a "one world" policy with the sacrifices of sovereignty, lifting of the iron curtain and other tremendous new steps which that would entail.

American public opinion was a consideration almost as important as the desirability of securing Soviet acceptances. For the possibility—indeed the probability—that the Soviets would not accept had always to be borne in mind. Those who prepared the Acheson committee report believed that offering the Soviets the most generous arrangements consistent with national safety was the best way to unite American opinion in the terrible situation that would be created by Soviet rejection. Unity in this country will not be achieved if the arrangements proposed to the Soviets are shaped by the thought that it might be better after all if we kept the atom bomb for ourselves.

MAN FINED FOR TURNING SIGN

Donald L. Lance, 1500 South Seventh boulevard, found out today that he will have to learn to make less expansive gestures when he walks along the street.

He was fined $5 today by Police Judge Joseph B. Catanzaro on a charge of turning a school-stop sign at 1941 South Vandeventer avenue to face traffic after the hours when the sign was supposed to be used on March 21. Lance pleaded not guilty and told the judge he had hit the sign accidentally with his hand when he gestured as he walked along the street.

Office of General Purchasing Agent
WABASH RAILROAD COMPANY
Office of Purchasing Agent

1. In accordance with the regulations of the Interstate Commerce Commission prescribed in its Order dated October 6, 1919, as amended October 4, 1920, Docket Ex Parte No. 54, Union Pacific Railroad Company (Union Pacific), Chicago and North Western Railway Company (North Western) and Wabash Railroad Company (Wabash) hereby request bids and hereby give notice that they will receive bids for the construction and delivery of twenty-three lightweight sleeping cars, as follows:

For Union Pacific:
Eleven—4 bedroom, 16 duplex roomette sleeping cars; and Three—6 section, 6 roomette, 4 bedroom sleeping cars.
For North Western:
One—2 drawing room, 4 bedroom, 4 compartment sleeping car;
Two—4 bedroom, 16 duplex roomette sleeping cars; and
One—6 section, 6 roomette, 4 bedroom sleeping car.
For Wabash:
Four—4 bedroom, 16 duplex roomette sleeping cars.

2. Bids for the construction and delivery of said twenty-three sleeping cars must be addressed and submitted to the undersigned representative of said three companies at the office of the General Purchasing Agent of Union Pacific, Room 204, Union Pacific Building, 1416 Dodge Street, Omaha 2, Nebraska, by 12 o'clock noon, Central Standard Time, on Thursday, the 25th day of April, 1946, and shall be opened by the undersigned or their respective assistants.

Bids received after that time will not be considered.

3. Bids must be prepared and submitted in conformity with the regulations above mentioned, and requisite forms will, on request, be furnished by any of the undersigned.

4. For the fifteen sleeping cars to be allotted to Union Pacific as above indicated, the successful bidder will be required to enter into and execute proposed contract serial No. 5871, providing for cash payment on presentation of invoices with supporting data, subject, however, to the provisions of the last paragraph of this Section 4. Purchase price to be F.O.B. Omaha, Nebraska, and delivery to be made on rails of Union Pacific at Omaha, Nebraska.

For the four sleeping cars to be allotted to North Western as above indicated, the successful bidder will be required to enter into and execute proposed contract serial No. 75, providing for cash payment on presentation of invoices with supporting data, subject, however, to the provisions of the last paragraph of this Section 4. Purchase price to be F.O.B. Omaha, Nebraska, and delivery to be made on the rails of the North Western at Omaha, Nebraska.

For the four sleeping cars to be allotted to the Wabash as above indicated, the successful bidder will be required to enter into and execute proposed contract serial No. 1, providing for cash payment on presentation of invoices with supporting data. Prices to be F.O.B. Omaha, Nebraska, and delivery to be made on the rails of the Wabash at Omaha, Nebraska.

Each of said contracts shall provide for the construction of said sleeping cars in accordance with Union Pacific Railroad Company General Specification No. 410 and Detail Specifications Nos. 412, 413 and 414 and accompanying floor plan drawings (which specifications and drawings have been adopted by the North Western and Wabash) and for completion of delivery of the cars during the first quarter of 1947.

Each Union Pacific proposed contract serial No. 5871 and North Western proposed contract serial No. 75 shall provide that it is subject to assignment under equipment trust or financing under a mutually satisfactory conditional sale contract.

5. The right is reserved to reject any and all bids.

6. Complete information, including specifications and drawings, forms of proposals and of the proposed serial numbered contracts above mentioned, is now on file in the offices of the undersigned and said data may be inspected and examined and copies thereof obtained free of charge during the business hours of any business day by persons desiring to examine the same with a view to bidding.

Dated this 21st day of March, 1946.

St. Louis Beagles To Run in Trials At Pinckneyville

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

JEFFERSON CITY, April 2—Two St. Louis beagles—Echoing Nifty, owned by Charles Taylor, and Ge Joe, owned by George Wollmerhauser—are eligible to compete in the Western Association trials at Pinckneyville, Ill., next Saturday and Sunday following their triumphs in the 15-inch class of the first annual derby trial sponsored here by the Central Missouri Beagle Club.

Echoing Nifty placed first and Ge Joe fourth, in the local derby which attracted 10 hounds in the 15-inch class and 15 in the 13-inch division. The four winning dogs in each class are eligible to compete at Pinckneyville.

Thirteen-inch class—Karo Flirt, first, owned by Roy Scheperle, Jefferson City, and handled by Leonard Moffett, Cantrill, Ia.; Markway's Playboy Jane, second, owned by A. H. Diemler, Jefferson City, and handled by George Kelsay, Jefferson City; Callaway Minette, third, owned by Ed Fischer, Jefferson City, and handled by Harold Fischer, Lohman, Mo.; Chickamaga Flirt, owned by Dr. H. Hines, Cleveland, Tenn., and handled by Charles Chasey, Pleasant Mond, Ill.; Hunsicker's Rose-O-Letta, fifth or reserve, owned by Dean Hunsicker, Kansas City, and handled by Garret Vancil, Hickman Mills, Mo.

Race Board to Meet.

CHICAGO, April 2 (UP) — The Illinois racing board will meet today to discuss various matters pertaining to the opening of the Illinois season April 27 at Sportsman's Park. Ednyfed H. Williams, chairman of the board, will preside.

Beaumont Player Suffers Broken Leg

Jim Pettit, Beaumont's first string catcher, suffered a broken leg sliding into second base as the team defeated Blewett, 2 to 1, in a practice game yesterday afternoon on the Blewett Field.

Pettit scored the winning run on a single, a stolen base and going home on a wild throw and in the sixth again tried to steal second when the accident occurred.

Bob Rooney, St. Louis U. High third baseman, scored three runs as the Bills bested Roosevelt, 4-0. Scores:

Competition in Men's Doubles Begins in Indoor Tennis Meet

That department of tennis generally offering the most excitement from a spectator's viewpoint—the men's doubles competition—will provide eight of the 17 matches on tonight's St. Louis district indoor program at the Washington University Field House. These will be second round affairs and there will be three women's singles quarterfinal contests.

Allan Carvell, defending singles champion, and Harold Wiese, runnerup to Wayne C. Smith and Ward Parker, in the 1944 indoor final, is the present No. 1 seeded team, and opposes Ted Jones and Eugene Pettus in one of the two 9 p.m. matches. Smith, who has Teddy Eggman for his partner, oppose Bon Pearson and Monroe C. Lewis Jr. at 8 o'clock. Ken Oliver and Parker form a new combination slated to meet George Hendry and Wilbur Eckstein at 7.

An all-World War II veterans' team finds Frank Keaney and Frank Thompson on the same side. They are pitted against Ken Korby and Dr. E. O. Menzel at 10. Keaney and Thompson were seeded fourth behind Smith and Eggman. The No. 2 seeded outfit is made up of Karl Hodge and Bobby Weinstock, a top ranking player. This team takes on Wessel Shapleigh and David Ferriss at 8.

Mrs. Merceina Parker, winner of several previous indoor titles, is campaigning for the top position again and will meet a formidable junior star, LaVeryn Ray, at 8 o'clock. Mrs. Parker won a 6-0, 6-0 match from Mary K. Finke in the first round. Thelma Kenefick, one of the top ranking girls' field hockey players in the United States and athletic director at Villa Duchesne, meets Bertha Scott, winner over Mrs. Eugene Pettus, 8-6, 6-0.

Mrs. Wilma Smith, Centralia, Ill., will be favored over Violet Berger at 7.

Nancy Pearce evidently made good use of her book on "How to Play Tennis," as she played remarkably well to eliminate Mrs. Barbara Mallinckrodt, 6-1, 3-6, 6-2. Mrs. Mallinckrodt played a great deal of her tennis at the Merion Cricket Club in Philadelphia while a student at Vassar. Miss Pearce is a Blewett student.

Thompson is still a top choice in the men's singles division, especially after blasting Bill Roeder in a 6-1, 6-1 match. Roeder played quite well, too. Keaney, Smith, Carvell and Hodge won easily to reach the third round.

Last night's program finally came to a halt at 2:15 a.m.

STOCK LEADERS DOWN, ASSORTED LIST ADVANCES

NEW YORK, April 2 (AP)—Rubbers and selected industrials attracted worthwhile bids in today's stock market although many leaders continued to suffer from light offerings.

Slowdowns were frequent after a fairly active opening. There were a few wide jumps by "thin" issues but gains and losses generally were in fractions. Trends were well jumbled but comebacks were plentiful near the close.

Sales were 1,040,000 shares compared with 1,050,000 shares yesterday.

Of the 923 issues traded in today, 381 were higher, 343 lower and 199 unchanged. Eighty-four made new 1946 highs and 18 new 1946 lows.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks closed up .2 of a point at 77.8. The industrial group was up .5 of a point.

Back of the Buying.

Dividends, earnings, actual and potential splitups, combined with the persistent urge to get idle funds working, again served to bring out specialized purchasing, brokers said. Trimming of accounts here and there was blamed partly on apprehension concerning the coal strike and the desire to await developments when the U.N.O. Council reconvenes. The rubber group was stimulated by predictions of record peacetime output this year. Profits prospects enlivened some of the amusements.

Eastman Kodak was up 4 points on a 100-share transactions. Wyandotte Worsted added about 6. Ahead the greater part of the time were Goodrich, U. S. Rubber, Goodyear, Spiegel, American Distilling, Dow Chemical, American Smelting, International Telephone, Republic Pictures, R-K-O and Electric Boat.

Utilities were unresponsive to yesterday's Supreme Court "death sentence" decree. Laggards included Electric Power & Light, American Water Works, Douglas Aircraft, Santa Fe, Southern Pacific, National Distillers, Graham-Paige, Philip Morris and U. S. Gypsum. United Aircraft wiped out an early decline on word the company had made a favorable settlement of its terminated Army-Navy contracts.

Trend on the Curb.

DeVilbiss common, in the curb, pushed up on a proposal to split the stock. Supported were Hearn Department Stores, Fansteel and National City Lines.

The common stock of Sunshine Biscuits, successor to Loose-Wiles, which made its first appearance on the big board Monday, enjoyed an early bulge today when directors voted a $1 dividend on the issue. This was the equivalent of $2 on the old shares. Spiegel common also was given a lift on expanding earnings. Wyandotte Worsted was aided by the recommendation of a 100 per cent stock dividend.

Liquors, while still under the shadow of current and possibly additional grain restrictions, had the benefit of a pleasing quarterly statement by Distillers Corp. This concern, for the three months ended Jan. 31, reported $3.93 a share compared with $2.06 in the like period of 1945. Net per share for six months was placed at $7.34 against $5.16 a year ago.

CORPORATION REPORTS

NEW YORK, April 2 (AP)—Sumner Simpson, president of Raybestos-Manhattan, Inc., told stockholders at the annual meeting today the company's 1946 sales were estimated at $40,000,000 to $45,000,000 compared with $25,400,000 in 1940, last prewar year. Sales in 1945 totaled $51,600,000. Earnings this year, Simpson said, would not be as large as in the past three years, because of increased wages and material costs, but he expected they would be sufficient to pay the regular quarterly dividends. He said the company was hopeful of favorable action by OPA on a request for an increase in prices and that results in the second half of the year should improve. Estimated first quarter net income of 30 to 35 cents a share compares with 53 cents in the first 1945 quarter. Stockholders were told the company has no plan for splitting the outstanding shares, and that its investment in Flintkote shares remains intact.

NEW YORK, April 2 (AP)—Directors of Sunshine Biscuits Co. today declared an initial dividend of $1 a share on the new $12.50 par value common, payable May 1 to stock of record April 18. The company, formerly the Loose-Wiles Biscuit Co., said this was equal to $2 a share on the old $25 par stock on which a dividend of 25 cents and an extra of the same amount was paid on Feb. 1.

NEW YORK, April 2—General Steel Castings Corp. reported 1945 net income of $1,531,212, equal to $15.31 a preferred share, compared with 1944 net of $1,064,505, or $10.64 a share. Share earnings are based on 100,000 shares of $6 preferred on which unpaid dividend accumulations amounted to $6.50 a share on Dec. 31, 1945.

NEW YORK, April 2 (AP)—Tide Water Associated Oil Co. reported 1945 net income of $18,108,000, equal after preferred dividends to $2.57 a common share, compared with $17,787,000 or $2.43 on common, in 1944.

Proposes 100 Pct. Stock Dividend.

NEW YORK, April 2 (AP)—A recommendation by directors of Wyandotte Worsted Co. for an increase in authorized stock to provide a 100 per cent stock dividend will be submitted to stockholders at a special meeting May 6 at Waterville, Me.

Under the proposal, the authorized $5 par common shares would be increased from 300,000 to 900,000 shares, and each holder would receive a stock dividend matching each share held. This would increase the outstanding stock to 600,000 shares, and the remaining 300,000 would be unissued and held in reserve.

MARCH SALES SET RECORD

NEW YORK, April 2 (AP)—New York City department store sales in March were the highest for that month in history, a preliminary estimate by the Federal Reserve Bank of New York today disclosed.

Sales rose 23 per cent above the previous March peak in 1945 despite a late Easter and the fact that this March had one less shopping day than the same month a year ago.

Retail executives said the increase could be accounted for to some extent by heavy gains in such items as housewares, floor coverings, lamps, silverware, furniture and other durable goods.

Textile Market.

NEW YORK, April 2 (AP)—Interest in the cotton textile market today centered on the revised order M-317A governing set-asides for the current quarter. Only scattered sales of print cloths and sheetings were reported.

As expected emphasis was placed on increased supplies of industrial and agricultural constructions which, apart from the output of bag matrial, will amount to 9.5 per cent of production for the period. The order called for 7.5 per cent of output on certain class B sheetings to 100 per cent of chafer fabrics and some ducks.

LIBERAL SALES OF WHEAT FUTURES DROP RYE, OATS

CHICAGO, April 2 (AP)—Liberal sales of December and September deliveries of wheat by commission houses with cash connections at ceiling prices depressed active deliveries in rye and oats in today's late trading.

Pit observers said more than a million bushels of deferred wheat changed hands, and believed the reason for the sale was the prospect the Government would announce soon a plan to increase deliveries from producers.

Sales of rye and oats followed wheat, carrying prices well below yesterday's close. Deferred deliveries of barley however held firm and advanced about ½ cent.

During the last quarter hour enough September wheat was offered to satisfy demand at ceiling and prices dipped as much as ⅜c from the ceiling.

GOVERNMENT BONDS SELL AT NEW PEAKS

NEW YORK, April 2 (AP)—U. S. Government issues sold at new record highs in bond dealings today. Long-term federal notes in over-the-counter trade advanced the ¼-daily point limit permitted by the Treasury during the first hour's business, dealers reported.

Short-term and intermediate maturities tended a bit lower, both in the stock market and dealers' markets.

Corporates liens moved less decisively. In the popular rail group gains had a slight edge over losses but changes either way were small for the most part.

Marked up a bit were issues of Central of Georgia, Erie, Illinois Central, Norfolk & Western, Northern Pacific and Wisconsin Central.

Losers included bonds of Central of N. J., Chicago & Alton, North Western, Great Northern, Seaboard and Texas & Pacific.

United States Treasury 2½s of December 1972-67 closed up 10-32 of a point at 105.28, the 2½s of 1962-59 were ahead 1.2 points at 107.27 and the 2¼s of 1962-59 were up 14-32 at 104.4.

M-K-T FUNDED DEBT IS CUT $4,500,000

The Missouri-Kansas-Texas Railroad system reduced its funded debt by more than $4,500,000 in 1945 and increased its earning per ton mile, although there was a postwar reduction in volume of both freight and passenger traffic. The annual meeting of stockholders will be held April 5.

Donald V. Fraser, president of the company, announced that gross earnings last year were $83,000,000, a drop of nearly a million dollars from the Katy's record 1944 gross. Operating expenses, however, were reduced by nearly $2,000,000, with the net result that $3,867,599 was carried to Katy's earned surplus despite the postwar traffic drop.

Revenue received from the hauling of freight during 1945 was $63,533,030, a drop of $500,000 from the record earnings of the previous year. Its passenger revenues dropped to $13,052,816, a reduction of 6 per cent from the record of 1944.

COTTON NEARS 28 CENTS

NEW YORK, April 2 (AP)—Cotton futures rallied today to gains of 85 cents a bale and new season's highs on mill and outside buying influenced by the possibility of a more liberal price control program.

However, the market subsequently encountered considerable commission house and New Orleans profit taking which erased a good part of the gains. Private advices reported the weather during the past week was generally unfavorable for crop preparation and planting.

Late afternoon prices were unchanged to 60 cents a bale higher. May, 27.86; July, 27.88; October, 27.80.

MISSOURI-KANSAS-TEXAS RAILROAD COMPANY

Request for Bids.

Missouri-Kansas-Texas Railroad Company hereby invites bids for the lowest interest rate at which the bidder will loan to this company for the period and upon the terms and conditions herein stated, the sum of $4,750,000.00, said loan to be evidenced by the company's promissory note and to be secured by the pledge of its Prior Lien Mortgage Five Per Cent. Bonds, Series F, due January 1, 1975. No bid for less than the entire amount of the loan will be considered. The interest rate may be designated at any percent or fraction thereof.

The company will covenant to maintain at all times the pledge of its said Prior Lien Mortgage Five Per Cent. Bonds, Series E, in a principal amount equal as nearly as may be to but not less than 150 percent of the amount of the loan, the ratio of collateral security, however, to be not less than 125 percent in market value of said bonds to the outstanding principal amount of such loan and to be maintained at such latter ratio by pledge of such additional amounts of bonds from time to time as requested by the holder of the note.

The company will agree to pay the loan in quarterly installments of $175,000.00 each, commencing on December 31, 1946, and ending on September 30, 1951, the balance of $1,250,000.00 to be payable on December 31, 1951, and it is to have the right to prepay the loan in whole or in part at any date before maturity.

Upon payment of each of the quarterly installments above mentioned this company shall have the right, in the absence of any default in respect of any maturity, installment payment, or interest as and when the same becomes due on the note, and in the absence of any receivership, foreclosure, reorganization or insolvency proceedings against or affecting this company or a substantial part of its property, upon the request of this company's Chairman of the Board, President or Vice President to withdraw such portion of the bonds pledged as security as may be withdrawn without reducing the ratio of the bonds so pledged to the loan outstanding after such payment below 150 percent principal value and 125 percent market value.

The proceeds of this loan will be used to pay off, satisfy, and discharge an indebtedness of a like amount owed by this company to the Central Hanover Bank & Trust Company, New York, N. Y., retirement of which indebtedness will release $7,500,000.00 principal amount of Applicant's Prior Lien Mortgage Five Per Cent. Bonds, Series E, due January 1, 1975, securing same, and which latter bonds, to the extent necessary, Applicant will pledge as collateral security for this loan.

This request for bids is made pursuant to the regulations prescribed by the Interstate Commerce Commission in its order of October 6, 1919, as amended October 4, 1920, in its Docket Ex Parte No. 54. Bids pursuant to this invitation must be submitted in duplicate on forms furnished by the undersigned. Each bid must be enclosed in a plain envelope, securely sealed, bearing no indication of the name of the bidder or the amount of the bid, and shall be marked "Bid under proposed Contract No. F-1," and shall be addressed to the undersigned at his office, Room 1506 Railway Exchange Building, St. Louis 1, Missouri. All bids must be received on or before twelve o'clock noon, Central Standard Time, on the 12th day of April, 1946. Bids so received will be opened by the undersigned, or in his absence by D. V. Fraser, President of the company, at said office immediately after twelve o'clock noon, Central Standard Time, on the 12th day of April, 1946.

The company reserves the right to reject any and all bids. In the event that the lowest rate of interest bid shall be offered by more than one bidder, the successful bidder shall be chosen by lot, unless the company shall reject all bids. Any acceptance of a bid will be subject to the procuring by the company of all necessary authorization and approval of the Interstate Commerce Commission for the issuance of the company's note and the pledge of the collateral security thereunder. Notice of acceptance of the most favorable bid, subject to such authorization and approval of the Interstate Commerce Commission will be telegraphed to the successful bidder not later than 1:00 o'clock P. M., Central Standard Time, on the 13th day of April, 1946.

Payment of the said sum of $4,750,000.00 is to be made against the delivery of the company's note in said amount and the pledge of said Prior Lien Mortgage Five Per Cent. Bonds, Series E, due January 1, 1975, on such date as the company may designate, on five days' notice to the successful bidder, such date to be as soon as practicable after the Interstate Commerce Commission shall have authorized the issuance of said note and the pledge of collateral security thereunder, but not later, however, than ten days after the date of such authorization and approval.

Copies of the proposed form of Note and Loan Agreement, and the forms for submission of bids, are available upon application at the office of the undersigned.

R. J. MORFA,
Chairman of the Board.

MISSOURI-KANSAS-TEXAS RAILROAD COMPANY, Room 1506 Railway Exchange Building, St. Louis 1, Missouri.

Dated the 27th day of March, 1946.

JAP VOTE APRIL 10 IMPERATIVE, SAYS MACARTHUR REPLY

He Tells Allied Board Delay Would Have Adverse Effect on People and Occupation.

WASHINGTON, April 2 (AP)—Gen. Douglas MacArthur told the Far Eastern Commission that postponement of the Japanese elections, scheduled for April 10, "would certainly be misunderstood by the Japanese people and would have a profound adverse reaction on the purposes and success of the occupation."

He also reported that "all parties in Japan, except the Communist party, overwhelmingly" favored the proposed constitution to be voted on then.

The supreme commander's message, received Friday, was made public at the State Department yesterday along with the communication which the commission sent on March 21 asking for his views. The commission voted Saturday not to recommend postponement, with delegates of Russia and New Zealand dissenting.

Alternative Is Rule by Edict.

MacArthur made it plain to the 11-nation policy-making body that he regarded it as imperative that the elections be held on schedule. He said the only alternative to electing a new Diet (parliament) would be "government by imperial edict which denies to the Japanese people the right to participate in their own domestic affairs."

He explained that the present Diet was "completely unsatisfactory because of its war taint and its unrepresentative character, having been elected in 1942 under Tojo's control." Under the purge which he began on Jan. 4, about 90 per cent of the present Diet members and many other high officials have been removed from office, MacArthur added.

He asserted that every candidate of the more than 3000 for the new Diet had been screened for affiliation or association with "militarism and ultra-nationalism."

Confident of Free Expression.

"The election laws are now sufficiently democratic to provide ample opportunity for a free expression of the popular will," MacArthur wrote. "It is probable that the new Diet will be the most truly responsive body to the will of the people that has ever served Japan and will provide the basis for a much more representative cabinet."

If the election results were unfavorable, MacArthur said, the remedy was always in his power "to require the dissolution of the Diet and the holding of a new election under such provisions as are deemed necessary."

BREWERIES USED MORE WHEAT IN FEBRUARY THAN JANUARY

WASHINGTON, April 2 (AP)—Internal Revenue Bureau figures show that more wheat and wheat products were used by brewers in February than in January although their use in beer making was halted by the Government Feb. 6.

In February, according to the figures, 5,712,312 pounds were used at the breweries against 4,829,994 in January. Decreases were shown in February use of hops, malt, corn, rice and their products, while increases were shown in use of barley, sorghum, soybeans, sugar and syrups.

The restriction on use of grains other than wheat to 70 per cent of 1945 consumption did not become effective until March 1. The cutbacks were ordered to save grain for relief of food-short foreign nations. February beer production dropped about 3 per cent under January, bureau figures showed, but there was a compensating rise in stocks.

ADJUSTABLE PRICING ORDER ON NON-STRIKE COAL FIRMS

Two Illinois coal producers' associations will be allowed to sell coal at present ceiling pices with the understanding that customers will be required to pay any increases eventually granted by the Office of Price Administration, it was announced in Washington today.

The adjustable pricing order applies to the St. Clair-Madison County Coal Operators' Association and the Coal Producers' Association of Illinois, which have contracts with the non-striking Progressive Mine Workers. It will cover all coal sold except that supplied by retail dealers. These operators usually pay any wage increases granted to the United Mine Workers, who are now on strike.

FRANCO SETS UP BLOCK AGAINST ANY INVASION

They carried small arms only, and there was no sign of heavy equipment.

Slouchy as Soldiers.

To this correspondent, who crossed much of Germany with the United States Third Army, it seemed the Spanish military had copied German uniforms. The Spanish soldiers seen wore the same flowing, green-gray woolen coats with many pleats and the same black leather belts and pistol holsters. The difference was that whereas the Germans filled out their uniforms and wore their greatcoats with dash and a swagger, the Spaniards slouched and slumped in theirs, and gave the impression that their uniforms were two sizes too large and handdowns by older brothers.

Snappy Dressers? Bah!

He's Not Envious, 'Just a Bit Hurt

By Henry McLemore

WASHINGTON, April 2.

SORE? Burned up? Envious? No, none of these. Just a bit hurt. A bit bewildered, too, that my name didn't appear anywhere on the list of America's 10 Best Dressed Men as announced in New York by the Custom Tailors Guild.

Of course, it may be that they left me off because I don't patronize custom tailors. To tell the truth, I'm not exactly sure just what a custom tailor is, but my guess is that he is one of those men who shows you samples first, then measures you from feet to eyelashes (unless you want a matching cap, then he measures your head, too). Then he gets out a book and starts making dates with you, and your time isn't your own for the next seven weeks.

The first time you go back he re-measures you to make sure. The following Tuesday you spend half an afternoon while he studies you from a distance to determine what will look best on you —a two-button, a three-button, or a four-button job, and whether or not your build calls for a drape creation or a lounge model.

A WEEK LATER you have to cancel all business plans and spend the morning having pins stuck in you, and two weeks later you return to the tailor's to try on something that looks like a mile and a half of white thread. On Thanksgiving Day you get the suit.

Now, that way of getting a suit is all right for men like Edward Stettinius (he's No. 1 on the list) who has nothing to do but look after his minor interests in United States Steel and act as chairman of the American delegation to the U.N.O. Council.

★ ★ ★

MR. STETTINIUS probably has four or five suits, all of which fit him, so time is no great factor with him. But when I buy a suit on Monday it is because I need it on Tuesday, else I would have to wear my good blue serge which is reserved for Sundays and social occasions. So, by buying ready-made or "off the rack" clothes —when they are available—I can usually try on a suit in the morning and wear it that evening, thanks to a trick I have of tipping the salesman anywhere from 30 to 50 cents to rush the job.

★ ★ ★

SEVERAL of the men listed in the Big Ten are friends of mine, and I'll swear to you that they are not what I would call "snappy" dressers. There is nothing sharp about their clothes. Take Alfred Gwynne Vanderbilt (No. 4 on the list), for example. When he walks into a room no one notices his clothes. He is actually inconspicuous. I have seen him out at night when his socks, ties, and handkerchiefs didn't match, and there were no initials on his tie clasp or on his belt buckle. I have also seen him wearing a bow tie that he had obviously tied at home himself, when everyone knows that a ready-tied bow tie—or jazz bow—gives a snappier appearance.

★ ★ ★

NO SOUR GRAPES, believe me, but how could the Custom Tailors Guild choose Henry R. Luce as the best dressed journalist without ever having seen me when I was ready to go out? I have things in my wardrobe that I'll bet Mr. Luce doesn't have in his. Does he have a McLemore clan plaid tie from the gents' furnishing section of the largest store in Statesboro, Georgia? Does he have a sweat shirt and a yellow slicker with autographs on them?

Does he have a gray-striped seersucker suit for hot days, and does he have two pairs of pants for every coat?

Fair warning, though, Mr. Luce. I am going to bring my knicker suit.

Two Kinds of Errors

By Christopher Billopp

THERE are two kinds of errors—plain errors and glaring errors. Plain errors are errors that nobody catches except yourself, so you can make as many of them as you please.

But a glaring error is one that somebody catches as, for example, saying that Columbus discovered America in 1493. A person who catches an error is not likely to sit idly by after he has caught it.

He will come to you and inquire, "Did you say Columbus discovered America in 1493?" And when you reply innocently that you did, he will look at you scornfully and remark that he supposed everybody knew it was in 1492.

THEN IT WILL dawn on you that you have made a glaring error and you will exclaim, "Oh, of course," and wonder how you could have made it. And the awful part of it is that you won't know how you made it. And since you don't know you have no safeguard against making other glaring errors.

You will begin to wonder if Washington's birthday actually is Feb. 22 and whether the Declaration of Independence really was signed on July 4, 1776, and if Christmas falls on Dec. 25. At any rate you knew that Columbus discovered America in 1492 as well as you know them, and yet you said 1493!

★ ★ ★

OBVIOUSLY you cannot trust your memory any longer. Before making a statement you will have to look it up in a dictionary or an encyclopedia. And it is a tedious business doing that every time you open your mouth.

When caught in a glaring error you might reply, "Oh, well. What difference does it make?" But in doing so you deny the importance of schools, examinations, and the very foundations of society. You might just as well admit that you wouldn't mind being an aboriginee.

This railroad track was twisted from its bed by the force of the seismic wave that struck the island of Oahu, on which Honolulu is situated. The scene is near the town of Ashley on the windward side of the island.

TIDAL WAVE DESTRUCTION

Scene in the downtown section of Hilo, hardest hit of Hawaiian areas struck by yesterday's tidal waves, showing wreckage of several buildings that were demolished and hurled across a street. In right background are a dry goods store and the Kress building. The city, on the island of Hawaii, was lashed by three swells and estimates indicated life loss there might reach 300.

Circles indicate series of seismic sea waves in the Pacific yesterday which originated with a submarine earthquake south of the Aleutian chain. On Unimak island (A), 10 men were swept to sea from the Scotch Cap lighthouse; to the south (B) naval installations were damaged on Midway and Johnston islands and the seas swept over tiny East island. The Hawaiian islands (C) took the most shattering blows, centering on Hilo. Inset shows main islands of the Hawaiian group.

DEATH OF AN ELM

An elm tree in the 8500 block of Riverview boulevard killed by the virus disease phloem necrosis, which has destroyed thousands of these shade trees in the city and county. This tree, with its bark falling off, was one of hundreds planted in the center parkway along Riverview under a WPA program about 10 years ago. Most of the other young elms in the parkway have not been affected.

The United Nations of New York

NEW YORK is the breath-taking stone and steel monument to the twentieth century. It was erected by the brawn, brains and sweat of foreigners and their descendants. The varied nationalities, religions and races have lived together in peace and enjoyed the benefits of democracy. New York is the striking reality of the American dream. . . . If one great city can be the living example of the UNO ideals—and if 48 United States can do it—so can the United Nations. . . . New York represents the test-tube of the One World experiment. If eight million people can accomplish that—billions can. For the experiment has succeeded far beyond the wildest hopes of starry-eyed dreamers and prophets.

★ ★ ★

OUR FABULOUS METROPOLIS should be an inspiration for visiting UNO delegates. Here is living proof of UNO ideals. The Big Town's diversity of creeds and nationalities would amaze even many native New Yorkers. Every member of the United Nations has contributed to its myriad population, plus some nations that aren't members. This is a big city and a little world.

THE BRITISH ATMOSPHERE of Ye Olde English Chop Houses along Thames street. Many of them are replicas of famed eateries in London. They feature wood-paneled walls, separate stalls and are decorated with early prints. The cuisine is simply ripping, old boy. It is usually so quiet there—you can hear a monocle drop.

★ ★ ★

THE WEST FORTIES AND FIFTIES have a French population that is large enough to form a true French Quarter. Bastille Day and other French national holidays are celebrated here, and many restaurants serve Gallic dishes. If you pass this sector—you can enjoy the sight of stylishly-groomed mademoiselles living up to their reps as slick chicks. Whew-la-la!

★ ★ ★

EVERY SECTION of the planet is represented in our incredible overgrown hamlet. Among the foreign colonies that thrive here are the Hindus, Persians, Mexican Indians and Koreans. The Hindus and Persians are for the most part prosperous merchants and importers. . . . The mosque in Brooklyn attracts devout Mohammedans. Most of the Mohammedans in our town are Turks.

THE ESTONIANS periodically hold music festivals, at which many of the men and women appear in the Estonian peasant costume—and a good time is had by all. . . . An imposing edifice known as the Norwegian Seamen's Church is maintained chiefly for Norwegian sailors. It has always had its pastor selected by church and governmental authorities in Norway.

THE EAST SIDE Armenian shops—holes-in-the-wall—feature copper coffee urns, silver vases, ornate Victorian lamps and mantel clocks and an occasional porcelain shepherdess. Priceless antique metalware is sold here as well as the shoddiest machine-made articles.

AFTER CZECHOSLOVAKIA became an independent nation in 1918 many Slovaks from downtown moved up into the Czech quarter, and the two groups have combined many of their interests. Pride in their languages and traditions has prompted them to maintain separate schools where (after public school hours) the children can be taught their native speech and history. One of the city's most colorful spectacles is the annual Decoration Day Czechoslovak parade in native costume.

FAMED CHINATOWN is packed with more happy orientals than you can find in Asia. Here are unique joss houses where Chinese Buddhists worship. Shops hawk exotic herbs at fantastic fees. And if you listen closely, you can pick up the jive lingo and swift patter of the almond-eyed jitterbugs.

★ ★ ★

AT THE FOOT of Washington street you will appreciate New York's cosmopolitan rep. This is the Syrian Quarter where newsstands feature Arabic dailies. Turks, Armenians and Greeks also make their homes here. Shops glitter with vivid Syrian silks of rainbow hues. Coffee houses and confectioneries of the Levantines add a picturesque touch. Occasionally, you can be startled by the sight of an old man in a fez.

★ ★ ★

LITTLE ITALY'S rollicking fiestas are among the town's wow scenes. The streets are strung with lights, and happiness gets a workout. The people sing and dance and toss inhibitions to the winds. This is joy in action—something you can never find in uppity saloons in other parts of town.

★ ★ ★

SPANISH HARLEM'S turbulent tempo. New market openings are accompanied by the beating of tom-toms. Almost every shop sells rare tropical fruits and vegetables. The incessant babble is usually caused by the friendly bargaining spirit which is prevalent here. The first price asked is always more than the vendor expects to receive. Bargaining is a custom of their native lands.

Social Problems

ON THE subject of showers comes this question: "Since it is said to be incorrect for a bride's family to give a bridal shower, does the same answer apply to a woman's family in connection with their giving her a baby shower?"

The answer to this is not quite so restricting because of the extremely personal situation. Even so, a future g randmother is a somewhat less suitable hostess than a future aunt or better yet, cousin.

DEAR MRS. POST: Would it be wrong for me to join my future husband's church before we are married? I have been going to his church—in fact, my own parents go there often because they like the minister—and it would be a very much more beautiful church in which to plan a wedding.

Answer: Of course, you may join the church, and ask the clergyman of your choice to perform your marriage service. No one could possibly criticize you for not waiting until later for a change you intend to make.

DEAR MRS. POST: What happens to relations by marriage when that marriage ends in divorce?

Answer: Technically I suppose the divorce also legally ends the relationships. Actually, whether you go on seeing an ex-husband's relatives depends entirely upon your own and their feelings and upon whether you have children who are devoted to these relatives and they to them.

IN checking over the foods that you might store away now and have when they will be scarce, you may wonder about the advisability of canning grapefruit. If one can obtain firm grapefruit at a reasonable price, there is no reason why it can't be canned very successfully. Unlike most all other fruits, it is processed below the boiling point. The process is called pasteurization and this temperature of 180 degrees needs to be kept just as constant as the boiling point in a water bath in which you would process tomatoes. But this point is not so easily ascertained by observation as in the boiling of water. Therefore one requires a thermometer to keep the temperature at exactly the right point. A candy or bath thermometer will serve the purpose well. Sugar is not necessary for canning grapefruit, either for eating or for keeping. In fact, we obtained the best results by using a little salt. The things to keep in mind when canning grapefruit are: Obtain good grapefruit. Provide jars that are sound and clean and have new lids to make a perfect seal. Peel grapefruit carefully just as you would peel an apple. Section the fruit carefully over a glass bowl or an enamel pan so that all the dripping juice can be collected and poured over sections after they are placed in the jar. By following the directions carefully the beautiful jars of fruit with the sections remaining almost as perfect in shape as when they are first put in may be obtained.

Canned Grapefruit.

Select eight to 10 pounds heavy-weight grapefruit. Remove peel from grapefruit just as you would from an apple, peeling deep enough to remove all white membrane, and cut through just to the flesh. When finished, the juicy ball should show all the dividing membranes between sections. Cut down on both sides of membranes and gently lift out the loosened sections, using a very sharp thin-bladed knife to do the work. Save all juice which drips out and return to the fruit. Pack grapefruit sections in sterilized jars (Each quart will take four or five pounds of grapefruit.). Add one-fourth teaspoon salt or two tablespoons sugar for each quart, and fill to within one-half inch of the top with grapefruit juice. Exhaust 15 minutes, by setting the open jars in a water bath heated to 180 degrees Fahrenheit (just less than simmering), with water coming to two and one-half inches of the top. Seal with hot enamel-lined lids. Return to hot water bath, adding simmering water to cover jars to a depth of one inch over the top, and leave for 20 minutes to pasteurize, at 180 degrees Fahrenheit. Be sure all jars and lids are sterile, because the pasteurizing temperature is not high enough to sterilize jars. Grapefruit develops a bitter flavor if exhausted and processed at boiling. Grapefruit canned with salt and pasteurized has a good flavor and has less tendency to float. Processing time—pints and quarts—five minutes at 180 degrees Fahrenheit.

MENUS FOR WEDNESDAY.

LUNCHEON—Corned beef hash, buttered green beans, Jello with cream, remainder of oatmeal cookies.

DINNER—Broiled lamb chops, mint jelly, French-fried potatoes, escalloped corn, grated carrots and cottage cheese salad, Sally Lunn bread, peppermint stick ice cream.

Sally Lunn Bread.

Cream two tablespoons margarine, add three tablespoons sugar and cream thoroughly. Add one egg yolk and beat well. Sift all-purpose flour, measure one cup and resift with two teaspoons baking powder and one-half teaspoon salt. Add the flour mixture and one-half cup milk alternately, beginning and ending with the flour. Beat well and pour into a greased 9x9-inch pan. Bake at 400 degrees Fahrenheit for five minutes. Sprinkle one-half cup cubed cranberry jelly over the top of the batter and continue baking another 15 or 20 minutes or until golden brown. Serve immediately or while still warm. Four generous servings.

Serve each child two cups of milk to drink in addition to that used in today's menus.

MY DAY

By Eleanor Roosevelt

NEW YORK, Monday.

A POINT has been brought to my attention in connection with our disabled service men. I hope it will be considered in my own state of New York and in other states throughout the country, as well as by the Federal Government.

It appears that New York State has passed a grant which is to be given to blinded veterans in addition to whatever federal pension they may receive. The plea I received was that paralyzed veterans should be included in such a grant, because many of them are as handicapped as a blind person. This is probably true and I am sure that it is taken into consideration by the Federal Government in adjusting their pensions. But where the states pass special additional grants, it seems to me that the paralyzed young man should again receive consideration according to the handicap which he has to overcome.

For all disabled veterans, particularly when they are young, I think the aim should be to make them, as far as possible, self-supporting, because the ability to work and feel useful is the only thing that will make life worth while to many of these young people, but some basic security is certainly going to be essential for most of them.

* * *

SINCE MY RETURN to New York I have been in a whirl of family reunions. I was afraid I would miss my daughter and son-in-law, but, fortunately for me, their business kept them here and we have had a grand chance to see each other. In addition, I thought I would miss my youngest son and his wife, but they returned from a brief trip to Boston yesterday, on their way back to the west coast, and lunched with us. So the last few days have been very pleasant ones.

Last night I went to the annual public forum of the New York Newspaper Women's Club. I enjoyed it very much but felt that they had such a galaxy of talent on the speakers' platform that my own contribution was certainly superfluous.

How It Started

By Jean Newton

Turning the Tables.

Used today in the sense of counter-attack generally, almost anything might come under the head of turning the tables. Originally, however, the expression was quite literal, referring specifically to tables.

Two stories lie hidden beneath the surface of this colloquialism, which is first recorded in English in 1634.

According to one explanation, the phrase is a reference to the game of backgammon. Here, as fortune changed, favoring now one player and then another, the tables would be said to turn or to be turning or turned.

The other explanation is even more colorful; it brings into the picture an old Roman custom; and it shows milady of ancient times as one who knew how to stand or talk up for her rights.

According to this version, the idiom was born during the reign of Augustus, noted as an era of thriftlessness. One of the extravagances of the day was the purchase by the master of the household of expensive tables, made of rare materials, and inlaid with ivory or other precious substances. Competitive buying drove the prices of such tables to fantastic figures. And when a husband rebuked his wife for the sums she spent upon jewelry, cosmetics, or clothes, milady would simply turn to the tables upon which her spouse had lavished his means. "Turning the tables" upon her husband is said to have been an unanswerable argument.

My OPINION

By MARTHA CARR

Dear Martha Carr:

I HAVE a very dear relative who sometime ago got a divorce and sometimes it seems to us as if this is the end of the world. She seldom goes anywhere and we know that when she is alone she does a lot of crying, for her eyes show it. At the very mention of her former husband's name she is in tears. She gave him a divorce because she loved him so much that she wanted him to have what he thought was his happiness. We all know the divorce was a terrible mistake. Her religion will not permit her to ever marry again as long as he is alive. Can you suggest something we could do for her, something she can do which will make her feel once more that life is worth living? READER.

Letters intended for this column must be addressed to Martha Carr at the St. Louis Post-Dispatch. Mrs. Carr will answer all questions of general interest, but of course, cannot give advice on matters of a purely legal or medical nature. Those who do not care to have their letters published may enclose an addressed and stamped envelope for personal reply.

Divorce seldom fails to bring sadness and disillusionment in its wake, but to continue to give in to the sadness, after the break has once been made, and allow it to ruin one's life isn't to demonstrate either strength of character or good sense. Your friend made her own choice and now it is up to her to be brave and to start about remaking her life. You don't say that the former husband has married again. If he has not, if there is no real barrier to remarriage, then perhaps they could get together, decide the divorce was a mistake and begin over. If this is impossible your relative will have to learn to find her happiness along other lines, since that of marriage will be closed to her while her former husband lives. Work which will interest her and occupy her time should be sought, as well as recreation which will appeal, and in the course of which she can make new friends. Days and evenings, in short, should be so filled with activity that when her head touches the pillow at night she will be too weary to remember and to weep. All of you who love her can help her through this period of grief and readjustment, by including her in your activities, by discouraging tears and helping her to become more normal in her attitude and in her mode of living.

IN ANSWER TO "Mrs. W. M.": Your husband must learn to rely less on his family and on what they have to say, and make his own decisions. He should spend more time with you and the baby and less at his family's home. Perhaps he doesn't realize how this habit of drinking just a little too much and of running back and forth to mother is growing on him since his return. It takes many of the men some little time to settle down following their discharge from the service. But your husband has now been home several months and should have got once more into the swing of things. He must try to have a more adult attitude, shoulder his responsibilities as husband and father, be a good example to his little son. There are naturally many adjustments to be made by both of you, and these will take time. You have lived alone and managed everything since he left for the service and getting back to sharing and to normal married life may hold some stumbling blocks for you too. Get together, talk things out, don't even allow yourselves to think divorce. There may be fault on both sides. The baby should be your first consideration and he needs both of you.

IN ANSWER TO "Constant Reader": If your boy is still in the service it is quite all right to leave the flag up. The answer to the second question is "Yes."

CASE RECORDS

By Dr. George W. Crane

CASE J-256: Jerry K., aged 19, was one of the students in my social psychology class who illustrated a very common fault of human beings. "If I had my way," he began, "and if I had money and power to do so, I would deport all the So-and-So people to the middle of South America or Africa and dump them there, and I'd send all the So-and-So people to Alaska or Egypt and dump them there. By the time I cleaned up America of these races, it would be a pretty fair place in which to live. Don't you think so, Dr. Crane?"

★ ★ ★

NO, I DID NOT think so, and I explained why. We already have too much racial hatred and jealousy. At best, our people cultivate racial toleration but too seldom racial appreciation! Psychology, as well as religion, keeps emphasizing the need for racial appreciation. It is foolish prattling of an ignorant mind to state that this would be a happier nation if any one people was annihilated or removed. Races do not produce happiness or unhappiness. But individuals of different races do. It is another fallacy of logic, namely, "hasty generalization," to condemn a race just because we have been bested in a business deal or at tennis or in a love affair by a member of that other race.

★ ★ ★

GOD'S CHOSEN PEOPLE will never be selected by race or color or religion, but by individual merit. And the Hall of Science is not concerned with racial backgrounds or color. The music and art and science, plus the great literature of the world, are not confined to any one people. Every race of mankind has its nobility. And every race, unfortunately, has villains and cowards and selfish persons. Men and women inherit their brains and their health and their physical bodies from their ancestors. But morality and unselfishness and goodness and virtue are not inherited. They are acquired after we are born. So, too, are such vices as dishonesty, selfishness, lawlessness and hatred. All these vices and virtues are habits.

★ ★ ★

IT IS HIGH TIME that intelligent people freed themselves from petty childhood animosities and racial hatreds. We should all build up in ourselves, as well as in our children, a true appreciation of merit and talent and virtue, irrespective of where these are found. Bigots used to consign innocent men, women and children to the flames because of inane beliefs in witchcraft. The descendants of these same witch burners are with us today by the legion, and they thoughtlessly consign whole races to a figurative pyre, simply because they have encountered two or three villains among those races. Let us resolve to inculcate in our children an appreciative attitude toward merit regardless of where it may be found, and let us encourage them to frown upon deceit and vice as evils of individuals but not of races. At least in this American melting pot of racial backgrounds it behooves us to avoid these petty but very cruel slanders put upon various races of mankind.

It's Easy to Surrender To Hardship

By Elsie Robinson

SO in time, blindness came to Milton. Blindness is a bitter burden to any man, but to Milton, the impatient, fiery-tempered genius, it must have been a cross beyond bearing.

Yet because of it he wrote the greatest poem in his career, a sonnet "On His Blindness." For in it he put one immortal line which has comforted and given courage to millions:

Waiting. There's the toughest test which our human nature can face. And never have so many faced it as at present.

Waiting . . . waiting . . . so many millions of us waiting blindly in a world which we can no longer understand or enjoy.

How Milton must have rebelled against it in his endless night! But the day came when he faced his fate with something better than rebellion or hate. Vaguely at first, then with increasing vigor, he realized that he wasn't finished. The darkness need not be an empty void. He could fill it with song!

So Milton found the solution he needed so desperately. So for each of us in our long wait there is a solution—if we are willing to take it. But the real problem lies in those last seven words. We are not always willing to be helped or healed.

It is so much simpler to surrender to pain or poverty than it is to fight our way back to better days.

It is so much easier to seek escape in cherished grief or even make a racket of it than it is to put it behind us and take our place with the living once again.

Any hurt human can hate or be rebellious. There is a curious warped comfort in such hate as well as considerable publicity which we naturally grab.

It takes a truly valiant spirit to reject such unworthy escapes and be willing to be healed and to live and laugh and love again.

Seafood Casserole

One-half pound crabmeat, fresh or canned, one-half pound lobster, fresh or canned, one pound mushrooms, one-fourth pound butter or margarine, one-half cup heavy cream, salt, pepper, paprika, flour, bread crumbs, Parmesan cheese, two slices lean bacon.

Pick over seafood carefully. Melt butter or margarine in a large skillet over a low flame. Slice mushrooms very thin and saute in melted butter or margarine for five minutes. (Reserve skins and stems for stock to be used another time.) Dust the cooking mushrooms generously with flour and stir the melted butter or margarine and flour briskly. Add one half cup heavy cream and stir constantly until mixture thickens, adding more cream if too thick. Add seafood and hold over a low flame. Lightly butter a shallow baking casserole and place mixture in it. Sprinkle lightly with fine bread crumbs, then with Parmesan cheese. Cut bacon in thin strips and place lattice-fashion over the top of the mixture. Place under a preheated broiler until bacon is crisp and mixture starts to bubble (about 10 to 15 minutes). Watch carefully to prevent burning.

Longer Skirts Are Indicated by Tunics

The New Featured Tunic Is Thigh Length and Straight of Line

By Sylvia Stiles

WHENEVER tunics get the fashion limelight it's time to take notice that longer skirts definitely are entering the mode. There is no more certain barometer for the lengthening of skirts than the introduction of the longer tunic as a silhouette feature. The two always go together, if you look into the past for a brief study of style cycles.

For several seasons we have had a hint of tunics. Leading designers have launched longer jackets as the first evidence of this trend. When government regulations stopped them from adding as many inches as they wished to the peplums of suit coats, they dodged the issue by designating these as separate garments and selling matching skirts as individual items. This vogue of the longer suit jacket and the tunic coat is seen repeatedly in the spring fashions on display in the St. Louis stores.

Now comes one of our most daring and foreward-thinking designers, Norman Norell, with emphasis upon the tunic dress. He was the one who had much to do with waistlines getting longer, his middy dress creating a sensation that was the talk of the country. Take a look at the daytime dress photographed and you get an idea as to the way skirt lengths are going. In order to achieve the proper balance with the long, tubular tunic the skirt is at least two inches longer than popular lengths of a year ago.

The featured tunic, as illustrated, is thigh length and straight of line. Often it is of contrasting color or contrasting fabric stitched on with a hemlike fold at the thigh. Sometimes it is merely the effect of two colors combined in a straight sheath, an example of this being a coat combining royal blue and black, the blue part extending below the hipline and the black on to the hem.

Such a silhouette suggests a natural shoulder line even though there is subtle padding to make a figure look more perfect—and a general impression of sheathlike slenderness from shoulder to hem. It also suggests a revival of the coat which ties. Many of the tunics have sashes, and the coats repeating the tunic emphasis also add sashes rather than swinging free from the shoulders. This revival brings to mind the cloche type of hat, pulling down far over the head in the manner of the hats worn during the twenties.

Summer dresses designed for town wear include many tunic themes. A favorite type from the William Bass collection is made of black faille. The overblouse has a tunic peplum reaching to the thighs and flaring at the hemline. A long row of buttons at the center front contributes to the impression of length. The skirt is cut slender although there is slight hemline fullness. While giving the effect of hip emphasis in keeping with the current trend this tunic model launches a silhouette that differs from the hippy silhouette developed by the short peplum.

Hattie Carnegie includes several tunic themes in her summer collection. Not only does she like the effect of a long torso jacket or overblouse, but she stresses the importance of allying it with a straight and longer skirt. Noteworthy among her new models is a linen jacket which is cut quite long and fitted. It is developed in pastel tints to be worn with a black skirt.

This same designer is among those who like the long torso theme in evening dresses. Her favorite version has a long, tightly fitted bodice ending in folds below the hipline and caught into a big bustle bow at the back. The material is a printed silk. Several other designers are advocating the two-piece type of evening dress, cut with a slim skirt and an overblouse which has a tunic type of peplum. Often the peplum is caught into soft drapery to relieve severity of line.

Tunics call for comparatively slender skirts that are molded to the figure through the hipline and have no excess of fullness at the hemline. In daytime fashions, such a tendency is giving the very full skirted mode considerable competition. Some designers temper this by flaring their tunics and also flaring their hemlines. If a slim tunic is preferred, then the hemline fullness must be arranged subtly as pleats, slashes or modified godets. Invariably the skirt is longer or has a longer appearance.

News of a trend toward longer skirts has caused many women to be concerned as to their apparel purchases. Letters of inquiry have been received by this department, expressing concern over a changing fashion and asking what course to follow in replenishing wardrobes. While no one can foretell what whims the designers may indulge in, we know that no radical departure will take place as long as there are material shortages and governmental control. We do know that the very brief skirts of the war days are going the way of any extreme style after its novelty has disappeared. Even the young girls are wearing their skirts longer.

The general tendency at present is to choose a skirt length which is most becoming to the figure. Some women look better with skirts 15 inches from the floor; others find a slightly shorter skirt more becoming. To veer on the side of having a skirt an inch too long is better this season, than to have it too short. And who knows but what that added inch may be welcome by the time the fall season rolls around.

THE TUBULAR TUNIC AT LEFT IS OF NATURAL COLORED WOOL JERSEY, AND IS GIRDLED WITH A TASSELLED BLACK SATIN BELT TO MATCH THE SKIRT OF THIS AFTERNOON COSTUME FROM THE SPRING COLLECTION OF NORMAN NORELL FOR TRAINA-NORELL. IT ILLUSTRATES THE TREND TOWARD LONGER SKIRTS FOR DAYTIME. AT RIGHT, AN EVENING VERSION OF NORELL'S TUNIC THEME IS MADE OF BLACK CREPE, THE SKIRT SLASHED AT THE FRONT AND SLIGHTLY FLARING AT THE HEMLINE; SLEEVES LONG AND NECKLINE HIGH.

My Neighbor Says:

Now is a good time to bring potted bulbs up into the light and have them in blossom within a month, flowers of forsythia, apple or cherry may be obtained by cutting a few twigs, bringing them into the house, putting them in vases of water and setting in the sun. Within a few weeks you will see foliage and blossoms.

Rayon stockings last longer if they are washed before being worn for the first time.

If breaded chops or cutlets are placed for several hours in the refrigerator before they are cooked they will hold the crumbs better.

Your Stars -o- By Marion Drew

WHAT TO EXPECT TOMORROW
Sun in Aries.

General Tendencies—This looks like the beginning of a slow week-end so far as business and travel may be concerned. The indications for ready cash are also lacking, and your spending money may be drawn in tight at the waistline. At the same time there is a great desire for scientific knowledge, and any news of inventions or discoveries will meet with an enthusiastic audience. The best activity for today will be mental—the creature comforts may be disappointing.

If Tomorrow Is Your Birthday.

It would be pleasant to promise more from a look at your horoscope for the remainder of 1946, but the facts are that changes and unexpected delays fill up the picture, with smaller enjoyments pretty well forced into the background. Your best months are immediately ahead, and after passing through this spring you will agree that the outlook is bleak. Cheer up! It only lasts a year.

Tomorrow's Watchword — The mystic words "I Am" appear in the Bible and in other ancient holy books as an example of the God in mankind. Only today I read the amazing story of "Our Unseen Guest," the spirit which brought a wonderful philosophy to two rather unbelieving people, and was struck with the fact that the "guest" speaks of consciousness as being the spark of God. We may differ in strength of consciousness, but the underlying quality is ever present in human life.

Contract Bridge

By Ely Culbertson

THERE were two outstanding points in today's deal—one in the bidding, the other in the play.

East, dealer.
North-South vulnerable.

	North
	♠AJ8 ♥Q1076 ♦AQ432 ♣9
West ♠K1094 ♥32 ♦865 ♣J764		East ♠— ♥AKJ954 ♦J107 ♣A832
	♠Q76532 ♥8 ♦K9 ♣KQ105
	South

East	South	West	North
1 heart	1 spade	Pass	1 no trump
2 hearts	2 spades	Pass	4 spades
Pass	Pass	Double	Pass
Pass	Pass

It is quite true that the right contract was reached, but it should be observed that North's one-no-trump response on the first round might have been hopelessly inadequate. If the East and South hands had been distributed a little differently, North might have found himself playing one no trump, whereas game at spades would have been cold.

It is difficult to impress upon players that responses to overcalls must not be figured on the same basis as responses to opening bids. (Not that one no trump would have been the correct response to an opening spade bid, of course!) In this specific case—as in so many similar cases—North's best bid was a raise to three spades. Yes, his heart strength would be more valuable at no trump—but how about that singleton club, and how about the more important fact that one no trump would be a gross understatement of values, whereas two no trump, because of the singleton club, would be unthinkable?

Undoubtedly, North felt that a jump raise on only three trumps would be misleading and dangerous—and so it would, if South had opened with one spade. Moreover, in that case two diamonds would be an easy, normal and safely constructive response forcing for one round. But since South's bid had been an overcall, two diamonds would not be forcing, nor constructive; and again since it was an overcall, vulnerable, the presumption was that South had at least a five-card spade suit, making A-J-8 excellent support.

The point of play was that, on the bidding, South had to lead the queen through West on his first lead of trumps.

MOTHER, DAUGHTER, BRIDES OF FORMER U. S. SOLDIERS

The last stage of the journey for Mrs. Charles R. Liles and her daughter, Mrs. Jack Placette, of Coventry, England, both of whom are married to former sergeants in the A.A.F., was begun yesterday afternoon when the two boarded separate trains at Union Station—the mother bound for Chickasha, Okla., and the daughter, with her 1-year-old son, David, for Port Arthur, Tex.

They met their husbands while they were stationed at an air field near Coventry, Mrs. Liles said. "I met Charles through a friend, and he introduced Jack to my daughter a few weeks later. We both regretted we couldn't make it a double wedding, but our marriages were only a few weeks apart.

"People have been telling us about Oklahoma," Mrs. Liles said. "Tell me, do they still have Indians down there?"
